Hello Ms. Wintz -

Our property looks down on Driscoll Manufacturing's facility (they are to the south of us). We have found them to be good neighbors.

Last summer we notified the company of a squealing noise coming from their cooling systems we could hear at night when other city noise had died down. They handled it immediately.

With the south facing nature of the new use, we don't believe it will have adverse impact to us as neighbors and value the positive economic impact the variance will allow. We expect them to continue to be considerate neighbors.

We do not have objection to the use variance requested, but would ask that it be limited to this specific use with this specific owner.
