

7.5.802: NONUSE VARIANCES:

E. Guidelines For Review Of A Nonuse Variance: As a guide to applying any of the criteria for nonuse variance applications listed in subsection B, C, or D of this section, when applicable, the fact finder may, but is not required to, consider any or all of the following circumstances which have been established by the evidence in determining whether the applicable criteria have been met:

1. Extraordinary Or Exceptional Physical Conditions:

a. The physical conditions of the property shall not be conditions general to the neighborhood or surrounding properties.

b. The unique physical conditions of the property may be its size, shape, location, topography, soils; or

c. The unique physical conditions of the property may be the size or location of existing structures on the property if such structures are not self-imposed conditions; or

d. The unique physical conditions may be certain on site or off site environmental features which may positively or negatively affect the property in question, including, but not limited to, adjacent land uses, traffic, noise, views and location of significant natural, architectural or historic features.

2. No Reasonable Use:

a. The demonstrated extraordinary or exceptional physical conditions of the property must directly relate to the inability to reasonably use the property in conformance with the applicable zoning ordinance regulations.

b. The concept of less reasonable use may be considered if a neighborhood standard exists and if it is demonstrated that the property in question has a less reasonable use by comparison with proximate and similar properties in the same zoning district.

c. The purchase price of the property, the desire for greater economic return on investment or mere inconvenience do not constitute, by themselves, evidence of no reasonable use.

d. Self-imposed conditions such as prior voluntary rezoning, platting, or building in violation of City codes and ordinances do not constitute evidence of no reasonable use.

e. Knowledge, or lack of knowledge, of zoning restrictions and physical site constraints at the time the property is purchased is immaterial to evidence of no reasonable use of the property.

3. No Adverse Impact:

a. The granting of a variance shall not be detrimental to public health, safety and welfare or injurious to surrounding properties.

b. The granting of a variance shall not be inconsistent with any plans adopted by the City.

c. The granting of a variance shall not weaken the general purpose of this Zoning Code or its regulations.

d. The variance, if granted, shall only be to the extent necessary to afford a reasonable use of property.
