Interests & Experiences

Why are you interested in serving on a board or commission?

---

My interest in the Colorado Springs Health Foundation Board of Trustees can be summarized best by trying to improve our community. As a long-time resident, employer, as well as being a leader in the healthcare projects for over 30 years, I firsthand witnessed and experienced the changes in healthcare in Colorado Springs. One of my first community board obligations was at the time the El Pomar Community Health Foundation, currently known as Peak Vista Health. When this was in the late 1980's, I was still amazed at how little I knew about healthcare, lack of services and the importance of healthcare and those services provided in becoming a successful community. I understand the importance of nonprofit goals as well as the significance that the Colorado Springs Health Foundation can play in Colorado Springs over the next several decades. While CEOs often are viewed and strong willed and agenda driven, I selected I would truly respect the knowledge and thoughtfulness of every board member and in operating in the best interest of the citizens of the City of Colorado Springs, as that is where my true interest resides. I believe this board has an obligation to look above politics and systems and truly address the needs and unmet needs of the City of Colorado Springs. This Foundation has a tremendous opportunity as it is still relatively new in its format of becoming a relevant and provider of support (grants) that will enhance the lives of the citizens of Colorado Springs. While I possess no specific and technical medical expertise, I do understand the importance of the health and human services and have served on a most 22 nonprofit boards that will help testify to my commitment of helping others and therefore, making a stronger community. I believe I can offer the board not only a continued sense of business acumen, but also a voice and network to the employers but also insights to healthcare trends that we have seen by our healthcare construction which covers 7 states. I have reviewed the Foundations mission and values and believe they are designed to allow El Paso and Teller counties to be the healthiest in the state. Thank you for your consideration.

JIM JOHNSON

President and CEO

Education

Kansas State University
Bachelor of Science
Construction Science Management

Experience

30 years

Jim Johnson is a third generation builder who has proven, time and again, his effectiveness as a leader and the value he places on being a true community partner at all times. Since assuming the role of President and CEO of GE Johnson Construction Company in 1997, Jim has worked hard to continue his father's legacy, leading the company with an eye for quality construction and a dedication to realizing value on every project. Under Jim's leadership, the company has grown considerably – having recently opened our sixth fully staffed office and expanding into the Central United States. Key to his success at the helm of the company is his background in hands-on management. Jim joined the company as an Area Superintendent and has worked his way up through the ranks, leading many successful projects before reaching the executive level. His experience in the field makes him uniquely able to aid the team in generating solutions based on experience, while also keeping an eye on the corporate mission of the company.

Jim's reputation in the Pikes Peak Region is equally important to his effectiveness as a team leader. Jim not only offers the leadership and knowledge of three decades in the Construction industry, but also offers the visibility and backing of a trusted community ally. Jim has been an active member of the Colorado Springs Community for years, serving in leadership positions for many local organizations and donating his time and money to good causes year after year. His participation in this remarkable local project will add a trusted face to the project team and serve to gain local buy-in and excitement for the program.
