Daniel,

I am writing to state my objections to this change. This park is extremely small and will likely serve only the homeowners in the neighborhood. I do not understand why the city would want to use taxpayers money to maintain a park located primarily within a housing subdivision that will serve only to relieve responsibility of maintenance from the developer/homeowners and burden taxpayers. This is a little over 8 acres not exactly a destination for hiker, bikers, or any others outside of the subdivision. This has to be a joke. Someone is in someone pockets on this one. I suppose it also serves to add to the city's charge of open park space within the city. We are selling out our city and it is disgusting.
