

Dear City Council,

Regarding the 2424 GOG Rd new application to rezone to PUD (PUDZ-22-0005 and PUDC-22-0003), on behalf of the Mountain Shadows Community Association (MSCA), surrounding neighborhoods, the 6,690 people that signed the Petition not to rezone, over 1,877 pages of public comment against the rezone, and 86 comments in the Petition describing personal devastating experiences due to the 2012 Waldo Fire, we are submitting (via thumb drive) 43 documents and 4 videos that demonstrates this project does not comply with the two zone change requirements 7.5.603.B.1 and 7.5.603.B.2. Nor, does it comply with the Hillside Overlay Ordinance 7.5.304. A summary of the documents and videos are found at the end of this document.

The new Application has increased the number of buildings from 11 to 24 in Area B and has increased the number of units from 190 to 220 in Area C, which exacerbates the conditions already supported by the City Attorney in her Brief 4/8/22 and upheld by the District Court 5/20/22 pertaining to 7.5.603.B.1. Those statements focus on safety during an evacuation which include: “rezoning would create a life-threatening ‘chokepoint’ at Garden of the Gods Road and 30th St.”, “increasing density at the site would exacerbate traffic back-ups, cause delays, and strain first responder resources”.

The rezone to PUD allows buildings up to 45 feet. Even with the promise from the developer of 33 foot tall buildings, we have provided evidence to City Council which was upheld by the District Court that even heights of 26 feet tall will be in violation of the Hillside Ordinance 7.5.304. The court expressly stated: “rezoning request was inconsistent with the hillside overlay criteria”, “This was not only inconsistent with the hillside overlay, but also the City’s comprehensive plan.” 7.5.603.B.2.

With regards to the Bighorn Sheep, the City Attorney’s Brief to District court states; “Bighorn sheep evidence is relevant to the rezoning ordinance and the requirement of 7.5.603.B.1. Not be detrimental to public interest, health, safety, convenience or general welfare”, “the project had a detrimental impact on a bighorn sheep population that lived nearby”, “Also relevant, the hillside overlay and the objective that wildlife habitat and migration corridors are preserved 7.3.504.A.3.g”. Rezone is inconsistent with the Comprehensive Plan 7.5.603.B.2, providing wildlife habitat, preserving significant wildlife corridors, protecting significant wildlife habitat in coordination with development proposals. Further stated in the City Attorney’s Appeals Brief 11/18/22; “Competent evidence was presented to show that the Project would be detrimental to the area’s bighorn sheep.” NOTE: There is no City code requirement that wildlife must be on the Federally endangered list to comply with 7.5.603.B.2 and 7.3.504 Hillside Ordinance to preserve wildlife habitat areas.

There is no provision in the proposed Concept Plan for new parkland. The very low 2.0 out of 5.5 Level of Service for our neighborhood parks forces people to go to the most popular Regional parks and open spaces in the Foothills Service Area, which are already overcrowded and are creating safety issues. For example, due to the illegal overflow parking at Blodgett Open Space, cars are parked in the bike lane for a quarter of a mile, violating Colorado State Statute 42-1-102 and 10.3 and creating unsafe conditions for bicyclists 7.5.603.B.1. At Ute Valley Park, overflow parking is found across 5 lanes of traffic on Bison Ridge Dr. without safe crosswalks. Driving 2.7 miles to Ute Valley Trail Head #2 does not comply with 7.5.603.B.1.

For the reasons stated above, this project is detrimental to the Mountain Shadows community and the surrounding communities, including Peregrine, Pleasant Valley, Mesa, Pinon Valley, Rockrimmon, and Point of the Pines. We are asking City Council to deny the 2424 Application for zoning to PUD.

Sincerely,
Bill Wysong, President, Mountain Shadows Community Association's

City Council: 2424 Project, Second Rezone Request, March 28, 2023

Updated: March 18, 2023

NOTE: The following is a SUMMARY list of documents, videos, and references to City Code submitted by MSCA to the City Council for their review of the "2424 Second Rezone Request". These documents support the MSCA's opposition to the 2424 Project. The documents contain information on topics such as the City Attorney's Answer Brief 2022-04-08 to the District Court, the District Court's Order 2022-05-20, Visual Impact Analysis, Hillside Overlay, Bighorn Sheep, Governmental Authority Reports to the AG, the Petition against the Rezone (updated to 6,690 signatures), Bicycle Safety, Public Comment opposing the rezone, the Executive Order to protect the bighorn sheep, and traffic impact videos.

This list identifies the file name and a brief description of the documents and videos. All document file names begin with DocXX and each video begins with VidXX.

The City Attorney's Answer Brief submitted to the 106 District Court defending City Council's decision August 24, 2021. "City Council ultimately found that rezoning was not appropriate.", "rezoning would create a life-threatening "chokepoint" at Garden of the Gods Road and 30th St.", "increasing density at the site would exacerbate traffic back-ups, cause delays, and strain first responder resources", "rezoning ... compounded problems encountered during the fire", "rezoning request was inconsistent with the hillside overlay criteria", "This was not only inconsistent with the hillside overlay, but also the City's comprehensive plan.", "the project had a detrimental impact on a bighorn sheep population that lived nearby", "The concern was one over safety, not over evacuation planning", "traffic impacts ... particularly during an evacuation", "bicycle safety", "inconsistency of project with Comprehensive Plan", "increased potential for wildfires", "the project would only increase traffic congestion", "the risk of a wildfire is elevated both day and night.", "another explosive fire will occur somewhere on the west side of our City possibly at night and that more casualties will happen due to the limited egress", "The threat of wildfire near the site is not hypothetical.", "The neighborhood ... experienced unimaginable tragedy during the Waldo Canyon fire. Lives were lost and 347 homes were burned to the ground.", "over 300 homes burned in the fire ... Residents waited for hours in gridlock to escape the raging fire"

Doc02, 2022-05-20 Order RE Order Following Rule 106 Review.pdf

The District Court Order upholding City Council's decision on August 24, 2021. The District Court denied the 2424 Rezone. "DONE and ORDERED May 20, 2022 BY THE COURT" "not appropriate under the City's rezoning code" "The record supports a finding that the project was detrimental to the public interest, health, safety, convenience, or general welfare."

Doc03, 2022-11-18 16-59-31 COS Answer Brief, Appeals.pdf

The City Attorney's Answer Brief submitted to the Appeals Court defending City Council's decision August 24, 2021. "2424GOTG Does Not Have A Right To A Rezone.", "City Council's Interpretation

Of § 7.5.603.B Was Reasonable And Its Decision Was Based On The Criteria In The Ordinance.", "City Council's Decision Was Supported By Substantial Evidence In The Record.", "The record contains competent evidence that adding close to 1,000 people to a key intersection would increase health and safety risks, especially in the event of a future wildfire.", "Residents' evidence shows the Rezone Request was detrimental to the convenience, health, safety, and general welfare of the community in several ways.", "Residents presented competent evidence about the area's traffic problems.", "Competent evidence was presented to show that the Project would be detrimental to the area's bighorn sheep.", "Competent evidence was presented to show that the Project violated the Hillside Overlay.", "Competent evidence related to bicycle safety and the proximity of the Garden of the Gods was presented to show that the Project was detrimental to the public interest, convenience, and general welfare of the area."

Doc04, 20210816 AG letter re Colo Springs zoning complaint, Bighorn.pdf

Response from the Colorado Attorney General indicating the City should comply with C.R.S. 29-20-104 to "regulate based on the impact to the community" and "protect significant wildlife habitat".

Doc05, AG admits bighorn are on the property.pdf

CPW admits the bighorn sheep are on the 2424 Property. "CPW's concern with releasing the collar serial numbers ... is that they could be used by anyone ... to track and locate the collared animals ... The potential to use this information to harm the animals—either deliberately through hunting/poaching or unintentionally through following the animals and causing them stress—is apparent."

CITY CODE 7.3.504: Hillside Area Overlay: "Meets the spirit and intent of the hillside design manual.", "applicants are strongly encouraged and requested to meet the spirit and intent of the hillside design manual"

The rezone fails to meet 10 Hillside Area Overlay criteria.

7.3.504.A.3.g. To preserve wildlife habitat

7.3.504.B.1. Predominant development is single-family detached housing.

7.3.504.C.4.b(3) Analysis shall show wildlife habitat and migration corridors. < - - Doc36 provided by the neighborhood.

7.3.504.D.2.d(2)(D) Yard setbacks should be sufficiently varied to avoid a repetitious appearance

7.3.504.D.3. a. Does the plan meet the spirit and intent of the hillside design manual?

7.3.504.F.2. Height shall be determined at the time of zoning and based on visual analysis < - - Doc39 provided by the neighborhood.

7.3.504.H. Lot grading will be evaluated for consistency with the spirit and intent of the hillside design manual.

7.3.504.H.d. Have visual impacts upon off site areas been avoided or reasonably mitigated?

7.3.504.H.d(1) Has the structure been sited so that there is a mountain or hillside backdrop?

7.3.504.H.d(2) Has the structure been sited away from the ridgeline?

Doc06, Hillside Development Guidelines Manual.pdf

<https://coloradosprings.gov/sites/default/files/planning/dab/hillside.pdf>

The rezone request fails to meet 22 criteria in the Hillside Development Guidelines.

(Pg 2) This Manual incorporates code standards

(Pg 4) 1.) To enhance the quality of life of existing and future residents by the preservation and protection of the City's most significant natural feature. Note: Same as CRS §29-20-104(1)(g) impact on the community.

(Pg 4) 10.) To recognize community concerns related to development and its impact upon visually significant hillsides, ridgelines, bluffs, and landforms.

(Pg 14) Is the proposed development compatible and consistent with the character of the area and neighborhood? Land use in the Hillside zone is determined during the zoning classification.

(Pg 17) 6. DESIGN your project to maintain the Hillside character of the site by: keeping structures below ridgelines ... and minimizing the height of structures.

(Pg 20) Homes in prominent locations must be sited and designed with the following in mind: A mountain or other landform should act as the backdrop This is highly preferable to having the building project into a blue sky background

The following is a list of design standards and guidelines which should be addressed

(Pg 22) For building sites in proximity to ridgelines, additional height restrictions may be necessary to insure that rooflines will be located below the natural ridgeline.

(Pg 22) Building sites should be selected so that construction occurs below the ridgeline.

(Pg 22) Significant views of the natural ridge silhouette from public rights-of-way and other public spaces should be retained.

NOTE: The two adjacent public right-of-ways, N. 30th St. and Flying W. Ranch Rd, will no longer have significant views of the natural ridge silhouettes.

(Pg 3) If development occurs in accordance with this Manual, it will be done in a manner sensitive to the natural functions of the land and preserve and protect one of the City of Colorado Springs most significant attributes -- its mountain gateway into the Rockies.

(Pg 2) This manual applies to lands within the hillside areas that are characterized by significant natural features that include ridgelines, bluffs, rock outcroppings, wildlife habitat, geologic conditions, and slopes that contribute to the attractiveness of the community. NOTE: The City has identified these areas and placed them within the HS -Hillside Overlay Zone.

(Pg 2) The provisions of this manual shall apply to any and all of the following activities: Any lands in which new or enlarged building activity will occur

(Pg 3) The City has recognized that areas which are characterized by ridgelines, bluffs, view corridors, foothills, mountain backdrop, excessive slope, unique vegetation, natural drainage, rock outcroppings, geologic conditions, wildlife habitats, and other physical factors, are significant natural features worthy of preservation. Performance standards for hillside development have been developed and are incorporated into the Zoning Code as an overlay zone, referred to as the "Hillside Area Overlay". This manual is intended to serve as the design guidelines for the development of hillside areas.

(Pg 4) Intent/Purpose: The Manual incorporates code requirements

2.) To contribute to the natural hillside character of the existing neighborhoods and developments in the area by limiting the alteration to topography...

3.) To preserve and protect the unique and special natural features and aesthetic qualities of the hillside areas.

4.) To ensure that new development is sensitive to the existing natural setting and that the protection design minimizes the removal of significant vegetation and natural features to the greatest extent possible.

5.) To preserve and protect wildlife habitat. Note: Same as CRS 29-20-104(1)(b) protect significant wildlife habitat.

7.) To respect the existing views to the mountains and foothills, and privacy of the adjacent homes.

(Pg 20) Because the foothills are such a special area, there are a set of rules that apply to everyone Whether building a new home or you are in a house that has been around for 20 years, there are strictly enforced guidelines that regulate how you may treat your lot.

(Pg 21) BUILDING MULTI-FAMILY, OFFICE, INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL PROJECTS IN THE HILLSIDES

Multi-family, commercial, office and industrial projects can also be appropriate if care is taken in the design of these projects to insure that important hillside characteristics are maintained.

Doc07, Hillside Dev. Assessment to Planning Commission.pdf

This document is still relevant from the previous application to the new application because the building heights in the new application still exceed the heights that will not comply with the Hillside Overlay ordinance. One of several Mountain Shadows Community Association's Visual Impact Analysis. NOTE: While the Project Plan specifies residential units with a maximum height of 45 feet, this document demonstrates that 26 foot buildings will not satisfy CITY CODE 7.3.504: Hillside Area Overlay or the Hillside Development Guidelines. (NOTE: Guidelines are tightly coupled with the Hillside Overlay Code). With regards to section "E. ENVIRONMENTAL", the Project Statement, Revised November 2020, made an unsubstantiated assertion; "This is not habitat area for the Big Horn Sheep" prior to an official statement made by Colorado Parks and Wildlife (CPW), which was made one month later, on December 17, 2020 to Katelynn Wintz, Sr. Planner. Substantiated scientific measurements using a professional modeling tool, Google Earth Pro, that includes screenshots of the parameters (pg 10), which define the building height (8 meters = 26 feet). The locations of the buildings and setbacks (pg 7) as defined by the Applicant (NES representative). Polygons structures were created in Google Earth Pro based on setbacks, building heights, and building dimensions. Google Earth Pro is then able to display the building structures as gray polygons from street view (Hillside Development Guidelines; "any public right-of-way"). The results show 26 tall buildings will block the ridgeline. NOTE: The representative NES for the Applicant has not provided substantiated scientific methods used to create their Visual Analysis.

Doc08, Concept Buildings as defined by NES, Google Pro, with Parameters.pdf

This document is still relevant from the previous application to the new application because the building heights in the new application still exceed the heights that will not comply with the Hillside Overlay ordinance. This is one of several Visual Impact Analysis and was performed by John McLain, former professional surveyor and holds 6 Patents in Modeling and Simulation. Mountain Shadows Community Association demonstrates that the Concept Buildings as defined by NES, representative for the Applicant completely block the hillside views. Doc08 is more in-depth than Doc07. These findings are substantiated using the professional modeling tool, Google Earth Pro. Given the NES aerial locations of the buildings, those building locations, setbacks, dimensions, and building heights were entered into Google Earth Pro. 29.5 foot tall structures, representing 2-story structures were placed adjacent to 30th St. and Flying W. Ranch Rd. The remaining structures were 39.4 feet tall (NOTE: The zone change allows 45 foot tall buildings.). Screenshots of the Google Earth Pro parameters are provided to substantiate the findings. Street views (Hillside Development Guidelines; "from any public right-of-way") as depicted using Google Earth Pro shows the gray polygon representations of the buildings (pg 6, 7, 8, 9, 10) along Flying W. Ranch Rd. and along 30th St. COMPLETELY BLOCKING THE HILLSIDE VIEWS.

Doc09, NES Visual Impact Analysis INACCURACIES.pdf

This document is still relevant from the previous application to the new application because the building heights in the new application still exceed the heights that will not comply with the Hillside Overlay ordinance. This is one of several Visual Impact Analysis and was performed by John McLain, former professional surveyor and holds 6 Patents in Modeling and Simulation. MSCA Demonstrates NES Visual Impact Analysis INACCURACIES and MISLEADING rendering. Using scientific methods, and a professional modeling tool, Google Earth Pro, the light poles on the parking lots were determined to be 32 feet tall. The diagram of the NES Visual Impact is shown on page 1. The annotations on top of the NES diagram are provided by MSCA. The 32 foot light pole is circled in RED. The YELLOW horizontal line shows the top of a 33 foot building (as defined by NES). A ratio of the building height to light pole height is calculated to clearly show the 33 foot building is actually 13.5 feet tall. The mistake made by NES was not setting the diagram to scale based on a known structure (the light poles). This set-to-scale feature is demonstrated in this beginner video for SketchUp (the tool used by NES to create the diagrams) starting at timestamp 2:00.

Doc10, MSCA Rebuttal to NES Visual Impact Analysis V2.pdf

This document is still relevant from the previous application to the new application because the building heights in the new application still exceed the heights that will not comply with the Hillside Overlay ordinance. This is one of several Visual Impact Analysis and was performed by John McLain, former professional surveyor and holds 6 Patents in Modeling and Simulation. This MSCA Rebuttal of the NES Visual Impact Analysis points out that NES did not substantiate their Visual Impact renderings. NES did not provide screenshots and/or diagrams of configuration parameters, which would validate building heights, setbacks, and calibration of measurements using a known point-of-reference. Every NES rendering grossly under sizes the actual claimed building heights. The MSCA Rebuttal also substantiates setbacks and uses a ratio calculation based on the 23 foot tall berm. At a 158 foot setback and a 26 foot tall building, 100% of the hillside will be blocked.

Doc11, Proposed Building Elevation Study (Area B&C).pdf

This document is still relevant from the previous application to the new application because the building heights in the new application still exceed the heights that will not comply with the Hillside Overlay ordinance. This is one of several Visual Impact Analysis submitted by the MSCA. Proposed Building Elevation Study, Areas B & C points out violations of the Hillside Overlay Ordinance and Hillside Design Manual. It shows that the Navigator's facility and the current 2424 Facility comply with the Hillside Ordinance and Hillside Design Manual. Using a professional modeling tool, Google Earth Pro, setbacks were determined. From Flying W. Ranch Rd., a 32 foot light pole with a 225 foot setback was selected. Page 6 shows that a 23 foot tall building will block 100% of the hillside. From 30th St., a 32 foot light pole with an 85 foot setback was selected. Page 7 shows that a 16 foot tall building will block 100% of the hillside. Pages 14 and 15 shows the average building height is 26 feet tall, starting 3,513 feet from the proposed 2424 development. Placing 45 foot buildings at the 2424 address does not comply with 22 criteria in the Hillside Development Guidelines or 10 criteria in the Hillside Overlay Code.

Doc12.1, 2424 GOG PETITION REPORT to City Council 2021-05-25.3.pdf

This MSCA Petition had 6,520 signatures (now 6,690) of people objecting to the rezone. Responses came in from every City Council District. ZC 7.5.603.B.1. The action will not be detrimental to the public interest, health, safety, convenience or general welfare.

Doc12.2, 2424 GOG PETITION REPORT to City Council 2021-05-25.3.pdf

Shortly after the City Council's 2nd Reading on August 24, 2021, this screenshot captured the number of responses, 6,690, to "Stop the Zone Change at 2424 Garden of the Gods Rd." and the Petition web site was shut-down.

Doc15, Wildfire-Mitigation-TABOR-Breakdown.pdf
This is the “Wildfire Mitigation TABOR Funds Cost Breakdown” for 2022 showing the $1M expenditures. NOTE: This is NOT a Business Plan that would demonstrate that $20M over 20 years (or $1M/year) is sufficient for mitigation to improve SAFETY in the City. A Business Plan identifies future projects, the implementation timelines, and the cost for each of those projects. Without a Business Plan, there is no assurance that the TABOR funding will cover the cost.

Doc16, 2023-01-25 Email Dan Sexton to Bill Wysong.pdf
This email demonstrates that City Planning and the Applicant made “significant” changes to the project scope without involving the community before scheduling the hearing with the Planning Commission on February 8, 2023.

Doc17, Bicycle Safety to Planning Commission.pdf
This document was prepared by John McLain, former member of the Governors Bicycle Advisory Board. The Colorado Springs Bike Master Plan identifies Garden of the Gods Rd. and 30th St. as HIGH PRIORITY. This document details at least 9 hazardous bicycle infrastructures near the proposed 2424 Project, and photographically documents 3 severe injuries, and one fatality. The City has been aware of these hazards since January 15, 2021 and has not corrected the area of the fatality or the areas where severe injuries occurred.

Doc18.1, 2020-12-17 CPW Colorado Springs 2424 GOG Concept Plan Sheep impact Letterhead.pdf
This letter from CPW to City Planning on December 12, 2020, indicates “there have been no observations of the sheep being on or using the proposed project area.” NOTE: The project area is the entire 125 acres that is intended to be rezoned. The bighorn sheep are commonly seen on the 55.43 acres known as the 2424 Open Space. They have been photographed on the west, north, and east sides of the property (Doc25). The CPW identifies the 55.43 acres as a buffer area for the bighorn sheep. However, TOPS (City Trail and Open Space) is working with the Applicant to purchase the property and turn it into a hiking area (see Doc35 for details). This CPW Statement contradicts Doc20, Doc21, Doc25, Doc29, Doc34, Doc35, Doc36, and Doc40.

Doc18.2, 2021-12-16 CORA DENYED, Colorado Springs 2424 Garden of Gods Concept Plan Sheep impact Letterhead DRAFT.pdf
CORA REQUEST (to rebut Doc18): This is the original letter intended for City Planning. It was written by Frank McGee, Area Wildlife Manager, on behalf of Corey Adler, DWM (Division Wildlife Manager). The 3rd paragraph was removed in the final “opinion” to City Planning, which describes Mr. Adler's qualifications and personal observations of the bighorn sheep. In the 5th paragraph, is says Mr. Adler has “never seen or heard of the sheep being on or using the proposed project area”. In the final letter to City Planning, the 3rd paragraph was removed and the 5th paragraph was changed to indicate CPW has never seen bighorn sheep. Neither Mr. Adler's opinion nor the implication that CPW has never seen bighorn sheep at this location is contradicted with the official CPW mapping data and statement; “This information was derived from Colorado Parks and Wildlife FIELD PERSONNEL.” that is found at this website

Doc19, 2020-12-17 Development encroachment on bighorn sheep.pdf

Frank McGee, CPW indicates “There are no executive orders, directives, or any other instrument at a state level that I am aware of that would impact or supersede this local land use decision.” However, the Executive Order D-2019-011, Directive B.2 states “Coordination with government agencies, non-governmental organizations, and private landowners is critical to the safe migration of wildlife across numerous jurisdictions.” Directive C. “CPW ... shall meet with stakeholders to discuss big game migration corridors to implement this Executive Order. NOTE: The Applicant can retain PIP zoning and enjoy their income producing property. Rezoning to PUD, a high density scenario, may have a detrimental impact the bighorn sheep according to the Colorado Bighorn Sheep Management Plan (Doc21) and the Rampart Herd Management Plan (Doc20).

Doc20, BIGHORN SHEEP MGMT PLAN, Rampart Herd, RBS-14DAUPlanFinal.pdf

The CPW Statement (Doc18) “no bighorn sheep” and “It is CPW’s professional opinion that any new development at the proposed project site at 2424 W Garden of the God’s Rd. will have little to no impact on the Rampart Range Bighorn Sheep herd.” CONFLICTS with the Rampart Herd Management Plan; 1) “Historic distribution: This included areas around Ormes Peak, Blodgett Peak, Mountain Shadows.” NOTE: The 2424 property is located in Mountain Shadows. ,2) "Recreational impacts: Many people trespass through private property at the lower ends of the Quarry to access public land at the top of the Quarry. Many of the individuals have dogs off-leash and CPW personnel have witnessed dogs pursuing lambs. Private land owners are working with city and county officials to control these activities but the problem persists."

The CPW Statement (Doc18) “no bighorn sheep” and “It is CPW’s professional opinion that any new development at the proposed project site at 2424 W Garden of the God’s Rd. will have little to no impact on the Rampart Range Bighorn Sheep herd.” CONFLICTS with the Colorado Bighorn Sheep Management Plan; “Human disturbance Wild sheep have habituated to human activity in many areas where the activity is somewhat predictable temporally and spatially (Beecham et al. 2007). Specific activities may be more detrimental than others. ... walking with dogs, and activity near lambing areas may be most detrimental.” “Holl and Bleich (1983) recognized that bighorn sheep moved in response to the presence of sheep researchers: At distances >645 m (2,116 feet), bighorn were not concerned with their presence; however, at 440 m (1,444 feet) sheep fled the area.” NOTE: The 2424 Open Space is adjacent to the proposed development Area C. The center of the 2424 Open Space where significant activity has been observed is 595 feet from the Area C (Doc25 and Doc26).

The City has NOT demonstrated a level of competency to assure a safe evacuation of the Mountain Shadows neighborhood. 7.5.603.B.1 Detrimental to public safety. Three technology “glitches” are identified. 1) The failed attempt to upgrade the utilities billing system. 2) (Doc40), Public Safety slide, demonstrates the failed attempt to notify and instruct the public via handheld devices during a city wide fire evacuation. 3) a Governmental Authority Report (Doc23) was filed the Colorado Attorney General demonstrating an alleged violation of the Sunshine Law when during the March 18, 2021 Planning Commission meeting, dial-in participation was limited to 250 people. A verbal assurance that the newly purchased Zonehaven, zone evacuation tool IS NOT proof that the City can

Doc23, 2021-08-16 Sunshine Law, Report to the AG.pdf

NOTE: Refer to comments under Doc22. This document demonstrates that the Planning Commission meeting on March 18, 2021 limited dial-in participation to 250 people.

This transcript from the May 21, 2021 City Council meeting documents an “opinionated” conversation between a member of the City Council and the representative for the Applicant with apparent leading questions to conclude bighorn sheep do not occupy the property. Neither of the two persons are qualified wildlife biologists.

Doc25, Bighorn Sheep - Mountain Shadows Testimony to Planning Commission.pdf

The MSCA Bighorn Sheep Testimony CONFLICTS with the CPW Statement “no bighorn” (Doc18). There are photographs and maps showing the bighorn sheep on the west, north, and east sides of the 2424 Property. As many as 31 bighorn sheep are shown in a single photograph.

The bait logs and photos of the tagged bighorn sheep on the 2424 Property CONFLICT with the CPW Statement (Doc18).

Doc35, TOPS, Application for Funding.pdf

This document shows that after rezoning, TOPS will acquire the 2424 Open Space from the Applicant and convert it into an open space park with trails. This CONFLICTS with the CPW Statement (Doc18) “to leave this space as a buffer for the bighorn sheep”.

Doc36, Requirements for Zone Change, Analysis showing wildlife habitat and migration corridors.pdf Requirement for Review 7.3.504.C.4.b(3) “Analysis showing wildlife habitat and migration corridors” The City did not provide this document. The MSCA compiled the data and created the “Analysis”. The Analysis substantiates the threats to the bighorn sheep if the current zone, PIP, is changed to PUD. Reference to a Gazette article by Cory Adler, CPW shows the importance of the 2424 Property – this statement CONFLICTS with the CPW Statement (Doc18). Changing the zone from PIP to PUD is NOT consistent with at least 4 criteria in the Comprehensive Plan – 7.5.603.B.2 The proposal IS CONSISTENT with the Comprehensive Plan. The 2424 Open Space is the central link of habitat between the northern side of Garden of the Gods Park and the Lanagan St. Open Space. A log is provided and supported by photographic evidence of up to 54 bighorn sheep in one photo. Photos show the bighorn sheep mating, escaping, huddling to protect lambs, a ewe with CPW radio tag #N3 and #A0, foraging, and bedding down overnight. The photographs are substantiated with reference points to show the bighorn sheep are on the 2424 Property. A map used by Bret Tennis, Parks Operations Administrator at the Garden of the Gods Visitor Center, is used to show the general public the locations of the bighorn sheep habitat before and after the 2012 Waldo fire. This map shows the bighorn sheep occupy the 2424 Property. And, the Bret Tennis map CONFLICTS with the CPW Statement (Doc18).

The Objection to the 2nd Proposal was submitted for the Planning Commission meeting on February 8, 2023 and is modified for the City Council. It begins by showing there were no “significant” changes which contradicts Daniel Sexton, city planner’s comments in his email (Doc16). In fact, several of the items listed are worse. Three pages list noncompliance, starting with CRS, State Wildlife Action Plan, Executive Order, District Court Order “2424GOTG LLC v. City of Colorado Springs, et al.”, City Code for rezone, City Code for Hillside Area Overlay, and Hillside Development Guidelines (tied to Hillside Area Overlay code). Prepared for City Council Hearing March 28, 2023. Experts Warn that high-density development is wrong in Wildland Urban Interface neighborhoods.

Vid01, Traffic, Jeff escaping Waldo Fire.mp4

LENGTH: 0:54.

INTRODUCTION: This video demonstrates that during the 2012 Waldo fire, there was only an eastbound escape route that headed almost directly into the fire.

ORIENTATION: Located in the heart of the Mountain Shadows Community, this vehicle is making its way through the neighborhood to evacuate.

OBSERVATION: The driver was in fear for his life and afraid of losing his home as he made his way through the neighborhood.

CONCLUSION: With no westbound escape routes and already heavily congested northbound and southbound escape routes, the only option is for all traffic to head eastbound on Garden of the Gods Rd. and Vindicator Dr. With only two egress options during an emergency evacuation will be detrimental to the public safety – 7.5.603.B.1.

Vid02, Traffic, from GOG Park to Rt-24 on 31st St.mp4

INTRODUCTION: This video demonstrates that the southbound traffic on 31st St. to Rt-24 is already extremely congested.

ORIENTATION: Located at the intersection of Kiowa St. and 31st St., panning left to the south towards Rt-24. Then panning to the right, north up 31st St.

OBSERVATION: For the 0.54 mile from along 31st St. going south towards Pikes Peak Ave., 64 cars were stopped during most of the 47 second observation.

CONCLUSION: This southbound escape route, during an emergency evacuation will be detrimental to the public safety – 7.5.603.B.1.

Vid03, Traffic, Fillmore eastbound from Centennial.mp4

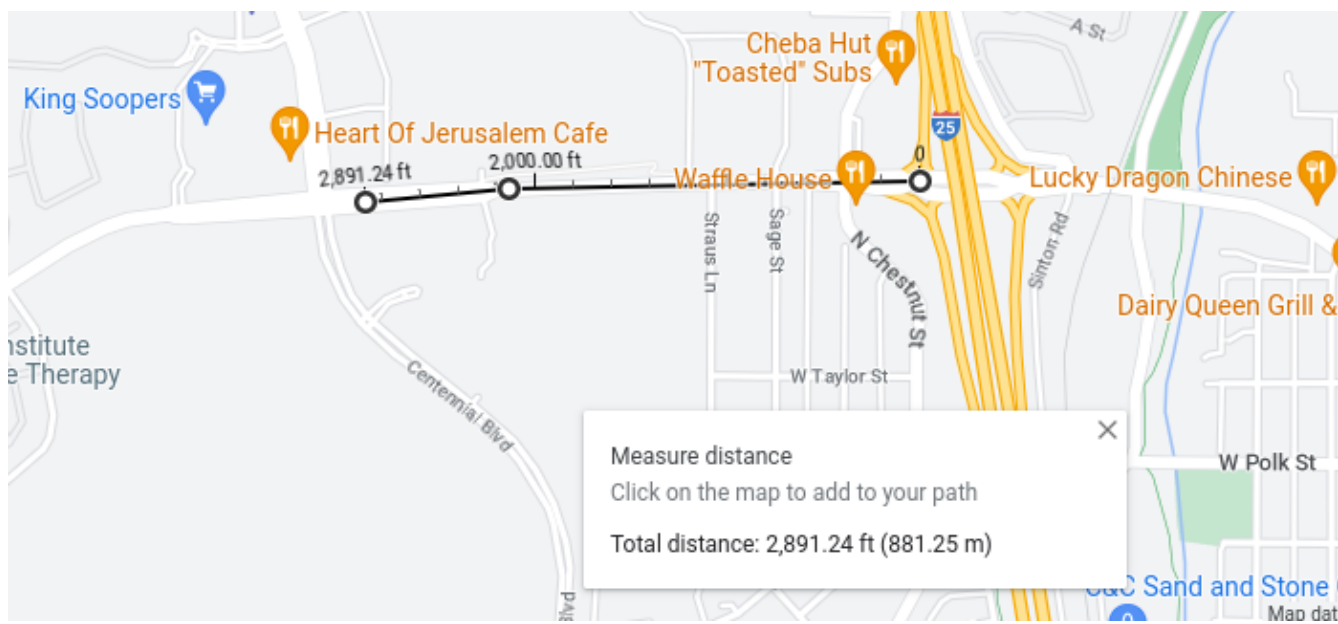

LENGTH: 3:11, after cut 2:16.

INTRODUCTION: This video demonstrates that eastbound from Centennial Blvd on Fillmore St. to I-25 is already extremely congested.

ORIENTATION: Starting at the intersection of the I-25 overpass and Fillmore St. and continuing westbound on Fillmore St. observing the eastbound traffic.

OBSERVATION: Traffic was backed up from the intersection of Fillmore St and I-25, west for .55 mile, almost to the intersection of Fillmore St. and Centennial Blvd. Only 6 vehicles, eastbound from Centennial Blvd. take the southbound I-25 ramp. The remaining 180 vehicles cross the I-25 overpass and either continue east into the downtown area or northbound on I-25.

CONCLUSION: With only 3.3% of the vehicles coming from Centennial Blvd. and exiting onto the southbound I-25 ramp, the new southbound Centennial Blvd. extension will provide little to no relief during an emergency evacuation and will be detrimental to the public safety – 7.5.603.B.1.

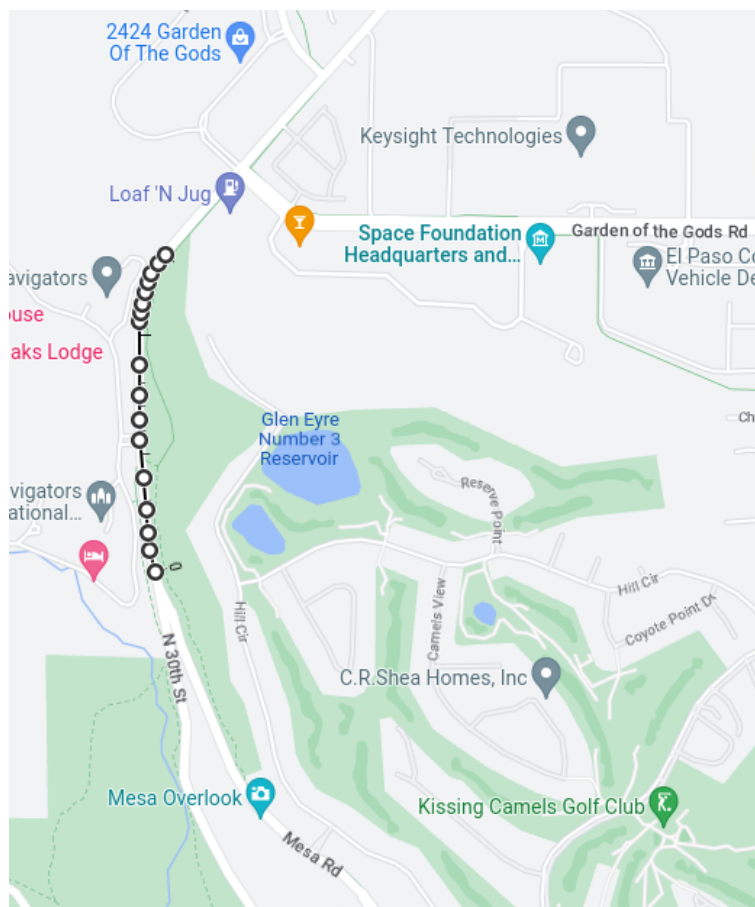

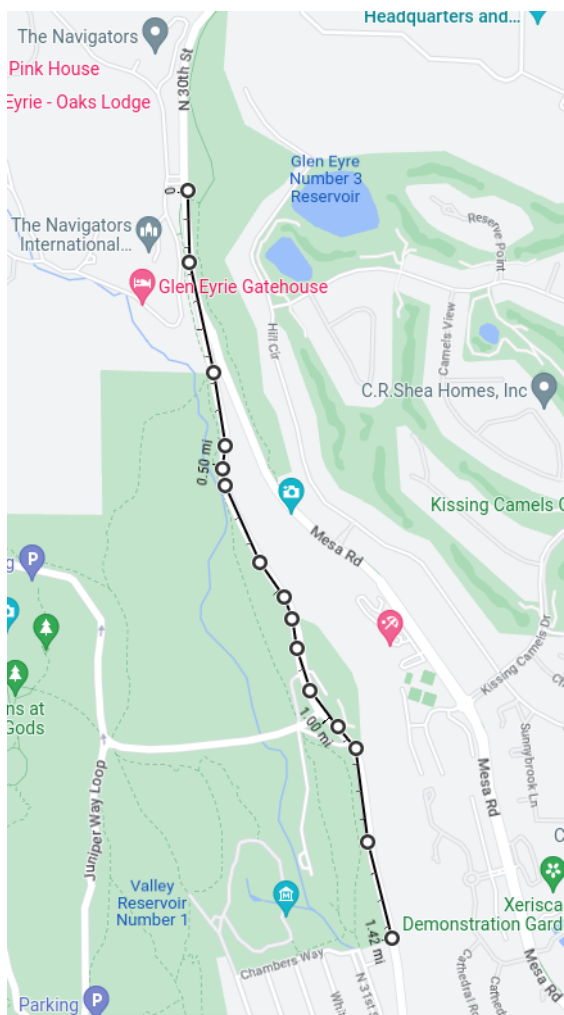

Vid04, Traffic, Driving North on 30th Street (Eddie H.).mp4
LENGTH 2:29.

INTRODUCTION: This video demonstrates that southbound traffic on 30th St. from the Navigator's driveway to where Chambers Way would intersect with 30th St. for a distance of 1.4 miles is already extremely congested.

ORIENTATION: Starting where Chambers Way would intersect 30th St., heading north on 30th St. to the Navigator's driveway, traffic is observed heading southbound.

OBSERVATION: In the 1.4 miles, 94 southbound cars were moving slowly. There were 9 cars waiting to turn left at the intersection of 30th St. and Gateway Rd.

CONCLUSION: When the road improvements to add shoulders from the Mesa Rd. and 30th St. to the intersection of Fontanero St. and 30th St. are completed, these improvements will not include additional lanes to facilitate the existing or future traffic volumes. The improvements do not address the very narrow 8 foot wide single lanes in each direction (see map with yellow line), from slightly north of the Mesa Rd. and 30th St. intersection to the Loaf'N Jug near Garden of the Gods Rd. Without increasing lane capacity and retaining the narrow 8 foot wide lanes, the new improvements provide no relief during an emergency evacuation and will be detrimental to the public safety – 7.5.603.B.1.

ANSWER BRIEF

Defendants, City of Colorado Springs (“City”) and the Colorado Springs City Council (“City Council”), by and through the Office of the City Attorney, hereby submit this Answer Brief.

SUMMARY OF THE ARGUMENT

Deciding whether to allow a rezoning that will have a significant impact on the surrounding community is no easy task. It is with good reason that within the City of Colorado Springs, City Council is charged with making zoning decisions. After all, City Councilmembers are elected to act in the best interest of the City and make difficult decisions such as the one that confronted them when a request to rezone 2424 Garden of the Gods Road came before them. Five members of City Council ultimately found that rezoning 2424 Garden of the Gods Road to allow residential density in a place where it was not otherwise permitted was not appropriate under the City's rezoning code, City Code § 7.5.603.B. Their decision finds support in a robust record containing thousands of pages of documents, and hours of testimony and evidence. The inquiry, now, is whether the record contains any competent evidence to support City Council's ultimate decision. A review of the record reveals ample support to uphold the decision. As such, the decision should be affirmed.

The record supports a finding that the project was detrimental to the public interest, health, safety, convenience, or general welfare. The property sits in a unique place at the western end of Garden of the Gods Road and backs up to undeveloped wildland. Situated at the edge of the urban-wildland interface, the risk of wildfire at the site is undoubtedly elevated. Nearby residents recognized and appreciated the safety risk, having lived through the tragic events of the Waldo Canyon fire. They testified that rezoning the property only compounded problems encountered during the fire. The residents also pointed out that the request to allow residential use came after the area has experienced a significant uptick in population growth; during a time when wildfires have become increasingly frequent; and wildfire season continues to stretch deeper into the winter.

Residents testified that allowing residential density at the intersection presented different problems than the commercial use currently permitted. They testified that the traffic studies created by City staff and the applicant were too narrow in scope to fully embrace the impact of the project. They testified to their own experiences traveling to and from their homes in the middle of rush hour on roadways already brimming with high traffic volumes. They testified that 30th Street quickly narrows to two-lanes heading southbound and the Garden of the Gods entrance, a short distance away from the property to the south on 30th Street, regularly becomes overwhelmed with vehicular traffic.

Residents also presented evidence that the residential rezoning request was inconsistent with the hillside overlay criteria. Residents showed that the proposed apartment complex would block the view of the nearby foothills and majestic landscape. This was not only inconsistent with the hillside overlay, but also the City's comprehensive plan. Finally, the residents presented evidence that the project had a detrimental impact on a bighorn sheep population that lived nearby.

Plaintiff, in its Opening Brief, is critical of the testimony and evidence presented by opponents of the project, calling it anecdotal. Such a label does not give the evidence the credit it deserves. City Council was permitted to consider all the evidence and testimony. It was not required to consider only evidence proffered by experts and professionals. It was City Council's task to sift through the evidence and weigh it accordingly. The fact that Councilmembers credited the residents' testimony, and not Plaintiff's, does not mean that the record lacks competent evidence to support the decision. It only means City Council performed its role appropriately. Finally, no member of Council cited the lack of an evacuation plan as a basis for denying the application. City Council did not apply an unwritten criterion to Plaintiff. The concern was one over safety, not over evacuation planning.

City Council did not err by hearing additional evidence on evacuation concerns on August 24, 2021. After all, Plaintiff was first to raise the topic at the hearing. After being warned of the consequences of doing so, Plaintiff elected to proceed with discussion on the topic. City Council appropriately allowed the topic to be discussed after Plaintiff opened the door.

Finally, nothing cited in the Opening Brief overcomes the strong presumption of regularity afforded to City Council. City Council, time and again, expressed its ability, as a whole and individually, to be fair and impartial, and consider only the evidence presented and criteria at issue. The record contains disclosures of issues relevant to the inquiry. What the record does not contain is evidence relied on by Plaintiff to support its argument that the presumption has been defeated. Because the exhibits to the Opening Brief fall outside the record, the Court should not consider them. Plaintiff has also failed to show substantial prejudice. The record does not show that Councilmembers were unduly influenced. In the end, the request to rezone the property was defeated on a 5-to-4 vote. That result was based on the evidence presented to City Council. As such, this Court should uphold City Council's action.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Plaintiff, 2424 GOTG LLC, owns a parcel of land located at 2424 Garden of the Gods Road in Colorado Springs, Colorado. The 125.34-acre property sits directly west of the intersection of Garden of the Gods Road and 30th Street. (005756)¹; (009383). The property is in proximity to Garden of the Gods Park, a majestic landscape according to the City's comprehensive plan, PlanCOS. (005735). The property was annexed into the City in 1965 and 1971. (010082). It was zoned in 1980 and 1981. (010082). It is currently zoned General Industrial, Agricultural, Planned Unit Development with a Hillside overlay. (005718). The property is subject to the Mountain Shadows Master Plan ("Master Plan"), which was adopted in 1978. (010082). Under the Master Plan, the property has an Office Industrial Park land use designation. An approximately 750,000-square-foot building that once housed MCI resides on the property and is currently approximately 40% occupied. (006100).

Plaintiff sought to amend the Master Plan, rezone the property and gain approval of a concept plan. (005719). Ultimately, as presented to City Council, Plaintiff sought to amend the Master Plan from Office Industrial Park to a mix of office, commercial, residential, public institution and open space (009388); (009395); rezone the roughly 125 acres to Planned Unit Development with a Hillside overlay allowing for residential and commercial use, forty-five foot maximum height, 15-16.99 dwelling units per acre and a 950,000 maximum non-residential square footage. (009388); (009396-009397). The desired changes were set forth in Plaintiff's proposed concept plan. (009333).

On January 21, 2021, the Planning Commission held a public meeting on a resolution to approve the master plan amendment, zoning map amendment and concept plan. (000271-000290). The master plan amendment sought to change the land designation of 125 acres from Office Industrial Park to Open Space, Office, Public Institution, Residential and Community and Neighborhood Commercial. (000267). The application also sought to change the zoning from Planned Industrial Park, Agriculture, Planned United Development with a Hillside Overlay to a Planned Unit Development with a Hillside Overlay and a maximum residential density of 16-17.99 dwelling units per acre; maximum commercial building square footage of 1,130,000 square feet and a maximum building height of 45 feet. (000268). A concept plan calling for a mix of commercial, residential and open spaces accompanied the master plan amendment and rezoning request. (000268).

Before the Planning Commission, City Planning staff made a presentation. The applicant also made a presentation, answered questions raised by various parties, and provided a rebuttal. (000271); (000282-000283). Project opponents appeared and voiced their concerns. Among those appearing were nearby landowners, residents, and representatives of the Mountain Shadows Community Association. (000274-000282). Opponents raised many concerns about the project, including a lack of detail in the application (000274); (000275); (000278); (000281); impacts to wildlife and a local bighorn sheep herd (000274); (000277); (000278); (000280); building height (000274); (000279); (000280); traffic impacts (000276); (000278); (000279); (000280); (000281), particularly during an evacuation (000274); (000276); (000280); (000281); bicycle safety (000274); (000278); increased trespassing and criminal activity (000275); (000278); proximity of buildings to streets (000277); school crowding (000278); inconsistency of project with Comprehensive Plan (000278); (000279); and increased potential for wildfires (000282). A vote on the project was delayed until March 18, 2021, to address several questions raised in the meeting and to present a more detailed concept plan. (000284).

On March 18, 2021, the application was brought back before the Planning Commission. City Planning staff provided an overview of the project. (003027). Staff addressed seven requests made by the Planning Commission at the first meeting. (003027-003028). Staff noted that the applicant and representatives of the Mountain Shadows Community Association (MSCA or Association) met twice—on February 1st and February 26th—to discuss concerns raised by the Association. City Staff also coordinated with City traffic engineering, the Fire Marshal and the Office of Emergency Management. (3027-3028). The applicant presented the project again and noted changes to the application. (10085). The applicant stated that the maximum height of any future building would be the lesser of 45 feet or three stories, unless building height was restricted to two stories. (003028). The project was modified so any two-story building on the property would be subject to a one-hundred-and-fifty-foot setback and the maximum density was reduced to 16 dwelling units per acre. (003028). Areas A and C of the concept plan were modified so no new buildings were proposed to be added in Area A, and Area C was limited to residential use only. (003028). Finally, maximum nonresidential square footage was amended and decreased to 950,000 square feet. (003028).

At the hearing, traffic impacts and evacuation were discussed. (003028-003030). Risks posed by future wildfires were discussed as well. (003030-003031). The applicant noted that the existing building was forty percent occupied and the designated use of the building would remain unchanged. (003031). The MSCA and multiple residents appeared and spoke in opposition to the project. (003031-003035). Among the reasons cited for opposition were safety and emergency evacuation (003031); (003033); noncompliance with the Hillside Overlay criteria (003031); (003033); adverse impacts on wildlife (003031); (003032); (003033); noncompliance with the criteria for a master plan amendment and rezoning (003032); capacity impacts on local schools due to population growth (003033); and increased vehicular traffic (003034). In the end, the Planning Commission recommended approval of the application. (003040-003042).

The application was then heard before City Council on May 25, 2021. (010225-010238). City Planning staff presented the items. The senior planner with the City provided a detailed and comprehensive overview of the applications. She provided a vicinity map, context map, property analysis of the Garden of the Gods corridor, vacancy rates, data on the types of properties within the corridor, overview of the existing property, concerns raised about the applications, stakeholder process, site details, findings from Colorado Parks and Wildlife, geologic hazards and land suitability analysis, hillside overlay, the comprehensive plan, and staff recommendations. (010227). City Council heard testimony from the applicant's representative and traffic consultant; the City Traffic Engineer; testimony on emergency management and emergency evacuations; and testimony from the President of the MSCA and several homeowners living near the project. (010228-010230) Councilmembers discussed and inquired about many of these topics, including height limitations and visual impact (010231); (010231); (010232); impacts to the local bighorn sheep herd (010231); (010233); (010235); crime (010231-010232); safety; evacuation and traffic congestion (010233); (010234); (010235); and the financial impact analysis (010233-010235). City Council ultimately approved the master plan amendment, rezoning and concept plan on a narrow five-to-four vote. (010236-010238)

The request to rezone the property came back before City Council on June 22, 2021, after the second reading was postponed at the request of the applicant. (010240-010241). At the meeting, and after discussion, the second reading was postponed once again so an updated traffic safety study could be completed. (010264-010267).

With the traffic study completed, rezoning of the property came before City Council for the last time on August 24, 2021. After considerable debate largely surrounding the impact the project had on public safety, the motion to amend the zoning map failed on a five-to-four vote. (010292-010298). This appeal followed.

STANDARD OF REVIEW

Review of a governmental body's quasi-judicial decision is "limited to a determination of whether the body . . . has exceeded its jurisdiction or abused its discretion based on the evidence in the record before the defendant body” C.R.C.P. 106(a)(4)(I). In reviewing a decision by City Council acting in a quasi-judicial capacity, the District Court is not a “super-zoning commission[,]” Garrett v. City of Littleton, 493 P.2d 370, 372 (Colo. 1972), and “should not . . . sit as a zoning board of appeals.” Bd. of Cty. Comm’rs of Routt Cty. v. O’Dell, 920 P.2d 48, 50 (Colo. 1996). Accordingly, “[i]n the case of a zoning proceeding, a court is not the fact finder and may not substitute its own judgment for that of a zoning board where competent evidence exists to support the zoning board’s findings.” Id.; see also Dolan v. Fire & Police Pension Ass’n, 413 P.3d 279, 285 (Colo. App. 2017) (“[E]valuating witness credibility and the probative value and weight of the evidence are solely within the fact-finding province of the agency.”).

Review of a decision by City Council must be upheld unless “there is no competent evidence to support the decision.” Ross v. Fire & Police Pension Ass’n, 713 P.2d 1304, 1308-09 (Colo. 1986) (internal quotation marks omitted). “‘No competent evidence’ means that the ultimate decision of the administrative body is so devoid of evidentiary support that it can only be explained as an arbitrary and capricious exercise of authority.” Id. at 1309. Thus, the decision “must be upheld if there is some evidence in the record to support it.” Washington v. Atherton, 6 P.3d 346, 348 (Colo. App. 2000) (internal quotation marks omitted). Indeed, the Rule 106(a)(4) “no competent evidence” bar has been described as “low.” See Stor-N-Lock Partners # 15, LLC v. City of Thornton, 488 P.3d 352, 358 (Colo. App. 2018).

Finally, “[a]dministrative proceedings are accorded a presumption of validity and regularity, and all reasonable doubts as to the correctness of administrative rulings must be resolved in favor of the agency.” Lieb v. Trimble, 183 P.3d 702, 704 (Colo. App. 2008). “Generally, a reviewing court should defer to the construction of a statute by the administrative officials charged with its enforcement. If there is a reasonable basis for an administrative board's interpretation of the law, [the Court] may not set aside the board's decision." Id. Finally, at all times, "[t]he burden is on the party challenging an administrative agency's action to overcome the presumption that the agency's acts were proper." Id.

ARGUMENT

I. Denial of the Request to Rezone

Plaintiff is able to use its property any number of ways as permitted in its current zoning designation. But, as zoned, the property cannot be used for residential purposes. Surrounding property owners have a right to rely on existing zoning regulations. See Roosevelt v. City of Englewood, 492 P.2d 65, 68 (Colo. 1971). Under the City's zoning code, a property's zoning designation "may be approved" "only if" City Council makes three² specific findings:

1. The action will not be detrimental to the public interest, health, safety, convenience, or general welfare.
2. The proposal is consistent with the goals and policies of the Comprehensive Plan.
3. Where a master plan exists, the proposal is consistent with such plan or an approved amendment to such plan. Master plans that have been classified as implemented do not have to be amended in order to be considered consistent with a zone change request.

(010209, City Code § 7.5.603.B). As the term "may" indicates in § 7.5.603.B, a zoning change is not granted as a matter of right. The Code provision also makes clear that a request to rezone may be denied if any one of the three findings are not made in favor of the applicant. City Council correctly found that the applicant failed to carry its burden.

A. Evidence Supported Denial Based on the Project Being Detrimental to Public Interest, Health, Safety, Convenience, or General Welfare

² City Code 7.5.603.B also includes a fourth criterion which applies to Mixed Use ("MU") zone districts. The subject property is not situated within a MU zone district.

City Council was acting within its authority and discretion to consider evidence related to traffic and safety. There is no suggestion that City Council was not presented with evidence of traffic and safety concerns. Instead, Plaintiff advances three arguments to support its position that denial was improper. First, it argues that Council should not have considered the evidence. Second, Plaintiff claims that Council required the applicant to provide an evacuation plan. Third, Plaintiff asks this Court to place itself in the position of City Council and reweigh the evidence. Each argument fails to show reversible error.

“[T]he consideration of the public health, safety, and welfare criterion may, in certain instances, include a review of issues relating to traffic and parking.” Whitelaw v. Denver City Council, 405 P.3d 433, 444 (Colo. App. 2017); see also W. Paving Const. Co. v. Jefferson Cty. Bd. of Cty. Comm’rs, 689 P.2d 703, 707 (Colo. App. 1984). City Council was presented with a tremendous amount of testimony and evidence on the traffic impacts the project would bring. While City Council was presented testimony from staff and the applicant—both supporters of the project—that the rezone would bring less traffic and the roads were well-equipped to handle traffic from the site, testimony supporting the opposite conclusion was also presented. Multiple residents living nearby testified that rezoning the property to allow for high-density residential use would create a life-threatening “chokepoint” at a critical junction point at Garden of the Gods Road and 30th Street. (005832, Ins. 3-11); (005836, Ins. 13-16); (005860, Ins. 16-22). The views were informed by the personal perspectives of those living in the Mountain Shadows neighborhood—some for multiple decades—and personal experiences living through the traumatic events of the Waldo Canyon fire. The question for this Court, now, is not which evidence was more persuasive.

Apportioning appropriate weight and persuasive value of the evidence was solely within the province of City Council.³ The task, instead, is to ask whether the decision to deny rezoning is supported by competent evidence. In light of the record developed at the hearings, the answer is resoundingly in the affirmative.

City Council heard extensively that the project posed a safety risk. (005847, Ins. 22-25); (005862, Ins. 23-25). Opponents testified that the project would only increase traffic congestion. (005807); (005832, Ins. 3-11); (005837, Ins. 12-15); (005859, Ins. 2-15); (005863, Ins. 11-18); (005885, Ins. 20-25-005886, In. 1). Residents were concerned that increasing density at the site would exacerbate traffic back-ups, cause delays, and strain first responder resources. (005847, Ins. 16-18); (005858, Ins. 18-25-5859, Ins. 1-20).

Opponents also identified an elevated risk of a wildfire near the site. As noted by City staff, and later by Councilmember Donelson, the property is uniquely situated immediately next to a natural, undeveloped slope to the west. (005715, Ins. 16-25); (006014, Ins. 5-10). In this unique location, the risk of a wildfire is elevated both day and night. (005864, Ins. 8-13) (Resident Dorian Lee testifying that “[i]t seems inconceivable that with the seriousness of the yearly Colorado fire season we fail to consider that another explosive fire will occur somewhere on the west side of our City possibly at night and that more casualties will happen due to the limited egress many of these neighborhoods have.”). The threat of wildfire near the site is not hypothetical. The site sits near the Mountain Shadows neighborhood. The neighborhood, as widely known, experienced unimaginable tragedy during the Waldo Canyon fire. Lives were lost and 347 homes were burned to the ground. (005866, Ins. 12-13) (Resident Polly Dunn testifying that “[o]ur home did not survive that fire.”); (005876, Ins. 6-10) (Resident Kim Fleck testifying “I’d just like to say that it was a traumatic experience for our family getting out, just as it was for half of Mountain Shadows. And please consider that. We’re all still at some level traumatized.”); (005896, Ins. 21-22) (Resident Caitlin Henderson testifying that over 300 homes burned in the fire); (005889, Ins. 7-9); 9521; (005840, Ins. 7-8); (005860, Ins. 3-15). Residents waited for hours in gridlock to escape the raging fire. (005840, Ins. 7-8); (005860, Ins. 1-5) (Resident Maribeth Netherton testifying that “[w]e were in bumper-to-bumper traffic from the moment we left our home. It took us two hours to travel from our home to Garden of the Gods Road, a distance of approximately just one mile.”); (005863, Ins. 8-10) (Dorian Lee testifying that “we[, the Mountain Shadows residents,] were the ones who feared being burned alive while trapped in our cars during the Waldo Canyon evacuation traffic jam.”); (005874, Ins. 19-24). To add to this painful history, residents testified to two points that have become increasingly obvious—first, wildfire season continues to creep deeper and deeper into winter with each passing year, (005890, Ins. 8-10) (Resident Kathy Rios testifying to a 5-acre brushfire near her backyard in January 2021), and, second, population in the area has boomed. (005828, Ins. 12-13); (005840, Ins. 10-11); (005858, Ins. 23-25-005859, In. 1).

³ Councilmember Helms recognized this point at the end of the May 25th hearing when he said City Council had heard “all the information, and no one is giving us false information. Everyone is giving an opinion based upon an analysis of different material. And so it is left to us then to analyze that information and decide which way we fall” (006000-006001).

The residents also testified that the traffic studies prepared by the applicant and the City did not fully capture the true scope of the impact of the project. While Garden of the Gods Road is a multi-lane corridor, 30th Street, going south from the intersection of Garden of the Gods Road, funnels down to one lane in each direction. (005890, Ins. 12-15) (Resident Kathy Rios testifying “I have heard about the traffic on Garden of the Gods Road, but not a lot about the traffic on the 30th Street. . . . It is so congested.”); (005860, Ins. 23-25); (005832, Ins. 3-11); (005848, Ins. 18-23); (005889, Ins. 3-6); (005896, Ins. 7-12). Residents noted the heavy traffic on Garden of the Gods Road, (005859, Ins. 2-15); (005863, Ins. 11-18); (005886, ln. 25-005887, ln. 1), and traffic traveling northbound on Flying W Ranch Road. (006167).

The Opening Brief contends that City Council denied the application because it lacked an evacuation plan.⁴ But, as multiple Councilmembers noted, the project was not denied due to a lack of an evacuation plan. Instead, the impact the project would have on traffic volumes at critical times, such as in the case of a wildfire, was the source of concern. (010009, Ins. 1-4) (President Pro Tem Skorman stating at the end of the August 24th hearing “I can’t support this kind of a dense project right now in our WUI for health and safety reasons, not because we don’t have an evacuation plan in place.”); (006014, Ins. 21-24) (Councilmember Donelson commenting during the May 25th hearing that his concern was “an issue of safety and how many people do we put into a limited egress route and what effect does that have on the residents that live there.”); (010015, Ins. 16-18) (Councilmember Donelson during the August 24th hearing “My concern is that we make [the task for police and fire] harder and harder when we keep putting more development into the area that has already proven to be our most dangerous site.”); (006023, Ins. 4-6) (President Strand commenting during the May 25th hearing, “I think there is a safety issue that is kind of a mix between fire threat and evacuation and egress and the traffic situation . . .”).

To City Council, the concerns raised over adding population density at an important intersection presented a significant enough health, safety, and welfare concern to deny rezoning.

Many of the Councilmembers expressed the view that testimony of Mountain Shadows residents on the safety risk created by the project persuaded them to vote against rezoning. (010009, Ins. 2-6); (010017, Ins. 4-11). Councilmembers within their discretion by relying on evidence presented by opponents of the project. City Council's consideration was not limited to evidence presented by project proponents such as City staff, the applicant, or retained experts. See Stor-N-Lock Partners # 15, LLC, 488 P.3d at 358 (rejecting the argument that the "quality of evidence was insufficient to outweigh its own competing evidence" and finding "it was the City Council's job to evaluate the probative value and weight of all of the evidence and to decide the best use of the property using its own judgment."). Instead, City Council could consider and weigh any competent testimony and evidence germane to whether rezoning "will not be detrimental to the public interest, health, safety, convenience or general welfare." Certainly, the competency of testimony before a quasi-judicial body is not reserved for, as Plaintiff describes it, professional testimony. Nor is evidence incompetent because it lacks the qualification of being presented by an expert.

The decision to approve—or deny—rezoning was a difficult task. The hearings presented high stakes for Plaintiff, having purchased the property with hopes of rezoning it and garnering greater profits. The hearings were also highly contested with the presentation of conflicting evidence. Under City Code, City Council is charged with deciding the issue. City Council was also in the best position to decide whether rezoning was detrimental to the public interest, health, safety, and welfare. After all, each member of City Council is an elected official called on to apply criteria and exercise judgment in the best interest of the City. It was an important task which was not lost on Councilmembers. (005710, lns. 8-10) (Councilmember Henjum remarking at the beginning of the May 25th hearing, “I . . . having campaigned and won [the right] to sit in this role, I take very seriously what we’re about to do. And this is why we were elected.”); (006005, lns. 6-9); (005999, lns.22-25-006000, lns. 1-2). Because the record is replete with competent evidence to support the decision, City Council’s denial of the request to rezone must be affirmed.

B. Noncompliance with Hillside Overlay

The record supported denial of rezoning based on non-compliance with the Hillside Overlay ordinance. The purpose of the hillside overlay is “to ensure that these areas retain their unique characteristics, to safeguard the natural heritage of the City, and to protect the public health, welfare and safety.” (010183, City Code § 7.3.504.A.2). The hillside overlay is applied when the City needs, among other things, to “conserve the unique natural features and aesthetic qualities of the hillside areas;” “assure type, distribution and densities of development which are compatible with the natural systems, the terrain, and the geologic character of hillside areas;” and “preserve wildlife habitat . . . which provide wildlife migration corridors.” (010183, City Code § 7.3.504.A.3.a; -d; -g).

The ordinance limits the height of a building. (010191, City Code § 7.3.504.F). For multi-family and nonresidential uses, “[h]eight will be based upon consideration of site factors including, but not limited to, visual analysis, topography, and proposed height relative to existing vegetation.” (010191, City Code § 7.3.504.F.2); see also (010192, City Code § 7.3.504.F.3). The visual impact of the project was disputed. While the applicant and staff found the visual analysis of the project complied with the hillside overlay, opponents did not. The position was based on evidence in the record. (009365-009366 (MSCA Visual Analysis)); (006176-006189); (005815, Ins. 1-25-005818, Ins. 1-15); (005837, Ins. 3-11, 16-24); (005886, Ins. 2-6); (009931, Ins. 19-25-009933, Ins. 1-24). The opponents' visual analysis showed a view from 30th Street where the foothills and mountains are obstructed by the proposed height of the apartments. (009365). Opponents also presented evidence that the height of the buildings was inconsistent with the comprehensive plan. (005815); (005818); (009934, Ins. 1-17); (009358); (009366-009367). Two Councilmembers noted the proposed height in their comments prior to voting. (006011, Ins. 13-16); (006023, Ins. 8-9). Accordingly, competent evidence was present on the record to deny rezoning based on nonconformity with the hillside overlay ordinance.

C. Detrimental Impact on the Bighorn Sheep Herd

The impact the project would have on a local bighorn sheep herd was also the subject of significant debate at the hearings. Evidence on this topic was relevant to the rezoning ordinance and the requirement that rezoning not be "detrimental to the public interest, health, safety, convenience or general welfare." (010209, City Code § 7.5.603.B). It was also relevant to the consideration of the hillside overlay and the objective that wildlife habitat and migration corridors are preserved. (010183, City Code § 7.3.504.A.3.g)

Like other aspects of the hearing, there was conflicting evidence on this issue. There was evidence that the project would not impact the herd. (005728, Ins. 20-25-5729, Ins. 1-12). Evidence was also presented that the herd would be disturbed by the project. Residents testified to seeing bighorn sheep on the property and in the area. (005886, Ins. 17-20) (Leo Finkelstein testifying during the May 25th hearing "With respect to the bighorn sheep, they definitely use and transverse the property. I've personally seen them move across the property from Mountain Shadows to Glen Eyrie.”)); (005819, Ins. 15-25-005821, Ins. 1-24); (005854, Ins. 10-25-005855, Ins. 1-15); (009908, Ins. 17-25-009910, ln. 1); (009359, 009369-009371). Two Councilmembers noted the negative impact the project had on the herd during the hearing. (005965, Ins. 15-23) (Murray); (006014, Ins. 1-2) (Donelson). Accordingly, the detrimental impact to the local bighorn sheep herd acts as an additional basis supporting denial of the application to rezone the property.

II. City Council was Fair and Impartial

“Acting as quasi-judicial decision-makers, city council members are entitled to a ‘presumption of integrity, honesty, and impartiality.’” Whitelaw, 405 P.3d at 438 (quoting in part Soon Yee Scott v. City of Englewood, 672 P.2d 225, 227 (Colo. App. 1983)). “[T]he challenger of a quasi-judicial decision has the burden of rebutting this presumption of impartiality.” Id. The burden to rebut the presumption is quite significant—Plaintiff must show a “personal, financial, or official stake in the decision evidencing a conflict of interest on the part of a decision-maker.” Id. at 228; see also Meyerstein v. City of Aspen, 282 P.3d 456, 468 (Colo. App. 2011) (“[T]he . . . presumption of integrity and honesty is overcome by a showing that the decision-maker has a conflict of interest.”). Substantial prejudice must be shown as well. See Whitelaw, 405 P.3d at 438.

The opening brief challenges the presumption by advancing three arguments—(1) ex parte communications by councilmembers; (2) President Pro Tem Skorman’s disclosure that he had visited the area near the property; and (3) a meeting between three Councilmembers while the application was pending before City Council. None of the grounds—individually or collectively—are sufficient to overcome the presumption.

First, in support of its argument, the Opening Brief reaches outside the record on appeal and relies on purported email correspondence. Opening Brief p. 13-14 (citing Exhibits 6-8).

Evidence outside of the record may not be considered as part of a Rule 106 proceeding.⁵ C.R.C.P. 106(a)(4)(I) (“Review shall be limited to a determination of whether the body or officer has exceeded its jurisdiction or abused its discretion, based on the evidence in the record . . .” (emphasis added)). The emails must be disregarded. See Whitelaw, 405 P.3d at 441 (“Because evidence of [political] contributions was not in the record before the Council and the neighbors first raised this issue in the district court, we may not review it.”). Within the record, nothing reflects that Council, as a whole or individually, was biased.

Looking beyond the outside evidence relied on by the Opening Brief, any communications were insufficient to rebut the presumption of impartiality. “A decision maker is not disqualified on due process grounds simply for having taken a position, even in public, on a policy issue related to the dispute, if there is no showing that the decision maker is incapable of judging the particular controversy fairly on the basis of its own circumstances.” Mountain States Tel. & Tel. Co. v. Pub. Utilities Comm’n of State of Colo., 763 P.2d 1020, 1028 (Colo. 1988); see also City of Manassa v. Ruff, 235 P.3d 1051, 1057 (Colo. 2010) (describing the circumstance as “rare” when fundamental due process compels disqualification in the circumstance of “an appearance of or actual conflict of interest” and holding “the ultimate due process question is whether under a realistic appraisal of psychological tendencies and human weakness, the interest poses such a risk of actual bias or prejudgment that the practice must be forbidden if the guarantee of due process is to be adequately implemented.”). Each Councilmember expressed the ability to judge the application fairly and impartially from the outset. (005702, ln. 25-005711, lns. 1-10).

⁵ In fact, all of the exhibits attached to the Opening Brief are documents outside of the record. Accordingly, they should be disregarded.

On June 21st, after City Council convened for its regular work session meeting, Councilmembers Strand, Donelson and Henjum had a brief, five-to-ten-minute, conversation regarding a proposed motion to delay the second vote in order to obtain a second traffic safety study. (009754, Ins.10-25-009755, Ins. 1-13). The following day, the Councilmembers disclosed in detail the nature and contents of the communication in public. (Id.). The Councilmembers, individually, noted that the conversation did not change their position or impact their ability to be fair and impartial decisionmakers. (009756, Ins. 22-23); (009757, Ins. 6-9, 21-23). President Strand also disclosed, in public, having contact with community members. (009756, Ins. 17-20). He made this disclosure after his contacts with constituents. Compare Opening Brief, Exhibits 6 and 7 with (009755-009756). He reiterated his ability to be fair and impartial. (Id.).

The public statements also prompted President Pro Tem Skorman to note that he had driven past the location. (009759, Ins. 22-25-009760, In. 1). Neither the brief conversation nor the fact that President Pro Tem Skorman drove by the site shows a personal, financial, or official stake in the decision, or substantial prejudice. In fact, the short conversation was described as merely a possible “technical” violation of the Open Meetings Law that only required disclosure. (009759, In. 15). The site visits by President Pro Tem Skorman were not prohibited and only necessitated disclosure under City Council rules. (009762, Ins. 15-17). Thus, the presumption of impartiality has not been rebutted and Plaintiff has not shown substantial prejudice as a result. Consequently, the decision of City Council should be affirmed.

Finally, Plaintiff has not shown that any of the evidence—either within the record or outside of it—resulted in substantial prejudice. Significantly, Plaintiff never raised any of the issues during any of the hearings. Plaintiff never requested recusal of any Councilmember. Further, rezoning was denied on a 5-to-4 vote on second reading. (010019, Ins. 11-12). President Strand, along with Councilmembers Donelson, Henjum and Murray voted against rezoning each time. Compare (006029, Ins. 2-19) with (010018, Ins. 16-25-010019, Ins. 1-8). Only President Pro Tem Skorman changed his vote between the first and second reading. No record evidence shows that President Pro Tem Skorman was improperly influenced to change his vote. Moreover, removing President Pro Tem Skorman's vote results in the same conclusion. A tie vote defeats a proposed ordinance. See Exhibit A. Accordingly, substantial prejudice has not been shown.

III. City Council Did Not Abuse Its Discretion by Hearing Additional Testimony at The August 24th Hearing.

Plaintiff was first to discuss evacuation planning at the August 24th hearing. Once Plaintiff went beyond discussing the updated traffic study and discussed evacuation concerns, testimony on the topic was fair game.

The topic was first raised by Plaintiff's counsel. (009883, Ins. 5-6). President Strand interrupted and cautioned counsel by stating:

[T]hat's an area that I think is beyond kind of the scope of what we want to do here today. I think we want to concentrate on this traffic study/analysis. If you insist on going into that area, it's going to open it up, I think, for opposition to talk about this to some extent too. And I want you to be aware of that.

In a judicial setting, when a party successfully prohibits mention of a subject matter in limine but later proceeds to present evidence on the topic at trial, the opposing party is permitted to introduce evidence on the once-prohibited topic. See, e.g., Itin v. Ungar, 17 P.3d 129, 132 n. 4 (Colo. 2000). If such action is consonant with due process in a courtroom, it is unquestionably appropriate in Council chambers as well. As such, City Council did not abuse its discretion in allowing evidence on evacuation concerns after Plaintiff opened the door.

CONCLUSION

This Court should affirm City Council's decision denying the appeal.

3-9. TIE VOTES

A. In case of a tie vote on any proposal, the proposal shall be considered lost/failed. (2000)

DISTRICT COURT, EL PASO COUNTY, COLORADO		DATE FILED: May 20, 2022 10:28 AM
Court Address: Post Office Box 2980 Colorado Springs, CO 80901		CASE NUMBER: 2021CV31499
Plaintiff(s): 2424GOTG LLC, v.		▲ COURT USE ONLY ▲
Defendant(s): CITY OF COLORADO SPRINGS, et al.
		Case Number: 21CV31499 Div.: 2
ORDER FOLLOWING RULE 106 REVIEW

THIS MATTER comes before the Court on review on Plaintiff’s Complaint for Judicial Review. In this matter, Plaintiff seeks review of a decision by the City of Colorado Springs on a land use question under C.R.C.P. 106(a)(4)(VII). The parties have submitted the record for review and fully briefed the issues presented. The Court found the briefs to be complete and does not find grounds to set a hearing for oral argument. The matters are ripe for analysis and determination.

Factual and Procedural Background

Plaintiff, 2424 GOTG LLC, owns a 125.34-acre parcel of land located directly west of the intersection of Garden of the Gods Road and 30th Street in Colorado Springs. The property is currently zoned General Industrial, Agricultural, Planned Unit Development with a Hillside overlay. The property is subject to the Mountain Shadows Master Plan, which gives the property an Office Industrial Park land use designation.

Plaintiff sought to amend the Master Plan, rezone the property and gain approval of a concept plan, amending the land use designation from Office Industrial part to a mix of office, commercial, residential, public institution, and open space. Plaintiffs sought to rezone the parcel to Planned Unit Development with a Hillside overlay allowing for residential and commercial use. These changes were set forth and provided to the City Council in Plaintiff's proposed concept plan.

On January 21, 2021, the City Planning Commission held a public hearing on a resolution to approve the changes and concept plan Plaintiffs sought. During the hearing City Planning staff and representatives of Plaintiff made presentations and answered questions raised by various interested parties. The Commission also heard from other interested parties, including nearby property owners, residents, and members of the Mountain Shadows Community Association ("MSCA"). At the conclusion of the hearing, the Commissioners moved to postpone a decision on Plaintiff's requested changes and concept plans to March 18, 2021.

On March 18, 2021, the City Planning Commission met again and heard from representatives of the Plaintiff. Plaintiff reported that it had met with members of MSCA to address concerns with the proposed changes and had made certain modifications to their proposal in response to MSCA's concerns. The Planning Commission staff had also coordinated with traffic engineering, the Fire Marshall, and the Office of Emergency Management prior to Plaintiff's presentation of the modified proposal. Despite the changes to the proposal, MSCA and multiple other area residents still spoke out in opposition to the proposal at the March 18th hearing. Ultimately, the Planning Commission recommended approval of the application.

On May 25, 2021, Plaintiff's application came before City Council. The Council heard presentations from the City's senior planner, Plaintiff's representatives, as well as MSCA and local property owners and residents. The materials presented to the City Council by these parties are contained in the record at Bates 009355—009542. In addition to the formal presentations, as well as the testimony, there were over 1,000 pages of emails provided as public comment related to the proposed rezoning. Bates 006087—008160. The presentations, as well as the testimony before the Council related primarily to traffic concerns, emergency management and evacuations, height limitations and visual impacts, impacts to the local bighorn sheep herd, potential impacts of crime, and the financial impact analysis. The City Council initially approved the master plan amendment, rezoning, and concept plan by a 5-4 vote.

Plaintiff's application was set for a second reading at the Council's June 8, 2021, meeting. However, Plaintiff requested a postponement to the June 22, 2021, meeting, and Council agreed to the postponement. At the hearing on June 22, 2021, members of the Council raised concerns about wildfire evacuation planning and the impact the project might have on the City's ability to conduct efficient evacuations. Questions were also raised about the accuracy of Plaintiff's traffic study, which had been conducted during the COVID-19 pandemic, when traffic volumes were reduced. The Council moved to continue the hearing so the City could engage an independent engineering company to review and verify Plaintiff's traffic analysis. Plaintiff's representative expressed concern with Council's postponement for the purpose of reviewing an additional traffic study, noting that public comment had been closed after the first read on May 25 and stating, "I think what we're talking about through the motion is really reopening more evidence and saying we need more evidence to consider." However, Plaintiff's representative ultimately agreed to the continuance for the purpose of verifying the traffic study they had provided, stating, “our client is extremely concerned about safety as well. We believe that a second traffic study will show that this is actually an improvement.” Bates 009796. Council President Strand, who made the motion for the independent traffic study, stated that he would “stand down” if a second independent study confirmed the evidence that was presented in Plaintiff’s traffic study. Bates 009801.

On August 24, 2021 City Council met for the final time concerning Plaintiff’s proposed amendments. At that hearing Council heard the results of the independent traffic study they had commissioned at the previous meeting. In the materials presented to the Council, the independent study “concur[red] with the methodology and findings outlined in the project development study.” The independent study found that “the traffic projections developed, and conclusions stated in the development traffic study are believed to be valid.” Bates 010092.

After hearing the results of the study, community members including representatives of MSCA asked to be heard. These community members specifically noted that the postponement “was for consideration of a traffic analysis and a safety analysis” and asked to “be allowed to speak to the safety analysis piece.” Bates 009893. They argued that this testimony was specifically germane to whether this change in zoning and usage was in the best interest of the community. Bates 009894. After a brief recess to address this request, Council President Strand stated, “Evacuation is not part of the criteria for this zoning request. It is simply not part of the criteria. It’s important. It’s all about health and safety, and welfare, and we understand that, and we are going to get to that. But what we’re going to do today is we’re going to focus on the traffic study and the traffic analysis.” Bates 009896. Ultimately, President Strand stated, “I said if they want to talk about safety issues, which may include evacuation, that the participants that are here and the opponents can do that.” Bates 009899. The Council then heard further citizen comments, allowed Plaintiff’s representative to respond, and ultimately debated the final outcome of the proposed changes. The proposal was denied on a 5-4 vote.

Plaintiff subsequently filed this Motion pursuant to C.R.C.P. 106 seeking judicial review and reversal of the City Council’s denial of its zone change application.

ISSUES PRESENTED

Plaintiff asserts that the record establishes that the City Council exceeded its authority, abused its discretion, and acted arbitrarily in denying Plaintiff’s requested zoning and use changes. Specifically, Plaintiff asserts that the City Council applied a review criterion, namely evacuation planning, which is not set forth in the City Code. Plaintiff also asserts that City Council violated procedural rules by engaging in evidence gathering outside of public hearings and prohibited ex parte communications while the matter was pending before the Council. Plaintiff additionally argues that the Council abused its discretion by discussing evacuation planning concerns at the August 24, 2021 hearing, rather than only addressing the specifics of the independent traffic study. Finally, Plaintiff asserts that City Council’s denial of the zoning and use change was arbitrary and unsupported by competent evidence.

Defendants contend that the record supports a finding that the project was detrimental to the public interest, health, safety, convenience, or general welfare, and that it was not an abuse of discretion for the Council to hear evidence regarding evacuation concerns during the August 24, 2021, hearing because Plaintiff opened the door to such testimony.

STANDARD OF REVIEW

Where, in any civil matter, any governmental body or officer . . . exercising judicial or quasi-judicial function has exceeded its jurisdiction or abused its discretion, and there is no plain, speedy and adequate remedy otherwise provided by law:

(I) Review shall be limited to a determination of whether the body or officer has exceeded its jurisdiction or abused its discretion, based on the evidence in the record before the defendant body or officer.

C.R.C.P. 106(a)(4)(I).

Review of a governmental body's decision pursuant to C.R.C.P. 106(a)(4) calls into question the decision of the body itself . . . See City of Colorado Springs v. Securcare Self Storage, Inc., 10 P.3d 1244 (Colo. 2000). Our review is based solely on the record that was before the board, and the decision must be affirmed unless there is no competent evidence in the record to support it such that it was arbitrary or capricious. See Krupp v. Breckenridge Sanitation District, 1 P.3d 178 (Colo. App. 1999), aff'd, 19 P.3d 687 (Colo. 2001).

We consider whether the board abused its discretion or exceeded its jurisdiction, as well as whether it applied an erroneous legal standard. See Puckett v. City & County of Denver, 12 P.3d 313 (Colo. App. 2000). Generally, a reviewing court should defer to the construction of a statute by the administrative officials charged with its enforcement. See Platte River Environmental Conservation Organization, Inc. v. National Hog Farms, Inc., 804 P.2d 290 (Colo. App. 1990).

If there is a reasonable basis for an administrative board's interpretation of the law, we may not set aside the decision on that ground. See Wilkinson v. Board of County Commissioners, 872 P.2d 1269 (Colo. App. 1993).

Administrative proceedings are accorded a presumption of validity and regularity, and all reasonable doubts as to the correctness of administrative rulings must be resolved in favor of the agency. The burden is on the party challenging an administrative agency's action to overcome the presumption that the agency's acts were proper. See van Sickle v. Boyes, 797 P.2d 1267 (Colo. 1990); Wildwood Child & Adult Care Program, Inc. v. Colorado Department of Public Health & Environment, 985 P.2d 654 (Colo. App. 1999).

City & County of Denver v. Board of Adjustment for City & County of Denver, 55 P.3d 252, 254 (Colo. App. 2002).

The Colorado Supreme Court has long held that in a Rule 106(a)(4) action, a reviewing court must uphold the decision of the governmental body “unless there is no competent evidence in the record to support it.” Sellon v. City of Manitou Springs, 745 P.2d 229, 235 (Colo. 1987); Board of County Comm’rs v. Simmons, 177 Colo. 347, 350, 494 P.2d 85, 87 (1972); Marker v. Colorado Springs, 138 Colo. 485, 488, 336 P.2d 305, 307 (1959). “No competent evidence” means that the governmental body’s decision is “so devoid of evidentiary support that it can only be explained as an arbitrary and capricious exercise of authority.” Ross [v. Fire and Police Pension Ass’n], 713 P.2d 1304] at 1039 [(Colo. 1986)].

In the case of a zoning proceeding, a court is not the fact finder and may not substitute its own judgment for that of a zoning board where competent evidence exists to support the zoning board's findings. Sundance Hills Homeowners Ass'n v. Board of County Comm'rs, 188 Colo. 321, 327-28, 534 P.2d 1212, 1215-16 (1975). The role of a reviewing court in a challenge to a zoning board's decision "is not and should not be to sit as a zoning board of appeals." Id. at 328, 534 P.2d at 1216 (citing Garrett v. City of Littleton, 177 Colo. 167, 493 P.2d 370 (1972)); see also Bentley v. Valco, Inc., 741 P.2d 1266, 1267-68 (Colo. App. 1987) (holding that, in a zoning case, a reviewing court is not permitted to weigh the evidence). Thus, court should not interfere with the decision of zoning authorities absent a clear abuse of discretion. Simmons, 177 Colo. at 350, 494 P.2d at 87.

ANALYSIS AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Each of Plaintiff's claims regarding the City Council's alleged abuse of discretion or arbitrary action will be addressed individually.

Application of Inapplicable Review Criterion

Plaintiff cites Bauer v. City of Wheat Ridge, 513 P.2d 203 (Colo. 1973), for the proposition that once an applicant applies for an exception or change under an already-existing ordinance, only those factors which apply generally to all applicants may be considered. Plaintiff argues that the City Council violated this principle by "applying a criterion (evacuation planning) that is neither specifically set forth in the Code nor generally applicable to all applicants." Plaintiff's Brief p. 8.

The parties agree that the criteria which the City Council may use in evaluating zone changes are set forth in Section 7.5.603(B) of the Code. Plaintiff's Brief p. 8; Response Brief p.

10. That code states, in relevant part:

A proposal for the establishment or change of zone district boundaries may be approved by the City Council only if the following findings are made:

1. The action will not be detrimental to the public interest, health, safety, convenience or general welfare.
2. The proposal is consistent with the goals and policies of the Comprehensive Plan.
3. Where a master plan exists, the proposal is consistent with such plan or an approved amendment to such plan.

Plaintiff claims that, because evacuation planning is not a specific criterion set forth in the City Code, and because it was thoroughly and repeatedly addressed throughout the City Council's consideration of the proposed zoning changes, the Council impermissibly added evacuation planning and held Plaintiff's proposed change to a different standard than the one generally applicable under the Code. This argument, however, fails to recognize that the ability to evacuate safely in the event of an emergency falls within the criterion that a zoning change not be determinantal to the public interest, health, safety, convenience or general welfare. Plaintiff's citation to the opinion expressed by counsel at the time of the hearing to the contrary is not persuasive.

Plaintiff references comments made during the proceedings whereby Council members were informed that evacuation planning was not among the specific criteria they were permitted to consider in determining whether to approve the proposed change. See Plaintiff's Brief p. 10,

Reply Brief pp. 2-3. These comments, however, do not address whether the City Council could consider evidence regarding evacuation planning as that evidence informs the generally applicable criterion that a change in zoning not be detrimental to public health and safety. This Court is not persuaded by Plaintiff's argument that use of the term "safety" to define a factor to be considered necessarily excludes consideration of emergency evacuation issues by the term's failure to refer to traffic or evacuation specifically. This Court finds inclusion of emergency evacuation within the rubric of a "public health and safety" factor to be a reasonable interpretation.

When representatives of the MSCA asked to speak to the Council regarding their concerns about the potential dangers related to evacuation, they specifically cited the applicability of these concerns to City Code 603(B)(1) and (B)(2). Bates 009894. When announcing their votes, some of the members of the Council who voted against the proposed change addressed the distinction between using evacuation planning as a criterion or using it to consider the potential impact on health and safety. Councilmember Skorman stated, "I know it's not the criteria we are talking about today in terms of the evacuation planning. That's not a criteria we have in our tool chest. But safety is, the health and safety." Bates 010008. Councilmember Donelson, when discussing the community members' concerns regarding a potential evacuation, stated, "One of the criteria we must base our decisions on is that it is not detrimental to public health and safety." Bates 010014. Council President Strand similarly stated, "[O]ne of the criteria is health and safety. And, you know, for better or worse, the property owner bought property in an area that has subsequently been involved in a tragedy, you know, in 2012 and people have come here and poured out their hearts to us about that. And for me, that's been very compelling." Bates 010017.

These comments, rather than demonstrating that the Council applied a criterion that is not specifically set forth in the Code nor generally applicable to all applicants, demonstrate that the Council took the information they were provided throughout the course of the public hearings and applied it to the generally applicable criterion that a proposed change not be detrimental to public interest, health, safety, convenience or general welfare.

Plaintiffs have failed to meet their burden of demonstrating that the Council exceeded its authority by applying a criterion that was not set forth in the City Code. Here, the Council's interpretation that the criterion that a zoning change not be detrimental to public interest, health, safety, convenience or general welfare encompasses consideration of the need to consider a community's potential evacuation is a reasonable interpretation of City Code section 7.5.603(B), and therefore the denial of the proposed zoning change cannot be set aside on that basis.

Violation of Procedural Rules Through Outside Evidence Gathering

Plaintiff's next contention is that members of the City Council violated their own procedural rules in this matter, which "indicates that the governing body acted in an arbitrary and capricious nature." Plaintiff's Brief p. 12. In support of this argument Plaintiff cites Corper v. Denver, 552 P.2d 13, 15 (Colo. 1976) for the proposition that a "court may reverse the quasi-judicial decision of a local governing body if the record shows that the governing body failed to comply with its own procedural requirements." Plaintiff's Brief p. 12. Corper, however, does not make this specific finding. The case states the inverse, that "[i]f the trial court finds that the record shows compliance by council with the procedural requirements and there is competent evidence of a factual basis for the rezoning decision, it must affirm the action of the zoning authority.” Corper, 552 P.2d at 15. In that case, the trial court “found that all procedural requirements had been fulfilled by both the city and the applicant” so the Corper court did not substantively address the issue of procedural deficiencies at all. Id. Plaintiff has cited no case where a governing body’s quasi-judicial decision has been reversed based only on the body’s failure to follow its own procedural rules. However, because Council’s failure to follow its own procedural guidelines could inform a finding regarding an abuse of discretion, Plaintiff’s substantive claims are worth addressing.

Plaintiff’s claims center on two procedural rules which guide Council’s decision-making process: City Code Section 7.1.105(5)(B) (“The decision is based completely on facts, evidence and testimony presented at the hearing and evaluated using this Zoning Code requirements and criteria. . . . Decision makers may not be contacted or lobbied.”) and City Council Rule 10-2(A) (“The Council shall refrain from receiving information and evidence on any quasijudicial matter while such matter is pending before the City Council or any agency, board or commission thereof, except at the public hearing.”).

Plaintiff contends Council members violated these rules in three ways: 1) Council Member Skorman’s acknowledgement at the June 22, 2021 hearing that he had visited the property at issue multiple times and observed the traffic patterns; 2) an ex parte conversation between Council Members Strand, Henjum, and Donelson which was also acknowledged at the June 22, 2021 hearing; and 3) electronic communications between Council Members Strand and Donelson with members of the public.

Plaintiff, in alleging that Member Skorman’s site visit was a violation of City Council Rule 10-2(A), that Council Members must refrain from receiving information or evidence related to quasi-judicial matters that are pending before the Council except at the public hearing, fails to acknowledge the language of that rule that states that “if any member is exposed to information about a pending matter outside of the public hearing, through . . . site visits, the member shall disclose all such information and/or evidence acquired . . . during the public hearing and before the public comments period is open.” That is what Member Skorman did. See Bates 009761. Plaintiff’s assertion that this was a violation of procedure is unpersuasive.

Regarding the second incident involving an ex parte conversation between Members Strand, Henjum, and Donelson, the contents of the conversation appear to have been limited. Nonetheless, the contents were disclosed to the Council and the public at the June 22, 2021, hearing. Bates 009754—009756. The members involved stated on the record that the conversation would have no impact on their final decision. (President Strand: “[M]y decision will be only made, you know, as I go forward today, on the review criteria.” Bates 009756; Member Donelson: “I’ll decide my vote today based on the review criteria just like I did the first time.” Bates 009757; Member Henjum: “This conversation did not in any way bias my position or my vote.” Bates 009757.). Given these statements by the Council Members involved in the conversation, Plaintiff has not overcome the presumption of validity and regularity afforded to Council’s decisions.

Finally, Plaintiff’s concerns related to the electronic communications between Council Members and members of the public are not properly before this Court pursuant to C.R.C.P. 106. See C.R.C.P. 106(a)(4)(I) (“Review shall be limited to a determination of whether the body or officer has exceeded its jurisdiction or abused its discretion, based on the evidence in the record” See Also Whitelaw, 405 P.3d 433, 441 (Colo. App. 2017) (“Because evidence of [political] contributions was not in the record before the Council and the neighbors first raised this issue in the district court, we may not review it.”).

None of the allegations levelled by Plaintiff establish that a Council Member involved in this decision had any personal, financial, or official state in the decision evidencing a conflict of interest on the part of a decision-maker. See Soon Yee Scott v. City of Englewood, 672 P.2d 225, 227 (Colo. App. 1983) (noting standard). Plaintiff has failed to meet his burden to overcome the presumption that the individual members were acting with integrity, honesty, and impartiality or that the agency’s acts were proper, therefore the denial of the proposed zoning change cannot be set aside on that basis.

Addressing Evacuation Concerns at August 24, 2021 Hearing

Plaintiff’s next claim is that the City Council exceeded its authority, both substantively and procedurally, and abused its discretion by entertaining public comments about evacuation planning at the August 24, 2021 hearing. Plaintiff asserts that the “stated and sole reason given for the continued hearing was to receive/review the results of an independent traffic study commissioned by the City.” Plaintiff’s Brief p. 15. Because public commentary regarding evacuation safety is unrelated to that traffic study, Plaintiff argues, it was improper for the Council to hear any additional comments regarding evacuation safety.

On June 22, 2021, President Strand made the following motion:

So I would like to move that our City Council delay this second vote on Item 10.A., Ordinance No. 21-48, amending the zoning map of the City of Colorado Springs for 63 days or until 24 August in order to obtain a second and independent traffic study and safety analysis – and we can use those words traffic study and safety analysis in a Statements of Work and figure out what they would be -- of the property known as 2424 Garden of the Gods Road.

Bates 009793 -- 009794.

During the August 24, 2021, hearing, opponents of the zoning change brought up what was variously described as a ‘point of order’ or ‘point of process’ seeking to determine whether they would be able to address matters outside the specifics of the traffic study. Bates 009889. The opponents argued that “the postponement was for consideration of a traffic analysis and a safety analysis, and we’ve been told that there would be no safety analysis discussed, and that that’s an event specific item. And so at minimum, I think we ought to be allowed to speak to the safety analysis piece.” Bates 009893. After hearing these arguments, President Strand recessed the proceedings to determine how the remainder of the hearing would be conducted. After the recess, President Strand announced:

Evacuation is not part of the criteria for this zoning request. It is simply not part of the criteria. It’s important. It’s all about health and safety and welfare, and we understand that, and we are going to get to that. But what we’re going to do today is we’re going to focus on the traffic study and the traffic analysis.

At the end of that discussion concerning traffic evaluation – or traffic study and analysis, I am going to give your group, the opposition, 30 minutes to talk about any of the issues you feel this Council needs to know about. I also have to be fair to both sides, the petitioner, the Applicant as well as the opposition, and they will have 30 minutes to respond to what you're going to say at the end of this meeting.

Bates 009896 (emphasis added).

After this announcement, Member Murray requested clarification as to whether President Strand had found that there was a legal restriction prohibiting talking about evacuation, or whether this decision was being made by President Strand as the Chair of the proceeding. President Strand stated that it was "a decision made by me" and that "if they want to talk about safety issues, which may include evacuation, that the participants that are here and the opponents can do that." Bates 009899.

Plaintiff has not provided the Court with any case or evidence suggesting that President Strand's decision to allow final summary statements by the opponents and Applicant for a zoning change is inherently invalid or irregular, even in a setting where the general scope of the hearing has been limited to a specific purpose. Plaintiff has not met its burden of demonstrating that the Council exceeded its authority or abused its discretion by allowing final statements from both parties at the June 24, 2021 hearing, and as such the zoning determination cannot be overturned on this basis.

Ultimate Determination Was Arbitrary and Unsupported

Plaintiff's final claim is that the City Council acted arbitrarily in denying the proposed zoning change. In support of this claim, Plaintiff argues that evacuation planning is not a criterion for zone changes that the city generally applies to all applicants and that there was no competent evidence supporting the Council's conclusion that the zone change would detrimentally affect public health and safety.

Plaintiff's argument that evacuation planning is not a generally applicable criterion applied to all applicants for zoning change is similar to its argument that the City Council improperly applied an inapplicable review criterion, and it fails on the same basis. Plaintiff argues that the Council's concern with evacuation constituted an independent criterion which is not applied to other applicants for zoning changes. This argument does not acknowledge that the criterion that was being considered, as addressed above, was that the zoning change not be detrimental to public interest, health, safety, convenience or general welfare. Plaintiff asserts that by focusing on evacuation safety in this case, the City Council treated this proposal differently from all other projects, but this complaint fails to acknowledge that evacuation planning may have a significant impact on the generally applicable public interest, health, safety, convenience or general welfare criterion in some cases, and play a less significant role in evaluating that same generally applicable criterion in others. Because there was a reasonable basis for City Council's interpretation of the review criterion in this instance, the decision cannot be set aside on that ground. See Wilkinson v. Board of County Commissioners, 872 P.2d 1269 (Colo. App. 1993).

The final aspect of Plaintiff's claim is that there was no competent evidence supporting the City Council's conclusion that the proposed change would detrimentally affect public health and safety. "No competent evidence" means that the governmental body's decision is "so devoid of evidentiary support that it can only be explained as an arbitrary and capricious exercise of authority." O'Dell, 920 P.2d at 50 citing Ross, 713 P.2d at 1039.

Plaintiff accurately notes that the traffic impact study it commissioned and presented to Council, as well as the Council's own traffic study, and all of the City's experts indicated to Council that the proposed change would not hinder safe and efficient evacuations. Plaintiff's Brief pp. 19-21. In contrast, Plaintiff argues that the only evidence presented to Council that was contrary to its position was anecdotal testimony from community members, and "[w]hile these fears are understandable given the City's past experiences with wildfire, they were fully refuted by the traffic data and expert testimony presented by the Applicant and the City's own emergency management professionals." Plaintiff's Brief p. 21. This analysis, however, asks the Court to undertake an analysis which is not permitted by C.R.C.P. 106(a)(4). Under these proceedings, a reviewing court commits error "by impermissibly reweighing the evidence in [the] case instead of simply determining whether the Board's decision was supported by competent evidence." O'Dell, 920 P.2d at 51.

In this case, in addition to the public testimony from opponents of the project at the City Council's May 25, 2021 (Bates 006048 – 006068) and August 24, 2021 (Bates 009853 – 010052) hearings, the City also received over 1000 pages of public comments (Bates 006369 – 008160) prior to the May 25, 2021 hearing. Council additionally received a presentation from MSCA addressing the community's concerns regarding safety, noncompliance with Hillside Overlay Ordinance, detrimental impact on local bighorn sheep, and failure to meet parkland dedication ordinances. Bates 009354 – 009380.

In light of all of this evidence, the City Council's determination not to approve the requested zoning change was not so devoid of evidentiary support that it can only be explained as an arbitrary and capricious exercise of authority. As such, their determination cannot be overturned on that basis.

CONCLUSION

For the reasons stated above, Plaintiff has failed to meet its burden of demonstrating that the City Council exceeded its jurisdiction or abused its discretion in denying Plaintiff's requested zoning changes. Plaintiff's request to set aside the City Council's decision under C.R.C.P. 106 is denied.

The City of Colorado Springs (“City”), and the City Council of Colorado Springs (“City Council”) (collectively “City Defendants”), by and through the Office of the City Attorney, hereby submits the following Answer Brief.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

The Applications

Plaintiff, 2424 GOTG LLC, (“2424GOTG”) owns a parcel of land located at 2424 Garden of the Gods Road in Colorado Springs, Colorado (“Property”). The 125.34-acre property sits at the end of Garden of the Gods Road adjoining the intersection of Garden of the Gods Road and 30th Street (“Intersection”). CF, pp. 9136:7-10; 8754. The Property, like the homes in the Mountain Shadows neighborhood around it, is located in one of the largest Wildland Urban Interfaces (“WUI”) in the country. Id. at 2962:13-17; 8734; 9378:21-23. The Property is also close to the Garden of the Gods Park, a majestic landscape considered by many to be the crown jewel of the area and the City. Id. at 9982:10-11. The Property was annexed into the City in 1965 and 1971 and zoned in 1980 and 1981. Id. at 8676-8677. It is currently zoned General Industrial, Agricultural, Planned Unit Development with a Hillside Overlay and is subject to the Mountain Shadows Master Plan (“MSMP”). Id. at 346; 8669-8670.

In August 2020, 2424GOTG submitted the applications necessary to rezone the Property for residential and business use (the “Project”). Id. at 3275-3288. The Project was amended several times before it was considered by City Council on May 25, 2021. Id. at 9136-9142. Ultimately, 2424GOTG presented City Council with three applications related to the Project. First, was a request to amend the MSMP from Office Industrial Park to a mix of office, commercial, residential, public institution, and open space. Id. at 10273. Second, was a request to amend the zoning map of the Property from Planned Industrial Park, Agriculture and Planned Unit Development with Hillside Overlay (“PUD”), to Planned Unit Development: Residential and Commercial uses, with a maximum 420 units for residential units, and up to 950,000 square feet for non-residential use. (“Rezone Request”) Id. at 10284. Third, was a PUD Concept Plan to establish a mixed use development pattern for the Property. Id. at 10285.

The Planning Commission’s hearings

Before reaching City Council, the Project was evaluated by the City’s Planning Commission over the course of two public hearings conducted on January 21, 2021, and March 18, 2021. Id. at 48-266; 2847-3028. At both hearings, the Mountain Shadows Community Association (“MSCA”) opposed the Project, and when the hearings were opened to the public, hundreds of residents phoned in. Id. at 130:10-11; 2922:18-22. Every caller who spoke, expressed opposition to the Project. Id. at 129:3-21; 2916-2959; 2969-3006. The residents also sent emails and submitted a petition in opposition to the project. Id. at 377-2168; 2395-2773. The residents took issue with several aspects of the Project. They raised concerns with the Project's impact on the area's bighorn sheep herd and other wildlife; the building height; the Project's traffic impacts on the Intersection and the Mountain Shadows Community, particularly during an evacuation; bicycle safety; and increased potential for wildfires. Id. at 319-326; 3072-3078. In the end, the Planning Commission voted four-to-three to approve the Project. Id. at 3084-3086.

The City Council's hearings

The application was then heard before City Council on May 25, 2021. Id. at 9078-9412; 10273-10286. In support of the Project, City Council heard from City Planning and 2424GOTG. Id. at 10274-10277. City Council also heard from the City's Traffic Engineer; the City's Fire Marshall, and the City's Deputy Chief of Staff. Id. at 10276-10278. The MSCA made a presentation, and several residents testified in opposition to the Project. Id. at 10278. Only one person spoke in favor of the Project. Id. Councilmembers discussed and inquired about many of the topics raised by the MSCA and the residents, including the Hillside Overlay and the visual impact of the Project (Id. at 10279-10280); the impacts to the local bighorn sheep herd (Id. at 10279; 10281; 10283); fire safety; emergency evacuation; and traffic concerns. (Id. at 10281-10283). City Council ultimately approved the master plan amendment and concept plan on a five-to-four vote. Id. at 10284-10286. The Rezone Request also passed the first reading. Id. Because the Colorado Springs City Code (“City Code”) requires two readings and two votes to rezone a property, a second reading was scheduled for June 8, 2021. Id. at 10288-10289. The reading was then postponed until June 22, 2021, at 2424GOTG’s request. Id. at 10289.

On June 22, 2021, the second reading of the Rezone Request came before City Council. Id. at 9792:13-19. However, President Tom Strand moved to continue the hearing “in order to obtain a second and independent traffic study and safety analysis...” until August 24th. Id. at 9835:1-8. 2424GOTG did not object to the postponement. Id. at 9838:4-9. After some discussion, the hearing was continued. Id. at 9842:9.

On August 24, 2021, City Council reconvened for the second reading of the Rezone Request. At the onset of the hearing, President Strand noted that he wanted to focus on traffic concerns. Id. at 9896:20-23. 2424GOTG began its presentation by addressing traffic, noting that once the Project was complete the area would see an additional 2,208 trips per day. Id. at 9919:22. 2424GOTG’s counsel then shifted the conversation to evacuations. Id. at 9923:5-9 (“I want to talk for just a minute about evacuation concerns because that seems to be the main concern. And we've had, you know, two really awful fires in the relatively recent history that we've all lived through. It's a serious issue.”). Even after President Strand warned counsel that further comments on evacuations would reopen discussion on evacuations, counsel persisted. Id. at 9923-9924. After 2424GOTG’s comments, President Strand allowed the public to make comments. Id. at 9940-10010. After the public comments, 2424GOTG addressed the residents’ testimony. Id. at 10013-10033. After considerable debate, the Rezone Request failed on a five-to-four vote. Id. at 10340-10346.

The District Court rejected all of 2424GOTG’s arguments

On September 17, 2021, 2424GOTG filed its complaint in the District Court for El Paso County, (“District Court”) alleging that under C.R.C.P. 106(a)(4) the City Council exceeded its jurisdiction by not approving the Rezone Request. Id. at 3-7. On December 29, 2021, the City submitted the Certified Record of City Council’s proceedings to the District Court. Id. at 36-47. On February 9, 2022, the City filed a motion to add the certified minutes of the meetings held by City Council. Id. at 10347. On February 18, 2022, 2424GOTG submitted its Opening Brief to the District Court. Id. at 10354-10377. Attached to the brief were nine exhibits that were not included in the Certified Record.¹ Id. at 10378-10705. On May 20, 2022, the District Court issued an order upholding City Council’s decision. Id. at 10759-10777. Specifically, the District Court found that it was reasonable to interpret the health and safety criteria in § 7.5.603.B to include emergencies and emergency evacuations. Id. at 10768; 10775. The District Court also found that 2424GOTG’s claims of impropriety were insufficient to overcome the presumption that City Council made its decision with honesty, impartiality and integrity. Id. at 10772. Finally, the District Court found that 2424GOTG’s claims that City Council exceeded its authority, by allowing additional public comments on evacuation safety, to be unsupported by law or evidence. Id. at 10774. This appeal followed.

property would be detrimental to the health, safety, and general welfare and contrary to City Code § 7.5.603.B?

B. Has 2424GOTG overcome the presumption that the Colorado Springs City Council acted with honesty, impartiality, and integrity when it failed to seek councilmember recusal after three councilmembers briefly discussed this case after a work session, and then immediately disclosed the conversation the following day and when another City Councilmember drove by the property between two hearings and then disclosed his travels as required by the Council Rules?

SUMMARY OF THE ARGUMENT

City Council was well within its rights to deny the Rezone Request. When considering a request to rezone a property, City Council looks to the criteria stated in City Code § 7.5.603.B.² Id. at 10248-10249. While the ordinance contains four

² The ordinance in its entirety reads:

Establishment Or Change Of Zone District Boundaries: A proposal for the establishment or change of zone district boundaries may be approved by the City Council only if the following findings are made:

1. The action will not be detrimental to the public interest, health, safety, convenience or general welfare.
2. The proposal is consistent with the goals and policies of the Comprehensive Plan.
3. Where a master plan exists, the proposal is consistent with such plan or an approved amendment to such plan. Master plans that have been classified as implemented do not have to be amended in order to be considered consistent with a zone change request.

criteria, only one is pertinent here. The first criterium requires a finding that the Rezone Request is not “detrimental to the public interest, health, safety, convenience or general welfare.” Id. Because an abundance of evidence was presented showing that the Rezone Request was detrimental to the health and safety, convenience, public interest, and general welfare of the Mountain Shadows neighborhood, its residents, and the entire area, City Council’s decision must be upheld.

Wildfires and traffic congestion pose serious risks to the health and safety of the area

In 2012, the Waldo Canyon Fire consumed 346 homes in the area and took two lives. With the fire raging down the nearby mountainside, residents sat in their cars for hours, inching their way through gridlocked streets to safety. From the first hearing in January 2021 to the last hearing in August 2021, residents testified about escaping the fire and expressed their concerns that the size and location of the Project would jeopardize their safety in the event of another fire. Indeed, the unique location of the Project presents a problem. The Property sits in an intersection which is considered by many to be a chokepoint under normal conditions. The Project exacerbates the chokepoint by adding around 1,000 cars to the existing bottleneck, which could result in a trap for others should another wildfire breakout.

Beyond the dangers posed by wildfires, residents also presented other evidence of how the Project is detrimental to the health, safety, public interest, convenience, and general welfare of the area. While expressing skepticism at the results of 2424GOTG's traffic study and the City's review of the study, they presented evidence of their personal day-to-day experiences driving in the area. Residents presented evidence that the Project would have a detrimental effect on the local herd of bighorn sheep, and they raised concerns about the Project's compliance with the Hillside Overlay Code. Specifically, they questioned whether the height of the Project's buildings complied with the code or whether it would impair the incredible views in the area. The residents expressed their concerns through emails, a petition with over 6,500 signatures, and lengthy testimony in opposition to the Rezone Request. Because the evidence they presented was more than sufficient to show that the Project was detrimental to the area's health, safety, public interest, convenience, and general welfare, City Council's decision should be upheld.

2424GOTG is impermissibly asking the Court to reweigh the evidence

It is clear from the record that City Council listened to the residents and took their testimony seriously. 2424GOTG, however, disregards their accounts and paints them as “emotional,” “boisterous,” and “loud,” and insists that they should be disregarded in favor of the opinions expressed by “experts” who also testified. In making this argument, 2424GOTG asks the Court to ignore the well-established principal that as the factfinder, City Council is entitled to weigh the evidence as it sees fit. Because City Council’s decision is well supported by competent evidence, it must be upheld.

City Council is entitled to the presumption of honesty, integrity, and impartiality

Every City Councilmember is entitled to the presumption that he or she acted with honesty, impartiality, and integrity. Here, 2424GOTG attacks Councilmembers Strand, Donelson, and Henjum and accuses them of having an improper conversation about the Rezone Request after a public meeting. 2424GOTG overlooks the fact that at the beginning of the next day’s meeting, all three councilmembers acknowledged the conversation, provided details about it, and gave 2424GOTG the opportunity to address what was said. Finally, 2424GOTG claims that Councilmember Skorman improperly visited the Property after the May 25th hearing. 2424GOTG ignores the fact that site-visits are not improper. Councilmembers are simply required to disclose the visit and their impressions. Which, as the District Court noted, is exactly what Councilmember Skorman did.

As such, none of 2424GOTG's arguments are sufficient to overcome the presumption afforded to City Council.

ARGUMENT

1. Standard of Review

“The standard for review in a Rule 106(a)(4) proceeding is ‘limited to a determination of whether the body or officer has exceeded its jurisdiction or abused its discretion, based on the evidence in the record before the defendant body or officer.’” Van Sickle v. Boyes, 797 P.2d 1267, 1272 (Colo. 1990) (quoting C.R.C.P. 106(a)(4)(I)). A governmental body exceeds its jurisdiction or abuses its discretion only when it misapplies or misconstrues the applicable law, or its decision is not “reasonably supported by any competent evidence in the record.” Yakutat Land Corp. v. Langer, 462 P.3d 65, 70 (Colo. 2020); see also Bd. of Cnty. Comm'rs of Routt Cnty. v. O'Dell, 920 P.2d 48, 50 (Colo. 1996) (“[A] reviewing court must uphold the decision of the governmental body unless there is no competent evidence in the record to support it.”) (internal quotations omitted). “No competent evidence’ means that the ultimate decision of the administrative body is so devoid of evidentiary support that it can only be explained as an arbitrary and capricious exercise of authority.” Ross v. Fire & Police Pension Ass'n, 713 P.2d 1304, 1309 (Colo. 1986). Indeed, the Rule 106(a)(4) “no competent evidence” bar has been described as “low.” See Stor-N-Lock Partners # 15, LLC v. City of Thornton, 488 P.3d 352, 358 (Colo. App. 2018). “[Finally], administrative proceedings are accorded a presumption of validity and all reasonable doubts as to the correctness of administrative rulings must be resolved in favor of the agency.” Van Sickle, 797 P.2d at 1272 (Colo. 1990).

2. 2424GOTG Does Not Have A Right To A Zoning Change Standard of Review and Preservation

City Defendants agree that de novo review applies to City Council’s decision to deny 2424GOTG’s Rezone Request and that this issue was preserved by 2424GOTG’s arguments in the District Court.

Argument

City Code § 7.5.603.B makes clear that City Council is not obligated to approve a request for a zoning change. CF, pp. 10248-10249. Indeed, the ordinance says that a rezoning request “may be approved by the City Council only if the following findings are made” Id. The ordinance’s use of the word “may” indicates that changing a property’s zoning is not done as a matter of right. If anything, the right lies with nearby property owners and ensuring the stability of the area by maintaining zoning regulations. See Coleman v. Gormley, 748 P.2d 361, 363 (Colo. App. 1987) (“Property owners in areas with existing zoning regulations have a right to rely on them when there has been no material change in the character of the neighborhood that may require rezoning in the public interest.”). As President Strand noted on May 25th, 2424GOTG bought the Property subject to its current zoning. CF, p. 9402:20-22. Janna Weidler made the same point when she signed the petition opposed to rezoning the Property writing, “[w]e worked hard to purchase this house in THIS neighborhood and now you want to rezone a piece of land that will change EVERYTHING about my way of life?” Id. at 2424. (emphasis in original). Ms. Weidler’s outrage was echoed by other residents who signed the same petition, sent emails, and testified before City Council. Id. at 5740-7531; 8158-8629; 8911-9075; 9657-9716.³ City Council’s decision should be upheld.

3. 2424GOTG Is Impermissibly Asking This Court To Reweigh The Evidence

Standard of Review and Preservation

City Defendants agree that de novo review applies to City Council’s decision and that this issue was preserved by 2424GOTG’s arguments in the District Court.

³ The petition and emails in the Certified Record constitute competent evidence because, like letters, they are substitutes for live testimony. See O’Dell, 920 P.2d at 51 (noting that documents such as letters are “in the nature of, or a substitute for, ‘live’ testimony[,]” and therefore must be considered under “the deferential ‘competent evidence’ standard of review applicable to Rule106(a)(4) actions.”).

Argument

“In the case of a zoning proceeding, a court is not the fact finder and may not substitute its own judgment for that of a zoning board where competent evidence exists to support the zoning board's findings.” O’Dell, 920 P.2d at 50. “[A]n appellate court's role ‘is not and should not be to sit as a zoning board of appeals.’” Alpenhof, LLC v. City of Ouray, 297 P.3d 1052, 1057 (Colo. App. 2013) (quoting Sundance Hills Homeowners Ass'n v. Bd. of County Commis., 534 P.2d 1212, 1216 (Colo. 1975)). “An action by an administrative agency is not arbitrary or an abuse of discretion when the reasonableness of the agency's action is open to a fair difference of opinion, or when there is room for more than one opinion.” Khelik v. City & Cnty. of Denver, 411 P.3d 1020, 1023 (Colo. App. 2016). “When conflicting testimony is presented in an administrative hearing, the credibility of witnesses and the weight to be given their testimony are decisions within the province of the agency.” Johnson v. Dep’t of Safety, 503 P.3d 918, 923 (Colo. App. 2021) (internal quotations omitted).

As discussed in Section 5, competent evidence on the record exists to support City Council’s decision. 2424GOTG, however, asks the Court to ignore evidence from those opposing the Project in favor of the opinions of those supporting the Project. Op. Br. 35. In doing so, 2424GOTG seeks to discount the testimony of some witnesses and favor the testimony of others. In short, 2424GOTG is asking the Court to reweigh the evidence. However, a reviewing court should “not weigh the evidence or substitute [its] judgment for that of the administrative body.” Johnson, 503 P.3d at 922 (citing Kruse v. Town of Castle Rock, 192 P.3d 591, 601 (Colo. App. 2008)).

2424GOTG’s characterization of the residents’ testimony is also troubling. The residents provided personal, detailed accounts of their experiences evacuating from the Mountain Shadows neighborhood during a truly catastrophic event. 2424GOTG, however, dismisses their testimony as “loud, emotional, and boisterous[.]” Op. Br. at 37. In so doing, 2424GOTG overlooks the value of the residents’ testimony. After all, many have lived near the Property for decades. Each possesses a detailed and intimate understanding of the area at issue. They know the area’s roads, businesses, traffic chokepoints, wildlife, and past disasters. Indeed, City Council was correct in considering their testimony along with the other evidence presented. Because City Council’s decision is supported by competent evidence, it should be upheld.

4. City Council’s Interpretation Of § 7.5.603.B Was Reasonable And Its Decision Was Based On The Criteria In The Ordinance

Standard of Review and Preservation

City Defendants agree that de novo review applies to City Council’s decision to deny 2424GOTG’s Rezone Request. Because 2424GOTG’s argument made pursuant to Beaver Meadows v. Board of County Comm'rs, was not raised before either the City Council, or the District Court, it has not been preserved and should not be considered. Gold Hill Dev. Co. v. TSG Ski & Golf, LLC, 378 P.3d 816, 825 (Colo. App. 2015) (“Arguments not raised before the trial court may not be raised for the first time on appeal.”).

Argument

“Courts interpret the ordinances of local governments, including zoning ordinances, as they would any other form of legislation. . . . When construing a statute or ordinance, courts must ascertain and give effect to the intent of the legislative body.” City of Colorado Springs v. Securcare Self Storage, Inc., 10 P.3d 1244, 1248 (Colo. 2000) (internal citations and quotations omitted). “If courts can give effect to the ordinary meaning of words used by the legislature, the statute should be construed as written, giving full effect to the words chosen, as it is presumed that the General Assembly meant what it clearly said.” State v. Nieto, 993 P.2d 493, 500 (Colo. 2000). As such, “interpretations by the governmental entity charged with administering a code deserve deference, provided they are consistent with the drafters’ overall intent.” Alpenhof, 297 P.3d at 1055.

2424GOTG’s main argument, before the District Court and now on appeal, is that § 7.5.603.B does not contain an express criterium related to evacuations. Op. Br. At 13.⁴ Because of this, according to 2424GOTG, City Council must ignore the threats that wildfires present to a community’s health and safety. 2424GOTG’s argument overlooks the clear intent of § 7.5.603.B. By its clear language, § 7.5.603.B applies broadly to anything that could reasonably be construed as detrimental to health, safety and welfare, including wildfires. See Kruse, 192 P.3d at 597 (“Municipal ordinances, like statutes, often contain broad terms to allow their applicability to varied circumstances.”).⁵ Indeed, there can hardly be a more obvious safety concern, especially for the Mountain Shadows community, than being trapped in a wildfire. As noted by the District Court, “the ability to evacuate safely in the event of an emergency falls within the criterion that a zoning change not be determinantal to the public interest, health, safety, convenience, or general welfare.” CF, p. 10767.

The threat of additional wildfires is also very real. Since the Waldo Canyon Fire, the City has suffered from the Black Forest Fire, the Bear Creek Fire, and other smaller fires. During a five-week period in 2020, five wildfires broke out within City limits. Id. at 2904:4-5. As Councilmember Avila noted on May 25th, fire season is now year-round. Id. at 9387:11-12. And, according to Fire Chief Royal, there was an active wildfire burning while he was testifying at the August 24th hearing. Id. at 9954:15-16. Because the health and safety criteria in § 7.5.603.B clearly include obvious catastrophic events like wildfires, City Council’s denial of the Rezone Request was both reasonable and consistent with the intent and clear language of § 7.5.603.B. As such, its decision should be upheld.

4.1. City Council did not add criteria to § 7.5.603.B

In arguing that the Project was evaluated using uncodified criteria, 2424GOTG overlooks City Council’s explanations for denying the Rezone Request. On August 24th, President Strand and Councilmembers Skorman and Donelson each stated, on the record, that he was basing his vote on the health and safety criteria stated in § 7.5.603.B. Id. at 10048:12-16; 10054:17-19; and 10057:5-11.

Councilmember Skorman even explicitly stated:

I know it's not the criteria that we're talking about today, In terms of the evacuation planning. That's not a criteria we have in our tool chest. But safety is, the health and safety. . . .And I just can't – I can't support this kind of dense project right now in our WUI for health and safety reasons, not because we don't have an evacuation plan in place.

Id. at 10048-10049. Councilmember Henjum, on May 25th, explained her “no” vote, by discussing City Council’s responsibility to the community. Id. at 9383-9386. She eloquently touched on landowner rights, biker and pedestrian safety, the Hillside Overlay and the unique flora and fauna, like the unique bighorn sheep, that call the WUI home. She concluded her remarks by stating “I feel obliged to make my decision with the guidance of the ordinances and codes...with the respect of the land and all the relationships that I just named, the entirety of the City and the people.” Id. at 9386:10-14. All five Councilmembers who voted against the Project relied on the criteria stated in § 7.5.603.B. And all five are entitled to the presumption that they made their statements and their decisions with honesty and integrity. Whitelaw v. Denver City Council, 405 P.3d 433, 438 (Colo. App. 2017); see also Van Sickle, 797 P.2d at 1272 (“administrative proceedings are accorded a presumption of validity and all reasonable doubts as to the correctness of administrative rulings must be resolved in favor of the agency.”).

4.2. 2424GOTG failed to raise Beaver Meadows below. Further, Beaver Meadows is factually distinct from this case Significantly, in its Opening Brief, 2424GOTG raises for the first time the argument that the City Code must provide guidance on how to develop an evacuation plan. At its core, 2424GOTG’s argument is that without such criteria, the City Code is too vague for a “meaningful review[.]” Op. Br. at 21. Because 2424GOTG failed to raise this argument with City Council, or the District Court, it should not be considered now. “[A]rguments not raised in administrative proceedings are not preserved for appellate review[.]” Abromeit v. Denver Career Serv. Bd., 140 P.3d 44, 53 (Colo. App. 2005) (citing Debalco Enters., Inc. v. Indus. Claim Appeals Office, 32 P.3d 621 (Colo.App.2001)); see also Gold Hill, 378 P.3d at 825.

Even if 2424GOTG had raised the argument below, it would still fail. Beaver Meadows v. Board of County Comm’rs, 709 P.2d 928 (Colo. 1985) is factually different from this case. Underlying the Supreme Court’s decision in Beaver Meadows was the approval of a master plan and a planned unit development (“PUD”). Id. at 929. In Beaver Meadows, the Board of Commissioners approved the master plan, but required the developer to improve the road to the PUD and provide it with emergency services as conditions of approval. Id. at 930-931. The Colorado

Supreme Court held that the County’s written regulations lacked sufficient criteria to objectively determine what improvements satisfied the conditions. Id. at 937-38. That is not the case here. First, unlike Beaver Meadows, City Council did not approve 2424GOTG’s Rezone Request. As the Beaver Meadows Court noted “we express no opinion as to whether the county’s present regulations, when applied to the findings and evidence now in the record, permit the county to deny Beaver Meadows’ application for PUD master plan approval.” Id. at 939. Second and more importantly, at no time here, did City Council require an evacuation plan or deny the application for lack of a plan. Indeed, as 2424GOTG acknowledges, the City, not 2424GOTG, is tasked with managing evacuations. CF, p. 8750; Op. Br. at 16. (“Under the City’s current administrative structure, evacuation planning is a function performed by the City’s trained emergency management professionals....”). Because evacuation planning is the City’s responsibility and because City Council did not require 2424GOTG to develop a plan, 2424GOTG’s argument is without merit.

5. City Council’s Decision Was Supported By Substantial Evidence In The Certified Record

Standard of Review and Preservation

City Defendants agree that de novo review applies to City Council’s decision and that this issue was preserved by 2424GOTG.

Argument

5.1. The Certified Record contains competent evidence that adding close to 1,000 people to a key intersection would increase health and safety risks, especially in the event of a future wildfire

In 2012, the Waldo Canyon Fire wreaked havoc on the Mountain Shadows neighborhood. It consumed homes, took lives, and caused 32,000 people to flee for their safety. CF, pp. 8732; 8747; 8878-8910 (images of the Waldo Canyon Fire). Throughout the application process, residents testified about their experiences navigating gridlocked roads to escape the fire, often sitting for hours just to travel a mile or two. Id. at 9220:7-8; 9240:3-5; 9216:9-12; 9942:3-12. Some residents, such as Carrie Wait, spoke about watching the fire burn alongside her car as she sat in traffic. Id. at 10000:12-17. An individual only identified by his first name, Paul, told the Planning Commission, “I can honestly state that was the most terrifying moment of my life. I thought we were going to burn.” Id. at 2975:22-24.

The Property is in a unique location at the western end of the Garden of the Gods Road Corridor and up against the undeveloped foothills of the Pikes Peak region. Id. at 8786; 8787; 9394:7-9. Indeed, the Intersection provides one of only a few egress routes for the Mountain Shadows neighborhood. Id. at 8732; 8786. The City’s Traffic Engineer made this same observation before the Planning Commission. Id. at 2881:1-3 (“I would agree with you there’s potentially three access points out – out of – out of the area.”). The fact that 2424GOTG sought to add close to 1,000 people to this key intersection raised obvious health and safety concerns for the entire community. Id. at 9304-9305; 9532; 9552; 9694-9705. As Maribeth Netherton, a Mountain Shadows Resident since 1989, testified, “2424 Garden of the Gods Road definitely is a chokepoint for evacuating for Mountain Shadows. If the 420 high density units are approved and constructed and there’s another fire, there will be no escaping.” Id. at 9238:22-23; 9240:16-19. The Property’s unique location was clearly a concern for City Council. After hearing the residents’ testimony on May 25th, Councilmember Donelson noted that the area had seen an increase in population and vehicular traffic since the Waldo Canyon Fire. Id. at 9395:1-6. He voiced his concerns about the residents’ safety when he asked “how many people do we put into a limited egress route and what effect does that have on the residents that live there.” Id. at 9394:22-24. Indeed, as RC Smith, a 38 ½ year fire department veteran, succinctly noted “[w]hen you inject more people into any situation, it makes it more difficult.” Id. at 9945:8-11. Because competent evidence was presented that adding significant population density to a key intersection would be detrimental to the health and safety for the entire community, City Council’s decision should be upheld. See Whitelaw, 405 P.3d at 444 (finding in part that traffic impacts can be a health, safety, and general welfare concern).

5.2. Residents’ evidence shows the Rezone Request was detrimental to the convenience, health, safety, and general welfare of the community in several ways

Wildfires were not the only reasons residents gave for opposing the Rezone Request. Rather, they presented a wealth of evidence on several topics. Reliance on any one of which would be sufficient to uphold City Council’s decision.

5.2.1. Residents presented competent evidence about the area’s traffic problems

The Certified Record shows that City Council was presented with competent evidence that demonstrated the ordinary traffic levels around the Property were already problematic and adding population density and corresponding vehicular traffic would only exacerbate the problem. At both the May 25th and August 24th hearings, residents refuted the traffic studies presented by Project proponents by testifying about their own day-to-day experiences with traffic in the area. CF, pp. 9228:18-23; 9269:3-6; 9993:4-15. As Maribeth Netherton stated, “I disagree with Mr. Frisbie, Mr. Rocha, and Andrea in their assessment of traffic on Garden of the Gods Road. Traffic on Garden of the Gods Road is already extremely heavy, especially during rush hours.” Id. at 9239:2-7. Because there is ample evidence in the record to support a finding that the Rezone Request will add to the already congested roads and thus negatively affect the health, safety, and general welfare of the community. City Council’s decision should be upheld.

5.2.2. Competent evidence was presented to show that the Project would be detrimental to the area's bighorn sheep

Residents presented competent evidence to show that the Project would be detrimental to the bighorn sheep herd in the area. Id. at 9198-9201; 9643-9649. Indeed, Leo Finkelstein testified during the May 25th hearing that he had personally witnessed sheep on the property and that there were multiple photographs on Facebook from other users capturing sheep on the property. Id. at 9266:17-21. The residents also showed that the bighorn sheep used an area about 1,400 feet away from the Property as a lambing ground and that the Project's residents would cause the sheep to abandon the area. Id. at 9201; 9633; 9643-9649; 9666; 9947-9953. The record demonstrates that this evidence may have resonated with City Council. Councilmember Murray noted on May 25th, "To suggest that this population of a thousand people will not impact the sheep herd in the back of it[,] I think[,] is not going to fly Clearly this development should not be put at this location[.]" Id. at 9377:2-13. Councilmembers Donelson, Skorman, and Henjum also referenced concerns over the impact on the bighorn sheep herd in their comments during the May 25th hearing. Id. at 9392:20-24, 9378:7-10, 9385:1-5. Finally, preserving the bighorn sheep's habitat is consistent with the Hillside Overlay and § 7.5.603.B. See City Code § 7.3.504.A.3.g; Id. at 10223 (stating as an objective "[t]o preserve wildlife habitat and wetland areas which provide wildlife migration corridors.");

Section 7.5.603.B (damaging bighorn sheep habitat is contrary to the public interest and general welfare).

5.2.3. Competent evidence was presented to show that the Project violated the Hillside Overlay

The purpose of the Hillside Overlay is to protect the unique natural features of an area and to ensure that development “is compatible with, and complements the natural environment[.]” City Code §7.3.504A.1-2; Id. at 10223. The MSCA’s presentation to City Council contained a visual analysis which indicated that the Project was noncompliant with the Hillside Overlay. Id. at 8736-8737; 9195-9198. The findings of the presentation were echoed by residents testifying to City Council. Id. at 9217:3-11; 9266:2-6; 9972-9974. Again, it is clear City Council considered this evidence. Id. at 9392:20-21; 9403:8-10.

5.2.4. Competent evidence related to bicycle safety and the proximity of the Garden of the Gods was presented to show that the Project was detrimental to the public interest, convenience, and general welfare of the area

In addition to the evidence related to wildfires, traffic, bighorn sheep, and the Hillside Overlay, residents also presented evidence that the Project would negatively affect bicycle safety and detract from the majesty of the nearby Garden of the Gods Park. Id. at 9195:15-18; 9217:3-8; 9229:14-21; 9272-9273; 9591-9619. Indeed, a substantial amount of evidence was presented to show that the Project was detrimental to the health and safety, convenience, and general welfare of the area. City Council's decision should be upheld.

6. City Council Did Not Abuse Its Discretion

Standard of Review and Preservation

City Defendants agree that de novo review applies to City Council's decision. City Defendants agree that 2424GOTG made these arguments to the District Court. However, because 2424GOTG did not raise this issue or the evidence it relied upon with City Council, it is not properly preserved for appellate review. See Abromeit, 140 P.3d at 53 (“[A]rguments not raised in administrative proceedings are not preserved for appellate review”).

Argument

“Acting as quasi-judicial decision-makers, city council members are entitled to a ‘presumption of integrity, honesty, and impartiality.’” Whitelaw, 405 P.3d at 438 (quoting Soon Yee Scott v. City of Englewood, 672 P.2d 225, 227 (Colo.App.1983)). To rebut this presumption the moving party must show a councilmember's conduct created “substantial prejudice.” Id.; see also Mangels v. Pena, 789 F.2d 836, 838 (10th Cir. 1986) (noting that tribunals are presumed to act with honesty and integrity and requiring a “substantial countervailing reason to conclude that a decisionmaker is actually biased with respect to factual issues being adjudicated.”). “An adjudicatory hearing will be held to have been conducted impartially in the absence of a personal, financial, or official stake in the decision evidencing a conflict of interest on the part of a decision-maker.” Soon Yee Scott, 672 P.2d at 227. “[A]dministrative proceedings are accorded a presumption of validity and all reasonable doubts as to the correctness of administrative rulings must be resolved in favor of the agency.” Johnson, 503 p.3d at 922. (quoting Van Sickle, 797 P.2d at 1272.)

6.1. City Councilmembers are entitled to the presumption of impartiality

2424GOTG’s allegations of impropriety revolve around the June 22nd hearing where President Strand, at the beginning of the hearing, disclosed a brief, impromptu, conversation he had with Councilmembers Donelson and Henjum the day before. CF, pp. 9795-9797. President Strand described the conversation and expressed his ability to be fair and impartial. Id. at 9797:20-23. Councilmembers Donelson and Henjum also confirmed the conversation and stated that they could be fair and impartial as well. Id. at 9798:7-9; 22-23. Councilmember Skorman then explained that he had driven by the Property several times to assess the traffic situation since the May 25th hearing. Id. at 9800-9801. Addressing both issues, the City Attorney noted that President Strand had addressed any transparency concerns by disclosing the conversation. Id. at 9800:16-18. With respect to Councilmember Skorman’s site-visits, the City Attorney noted that Council Rule 6.2b instructs Councilmembers to disclose the visit and share their impressions, which, as the District Court noted, is exactly what Councilmember Skorman did. Id. at 9803:11-17; 10771. When 2424GOTG had the opportunity to address the disclosures, it did not accuse any Councilmember of bias or impropriety nor seek recusal from any Councilmember. Instead, its counsel thanked City Council stating, “following the rules and trying to really honor them is difficult. And I know that’s what you’re trying to do . . . [A]s an Applicant, it’s important to you that you know what information is being said to the decision-makers, to you, so you can adequately address it if it’s an issue. So we appreciate that.” Id. at 9836-9837. Because 2424GOTG chose not to raise its concerns of bias with City Council, it cannot do so here. Abromeit, 140 P.3d at 53.

Far from showing bias, City Councilmember Strand’s, Skorman’s, Donelson’s, and Henjum’s willingness to disclose their discussions and travels supports the presumption that they acted with honesty, integrity, and impartiality. See Whitelaw, 405 P.3d at 438. Furthermore, none of these disclosures show that any Councilmember had a personal, financial, or official stake in the Rezone Request. Soon Yee Scott, 672 P.2d at 227. As such, the record does not suggest that 2424GOTG was substantially prejudiced by either the brief conversation, which was disclosed the next day, or by Councilmember Skorman’s site-visits, which were not violations of any rule.

6.1.1. 2424GOTG cannot rely on evidence or allegations that were not presented to City Council

Maybe because there is neither a shred of evidence nor a single allegation in the Certified Record of bias, 2424GOTG impermissibly attempts to rely on evidence outside of the Certified Record to support its allegations. Op. Br. 24-26; See Exhibits 5-9; CF, pp. 10698-10705. Specifically, 2424GOTG points to two alleged emails between President Strand and constituents, and to an alleged post from Councilmember Donelson’s Facebook page. Op. Br. 24-26; See Exhibits 6-8; CF, pp. 10699-10704. Though 2424GOTG could have presented these exhibits to City Council at either the June 22nd hearing or the August 24th hearing, it chose not to do so. Because this Court’s review of City Council’s decision shall be, “based on the evidence in the record before the defendant body or officer[,]” these items cannot be considered. C.R.C.P. 106(a)(4)(I).⁶

6.2. City Council did not act improperly by hearing evidence related to safety at the August 24th hearing

2424GOTG has no basis to claim that the City Council abused its discretion by allowing the public to comment on issues related to safety prior to voting on August 24th.⁷ Op Br. 26-27. To the contrary, President Strand was well within his authority to allow public comments. CF, p. 9931:18-21. The record also demonstrates that President Strand carefully considered this decision and allowed equal time to 2424GOTG to rebut the residents' arguments. Id. at 9936:14-20; 9938-9939. 2424GOTG certainly did not object to the decision during the hearing. In fact, it raised the issue of evacuations first. See Id. at 9923:5-9 (“I want to talk for just a minute about evacuation concerns because that seems to be the main concern.”).⁸ 2424GOTG was also the last party to address the issue. In its rebuttal, and contrary to its argument here, 2424GOTG applauded President Strand's decision to allow the residents to comment. “I think it is good to have the neighbors have the opportunity to speak their mind. I mean, we have been through two horrendous fires in the relative recent history.” Id. at 10020:20-24. Finally, as the District Court noted, 2424GOTG has failed to point to any case law or evidence that would suggest President Strand exceeded his authority or abused his discretion by allowing all sides an equal opportunity to make additional comments. Id. at 10774. Accordingly, City Council’s decision should be upheld.

CONCLUSION

Because the Certified Record clearly demonstrates that City Council denied the Rezone Request based on the criteria stated in §7.5.603.B and the evidence presented, and because there is no evidence in the Certified Record that shows that 2424GOTG was substantially prejudiced by any act of any Councilmember, 2424GOTG has not met its burden to show that City Council acted arbitrarily or capriciously. As such, City Council’s decision should be upheld.

RE: Complaint concerning CPW dated July 21, 2021

Dear Mr. Wysong:

This letter addresses your recent complaint submitted to the Colorado Attorney General regarding Colorado Parks and Wildlife (CPW). I understand that you disagree with the comments submitted by CPW to the City of Colorado Springs Land Use Review Division concerning a zoning change for a proposed residential development. That letter was submitted in response to a request made by the city for CPW's feedback regarding the proposed development's impact on bighorn sheep. The comments expressed in the letter represent the views of CPW staff familiar with the development plans and the Rampart Range Bighorn Sheep herd.

The authority to make zoning decisions, such as the one described in your complaint, is reserved for local governments pursuant to section 29-20-104, C.R.S. CPW's only involvement in that process was to provide comments to the city. The weight given those comments and the ultimate zoning decision are within the jurisdiction of the City of Colorado Springs, rather than CPW or the State. Accordingly, I recommend you raise any concerns regarding this matter with the proper local jurisdiction.

Thank you for your interest in this matter.

Sincerely,
Amy W. Beatie

How to Use Manual

This manual applies to lands within the hillside areas of the City of Colorado Springs that are characterized by significant natural features that include ridgelines, bluffs, rock outcroppings, vegetation, natural drainageways, wildlife habitat, geologic conditions, and slopes that contribute to the attractiveness of the community. The City has identified these areas and placed them within the HS -Hillside Overlay Zone. The Official City Zoning Map designates the specific properties which are included within the Overlay Zone. The HS overlay may be used in conjunction with any zone district in the City.

The provisions of this manual shall apply to any and all of the following activities:

- Any lands in which new or enlarged building activity will occur;
- Any lands in which vegetation will be removed; and
- Any lands in which grading or any disturbance will occur.

This Manual is intended to be a valuable reference, providing all of the instructions and information necessary to allow developers, contractors, homeowners and other interested persons to develop and maintain hillside properties in an environmentally sensitive fashion. This Manual incorporates code standards and requirements with recommended guidelines; it contains the Hillside Area Overlay Zone, as approved and found within the City's Zoning Code. (Refer to Appendix A.)

Generally, the following presents a quick guide for the user to understand the questions that should be answered to comply with the City's development process for the hillside areas:

HILLSIDE DEVELOPMENT OVERVIEW

- 1. What are the City's hillside design objectives?
- 2. What is the review process ?
- 3. What is required to be submitted?
- 4. How can a plan be developed?
- 5. How can City standards and guidelines be met?

The answers can easily be found in this Manual. This Manual is intended to be "user friendly" and comprehensive. If you have suggestions or comments we would be interested in hearing from you; please contact the City Zoning Administration Office, 101 West Costilla Street; Suite 212, Colorado Springs, Colorado 80903 or telephone (719) 578-6919.

Introduction

The City has recognized that areas which are characterized by ridgelines, bluffs, view corridors, foothills, mountain backdrop, excessive slope, unique vegetation, natural drainage, rock outcroppings, geologic conditions, wildlife habitats, and other physical factors, are significant natural features worthy of preservation. Performance standards for hillside development have been developed and are incorporated into the Zoning Code as an overlay zone, referred to as the "Hillside Area Overlay". This manual is intended to serve as the design guidelines for the development of hillside areas.

The Manual provides all of the instructions and information necessary to allow developers, contractors, homeowners and other interested persons to effectively, sensitively and conscientiously develop hillside properties. The Manual incorporates code requirements with recommended design standards and guidelines. The user of the Manual will hopefully find it useful in understanding the City's objectives for regulating hillside development.

The user will find particularly helpful information regarding hillside design issues that the City is most interested in promoting. Specifically, the Manual will show:

- * How to minimize the disturbance to the terrain;
- * How to preserve and incorporate nature features and vegetation into site design;
- * How to mitigate and enhance visual impacts and opportunities;
- * How vehicular access and utilities placement must be considered to minimize destruction to hillside characteristics;
- * How to use supplement landscaping to enhance hillside property;
- * How to use architectural features to conform to hillside characteristics; and
- * How to enhance streetscape appearance.

Hillside development on privately owned property is inevitable; how the hillside will be developed is a matter of communitywide concern. If development occurs in accordance with this Manual, it will be done in a manner sensitive to the natural functions of the land and preserve and protect one of the City of Colorado Springs most significant attributes -- its mountain gateway into the Rockies.

Intent/Purpose

The purpose of the Manual is to provide all of the instructions and information necessary to allow developers, contractors, homeowners and other interested persons to effectively and conscientiously develop hillside properties. The Manual incorporates code requirements with recommended guidelines. The user of the Manual will hopefully find it useful to understand the City's objectives for regulating hillside development.

The City of Colorado Springs desires to have development that occurs within the hillside areas adhere to specified review procedures, performance standards, and design guidelines which implement the following design objectives:

- 1.) To enhance the quality of life of existing and future residents by the preservation and protection of the City's most significant natural feature.
- 2.) To contribute to the natural hillside character of the existing neighborhoods and developments in the area by limiting the alteration to topography and natural drainageways.
- 3.) To preserve and protect the unique and special natural features and aesthetic qualities of the hillside areas.
- 4.) To ensure that new development is sensitive to the existing natural setting and that the protection design minimizes the removal of significant vegetation and natural features to the greatest extent possible.
- 5.) To preserve and protect wildlife habitat.
- 6.) To integrate natural features into project design.
- 7.) To respect the existing views to the mountains and foothills, and privacy of the adjacent homes.
- 8.) To avoid geologic conditions which may pose a threat to property and life.
- 9.) To encourage the use of innovative design techniques and solutions which minimize disturbance and protect sensitive areas.
- 10.) To recognize community concerns related to development and its impact upon visually significant hillsides, ridgelines, bluffs, and landforms.

City Comprehensive Plan Conformity

This Manual endeavors to implement numerous goals, objectives, policies, and recommendations of the City of Colorado Springs Comprehensive Plan, including, but not limited to the following:

- Goal 5.1:
- Policy 5.1.4:
- Recommendation 5.1.R4: (F) & (L)

- Goal 9.2:
- Policy 9.2.1:
- Recommendation 9.2.R2:

- Goal 9.4:
- Policy 9.4.3:

- Goal 9.5:
- Policy 9.5.3:
- Recommendation 9.5.R.1:

- Goal 16.1:
- Policy 16.1.1:
- Recommendation 16.1.R2:
- Recommendation 16.1.R6:

- Goal 16.4:
- Policy 16.4.1:
- Policy 16.4.2:

Please refer Appendix K for the specific language on each of the noted Goals, Objectives, and Recommendations of the Comprehensive Plan.

Ian L. McHarg, teacher, landscape architect and planner, writes in his book, Design with Nature, "When developments are built upon beautiful, dramatic or rich sites; their excellence often results from the preservation and enhancement of the natural features, rather than the obliteration of them."

Hillside Development Plan (HS/DP) Review Process

Prior to obtaining a building permit for a HS zoned lot, both a subdivision plat and HS development plan must be approved by the City. The development plan is the document which establishes the project design parameters while the subdivision plat formalizes the lot layout pattern, and street and drainage designs.

Applications for development plans are processed by the City's Development Services & Comprehensive Planning Division . Additional information regarding the HS development plan requirements , review procedures and appeal process is set forth in Appendix A. HS Site/Grading Plans submitted in conjunction with the building permit review process must act to implement the design parameters established with the approved development plan.

Hillside Site Lot Grading Plan (HSS/LGP) Review Process

OVERVIEW

This section provides persons who are contemplating constructing a new house or building an addition onto an existing home, the information necessary to allow them to be able to successfully submit and receive City approval of Hillside Site / Lot Grading Plans (HSS/LGP). The section includes:

- Design review criteria
 - Required plan contents and information
 - Review process procedures
 - Post construction follow-up procedure

CRITERIA

By ordinance, construction activity, including grading or removal of vegetation, shall occur on lots or parcels subject to the Hillside Overlay Zone until a Hillside Site Plan/Lot Grading Plan has been approved by the Development Services Division. Hillside Site Plan/Lot Grading Plans will be evaluated for consistency with the underlying zoning district development standards, approved development plan standards, and in accordance with the following site design hillside overlay zone review criteria:

- Have the development standards of the zone or Development Plan (i.e., setbacks, maximum height, lot coverage, drive grades, access points etc.) been met?
- Is terrain disturbance minimized?
- Have cuts and fills been minimized?
- Has the natural land form been retained?
- Have visually compatible stabilization measures been used for cut & fill slopes?
- Have natural features such as slopes & rock formations been incorporated into the site design?
- Is natural vegetation preserved and incorporated into the project design?
- Has emphasis been placed upon preserving Scrub Oak and pines within the front yard area as this has a major impact upon the appearance of the streetscape and the character of the neighborhood?

- Has emphasis been placed upon preserving healthy and significant stands of Scrub Oak and pine trees?
 - Have visual impacts upon off-site areas been avoided or reasonably mitigated?
 - Has the structure been sited so that there is a mountain or hillside backdrop?
 - Has the structure been sited off from the ridgeline?
 - Has existing vegetation been preserved to soften the structural mass of buildings located in highly visible areas?
 - Has supplementary native landscaping been used to soften structural mass of highly visible building sites?

APPLICATION CONTENTS AND REQUIRED INFORMATION

Hillside Site / Lot Grading Plan Applications consist of the following two components:

- A Hillside Site / Lot Grading Plan
- A Hillside Building Elevation Drawing

HILLSIDE SITE / LOT GRADING PLAN. A Hillside Site / Lot Grading Plan is required for all persons desiring to construct, modify, grade, remove vegetation, and/or disturb properties located within the Hillside areas. Appendix C set forth all the information required to be illustrated on a Hillside Site / Lot Grading Plan.

HILLSIDE BUILDING ELEVATION DRAWING. A Hillside Building Elevation Drawing is required for all persons desiring to construct and modify structures located within the Hillside areas. A checklist for a Hillside Building Elevation Drawing with all required information is included as part of the Hillside Site / Lot Grading Plan Submittal Checklist. (See Appendix C.)

REVIEW PROCESS PROCEDURES

- Preapplication Conference: (Optional) Prior to planning and designing a project, the applicant should review the Hillside Development Design Manual and the Hillside Overlay Zone District section of the City Zoning Code, which establish the requirements and guidelines for acceptable hillside development. It is strongly suggested that the applicant contact and/or make an appointment with the City Zoning Administration staff to discuss the project. At that time the nature of the project should be described. Site visits may be appropriate during this stage. The City staff will clarify review procedures, design guidelines, and submittal requirements. Critical specific issues applicable to the project can be identified and preliminary consensus reached.

- Preliminary Design Review: (Optional - Preliminary review is an informal process enabling the applicant to receive written input from City staff on the basic concept of the development proposal.) This step is optional but is recommended for projects requiring extensive grading, or the removal or alteration of significant vegetation and natural features. Preliminary review allows the applicant to meet with the City staff to discuss basic intentions and plans prior to undertaking detailed design. At this step, site analysis and design, location of structures, grading, basic form of buildings, vegetation and significant feature protection and removal are important. Building elevations and other information may be discussed but kept in a preliminary form. Sites visits may again be appropriate during this stage.
- Formal Hillside Site / Lot Grade Plan Application: (Required) A complete Hillside Site / Lot Grading Plan with a Hillside Site / Lot Grading Plan Submittal Checklist must be filed with the City Zoning Administration Office. A Hillside Site / Lot Grading Plan is required for all persons desiring to construct, modify, grade, remove vegetation, and/or disturb properties located within the Hillside areas. A Hillside Building Elevation Drawing is required for all persons desiring to construct and modify structures located within the Hillside areas. Plans and Drawings may accompany and be included with architectural drawings submitted to the Regional Building Department in pursuit of a building permit. See Appendix C. for a copy of the HSS/LGP Checklist and content requirements.
- Staff Review and Evaluation: (Required) Upon receipt of a Hillside Site / Lot Grading Plan and Submittal Checklist, City Zoning Staff will review the plan for compliance with content requirements, design guidelines, and hillside standards. During their review City Zoning staff will visit the site, and review the plan for compliance with following evaluation standards:
 - Underlying Zoning District Standards.
 - minimum lot area
 - minimum front, side, and rear yard setbacks
 - maximum lot coverage
 - Development Plan Standards.
 - building lots and envelopes
 - vehicular access
 - location of utility lines
 - retention of significant vegetation
 - specified hillside building height
 - location of preservation areas
 - geologic hazard avoidance and mitigation
 - Hillside Overlay Zone Standards and Design Standards
 - minimize terrain disturbance
 - preservation and incorporation of natural vegetation
 - mitigation of off-site visual impacts
 - maximum building height

- access and utilities
 - architectural features
 - construction practices
 - revegetation
 - wildlife habitat preservation
 - streetscape appearance
- Final Hillside Site / Lot Grading Plan Decision. (Required) Upon completion of their review City staff shall do one of the following: approve the plan, as submitted; approve the plan, subject to conditions; or deny the plan. All approved plans will be stamped and dated. Any conditions of approval will be clearly noted.
- Hillside Site / Lot Grading Plan Amendments, Revisions & Modifications (Optional) An amendment, revision, and modification to a plan is considered a new application and must proceed according to the procedures as if it were a new application. Amendments should be clearly identified upon the plan either by highlighting, outlining the amended area, or providing text describing it.
- Appeals (Optional) Any administrative action or decision of City Staff under the provision of the Hillside Overlay Zone District or this Manual may be appealed to the City Hearing Officer in accordance with City Code Section 14.1-4-204.B.5.b.

CONSTRUCTION FOLLOW-UP

- Inspections. The City Zoning Administration Office will follow-up and conduct inspections to determine compliance with the approved Plans and the provisions of the Hillside Overlay Zone District and other City Code provisions. Most sites will be visited twice after construction commences.

- The initial inspection will be scheduled to occur shortly after the site has been cleared, foundation constructed, and while the framing is in process. The propose of the initial inspection will be to determine compliance and to prescribe mitigation or remedial actions which can be taken, at an early stage, to correct necessary violations. A fuels management inspection will occur at the same time. Required corrective actions will be forwarded to the applicant and full compliance is expected by final inspection.

The final inspection will be scheduled to occur shortly after construction has been completed. The propose of the final inspection will be to evaluate the overall site and building design in relation to its impact upon the site, the streetscape, and surrounding area. Determination of compliance and the prescription of additional mitigation actions may be necessary. A final fuels management inspection will also occur at this time.

- Evaluation Letter. The City Zoning Administration Office will provide an evaluation letter to all applicants of hillside development. The letter will address plan and code provision compliance, provide the City staff's evaluation regarding the site and building's design, and City staff's opinions regarding its impact upon the hillside and surrounding area. A sample evaluation letter can be found in Appendix G.

- Enforcement. The City Zoning Administration Office is authorized to pursue enforcement actions including, but not limited to, the issuance of a Notice and Order for violations of the approved Hillside Site / Lot Grading Plan and/or the provisions of the Hillside Overlay Zone District, in accordance with the procedures set forth in Section 14.1-4-1101 through 14.1-4-1110 of the City Code.

Hillside Site Lot Grading Plan Design Primer

OVERVIEW

The purpose of this section is to provide the user with a "how to guide" to the development of a Hillside Site / Lot Grading Plan (HSS/LGP) which will meet the City's standards and design guidelines. The section is not intended to prescribe the only method in which a HSS/LGP plan can be developed, but outlines the important steps and issues which should be considered.

HOW TO PREPARE A HILLSIDE SITE / LOT GRADING PLAN

INVENTORY SITE FEATURES

ANALYZE SITE ISSUES

EVALUATE CONCEPT ALTERNATIVES

CHOOSE FINAL DESIGN

MEET CITY OBJECTIVES

SITE INVENTORY

Inventory the natural and physical conditions of the site. Determine the suitability of the site for the project. It is not necessary to study each of the conditions in detail. Rather, the applicant should understand which conditions the project's success depends upon. A Site Inventory Feature Checklist is included in Appendix E. for your use and information.

- Natural Features

Does existing natural features provide opportunities or constraints to development? The existing natural features should be inventoried, in narrative and perhaps map formats. A complete overview of the natural features which may be impacted by the development should be reviewed. The natural feature's functions, possible hazards, unique significance, and their specific characteristics should be understood and respected.

- Identification Of Geologic Hazards

An important aspect of selecting the right lot for a home, or selecting the appropriate location to site a structure, is the knowledge of the possible existence of geologic hazards.

STEPS TO BUILDING SUCCESSFULLY IN GEOLOGICAL HAZARDOUS AREAS

- Review the Geologic Hazard Study commissioned by the developer. This should be done prior to the purchase of the lot if possible but certainly prior to determining where the structure will be located and how the lot will be graded.

- Have a soils test performed; site the structure in the area with the best soil and the least amount of geologic hazards.
- Have a foundation engineered which is designed to withstand the soil and geologic conditions existing on the site.
- Make sure the foundation is constructed in accordance with the requirements of the soils report and the engineered design.
- Insure that the foundation is well drained and that there is positive drainage away from the foundation.
- Incorporate low-water/xeri-scape plant materials into the landscaped design: especially near your foundation.

Colorado Springs contains a variety of geologic hazards, including , but not limited to, the following:

- Expansive soils and rock
- Unstable or potentially unstable slopes
- Landslide or potential landslide areas
- Debris Flows
- Rockfall
- Subsidence
- Shallow Water Tables
- Springs
- Flood prone areas
- Collapsing soils
- Faults

Knowledge of whether any of these geologic hazards are present on a property is an important factor in determining: how, where and even if a project will be built. Most developers commission Geologic Hazard Studies prior to designing their subdivisions and selling lots. It is suggested that these studies be reviewed prior to the purchase of the lot or at the very least, prior to the selection of the building location and design of the Site/Grading Plan. If no Geologic Hazard Study exists for the development under consideration, a geotechnical engineering firm should be hired to perform a site reconnaissance and geologic hazard review.

A soils test will be required to be performed prior to the issuance of a building permit. The foundation must be designed, by a registered civil engineer, to withstand the geologic forces anticipated to be exerted by the specific soil condition. In order to be sure that the structure is being placed in a location which has an acceptable level of geologic hazard risk, and the best soil conditions, it is recommended that a soils test be performed prior to the final design of the HS Site/Grading Plan. This approach will not only provide the comfort of knowing the structure has been built in the safest location on the lot (in terms of exposure to geologic hazards) it will also save money. Many geologic constraints can be overcome through special foundation designs or engineering techniques, but these can significantly increase the cost of your structures.

If a driveway needs to be graded vegetation removed in order to get a soils rig onto a lot, please contact the Zoning Office (578-6919) and we will review and pre-approve the preliminary grading and vegetation removal prior to submittal of a final Site/Grading Plan. However, under no circumstances should driveways be rough graded or Scrub Oak or pine trees be removed from the your lot prior to coordination with the Zoning Office even for the purpose of providing access for soils testing equipment.

- Facilities and Services

Are adequate facilities and services available to serve the site and development? Consider where the utility service lines will be connected into the public system and how these lines will be brought to the new homesite, in terms of the grading required and the impact upon the existing vegetation. Whenever possible, driveways and utility services lines should share the same cut. Assess the impact that wastewater service lines may have for downsloping lots where sewage must either be pumped up hill or through downhill adjoining lots.

- Access

How will vehicles access the site? Driveways must meet City and fire protection design standards for size, location, surface, grade, and access points. Can access be provided to the house site with minimal impacts to other site features? In general, the driveway should follow the natural grade of the lot to the extent possible. The City encourages access to utilities and to the street be included in the same general vicinity. Two cuts, one for driveways and the other for utilities, through hillside vegetation and topography is not an acceptable practice.

- Land Use

Is the proposed development compatible and consistent with the character of the area and neighborhood? For the most part, land use for a parcel in the Hillside zone is determined during the zoning classification and development plan review processes.

SITE EVALUATION AND ANALYSIS

Once the development program and site features have been inventoried the feasibility of developing and constructing on a specific lot or site can be analyzed and evaluated. As addressed previously, many natural and physical conditions could affect the success of the project. While all the factors have been inventoried, only a few will present constraints and opportunities to be mitigated or enhanced.

"The process of inventory and analysis will suggest whether or not the site is suitable for the intended project, which area hold up best and which areas are most vulnerable..."

"Landscape and Site Improvements Design Guidelines"

Prepared for:
The Water Resources Department
City of Colorado Springs

First, determine whether a site feature is a constraint, an opportunity, both, or is of no consequence to the project. Next, evaluate the constraint to determine whether it can be mitigated or the opportunity enhanced. Does the mitigation or enhancement of one feature cause additional problems or added value to other features? Does the action render the project still feasible or present overwhelming economic ramifications?

- Constraints

Features that are constraints are those which restrict or limit the development potential of the property. Constraints should be analyzed to determine whether they can be minimized, mitigated, or altered to a degree which would allow development to occur. If the constraint can not be overcome or would be too costly to mitigate, then the project is not feasible and additional resources of time, energy, and money should not be consumed. If the constraint can be overcome or mitigated without too great of expense, then the project planning should continue. For example, if the potential site has shallow underlying depth to groundwater or free flowing springs, which could not be controlled without extensive collection systems and/or great costs, then the project is probably not feasible.

- Mitigations

Constraints that can be overcome by making them less severe or intense are said to be mitigated. Mitigative actions may include eliminating the constraint, utilizing design alternatives or engineered solutions which neutralize the constraint. Mitigation actions need to be evaluated to determine whether a positive cost benefit relation exists.

- Opportunities

Opportunities are site features which provide favorable circumstances not enjoyed by other sites. Opportunities should be analyzed to determine whether they can be enhanced and used to benefit the project. Projects which utilize opportunities will certainly meet City Hillside objectives and add value to the property. For an example, the placement of a structure to preserve a stand of mature trees will enhance the natural setting of the site and maintain its hillside character. Maximizing solar gain by orientating a structure to face south is an opportunity.

- Enhancements

By incorporating natural features and adding supplemental native landscaping into a site design, the site can be enhanced. For example, the use of natural materials and earth tone colors on hillside structures is considered an enhancement.

CONCEPTUAL ALTERNATIVES

It is essential to evaluate and study several alternative site layout concepts. Alternative layouts can be generated inexpensively and need not be carefully drawn or detailed in the initial preliminary design process. It is enough, at first, to draft only the essentials of a scheme in a simple form. If one scheme lends itself to comparison to another, it can be developed yet as another scheme and so on and so forth. Alternatives should always be reviewed prior to committing to a final plan. If a preconceived design exists, the evaluation can be used to test, verify, or modify the concepts. In general, initial concepts seldom work the best, but rather the third or fourth scenario combines the best of each and will eliminate the problems.

STRATEGIES FOR DEVELOPING ALTERNATIVE PLANS

DO NOT ASSUME THERE IS ONLY ONE WAY TO MAKE A PROJECT WORK DO NOT BE SATISFIED WITH THE FIRST ATTEMPT
QUESTION EVERY ACTION AND REACTION
A LOT OF IDEAS CREATE BETTER SOLUTIONS
LOOK FOR THE SECOND RIGHT ANSWER
ASK "WHAT IF" QUESTIONS CHALLENGE THE RULES

- Evaluate

As previously discussed, every site has both opportunities and constraints; it is now helpful to map and illustrate them. Once the previous inventory information has been collected and the alternative design schemes drafted, this information must be organized to permit an easy evaluation of the best development solution. The evaluation should answer the questions, objectives, and requirements addressed in the already written development program.

1. The preferred development concept will emerge and synthesis reached as the developer weighs and evaluates the alternative concepts and answers the following questions:
2. Which plan best satisfies the development program's objective and requirements?
3. Which plan best fits the site?
4. Which plan best satisfies the City requirements and guidelines?
5. Which plan can be implemented with what degree of effort?
6. Which plan provides reasonable cost benefits?

- Synthesis

The result of the evaluation produces a summary site analysis which illustrates the interrelationships of a site's spatial, natural and physical conditions with the objectives and requirements of the development program. The analysis should identify the portion of the parcel most suited to development as well as areas to be left undisturbed. Areas in need of more detailed evaluation also should be identified.

- Selection

At this point the right scheme for development for the site should be obviously clear. Now a preliminary HSS/LGP plan can be prepared. This plan incorporates all of the factors previously discussed with the additional information required by the City and other agencies. The plan represents the final draft prior to the preparing of the final plan. Often, it will include architectural renderings and profiles.

The homebuilder will now have a reasonably precise understanding of the project. Once a confidence level has been reached that the preliminary plan will fulfill the development objective for the site, then the detailed final plan with engineering studies and construction drawings can be prepared.

HINTS FOR HILLSIDE SITE / LOT GRADING PLAN SUCCESSFUL APPROVALS.....

1. If you have a difficult site, call the Zoning Office for a pre application conference and site visit. Working out tough solutions together is a good policy.
2. Submit a complete application. A complete application includes:
 - A HSS / LGP plan with all of the required information.
 - A Hillside Building Elevation Drawing.
 - A HSS / LGP plan Submittal Checklist, signed and certified.
3. Always meet or exceed City requirements or guidelines.
- 4.. Use this Manual, it is intended to make your job easier.
5. When in doubt ask the question or request an explanation.
6. And finally, DESIGN your project to maintain the Hillside character of the site by:
 - Minimize the disturbance to the terrain, avoiding no cuts or fills unless they are necessary.
 - Preserve and incorporate nature features and vegetation, save significant mature trees, rock formations, and stands of vegetation, particularly in the front yard.
 - Mitigate visual impacts, by keeping structures below ridgelines, stepping structures with the slope, and minimizing the height of structures.
 - Place utilities and driveways in the same cut.
 - Add supplemental natural landscaping to compensate for vegetation losses.

- Design the building to fit the site, rather than modifying the site to fit the building.
- Use architectural features to conform to hillside characteristics, use natural materials, earth tone colors, and broken roof and wall components.
- Enhance the streetscape appearance by saving front yard vegetation, staggering setbacks, and use minimal sized driveways that take up grade.
- Avoid slopes of 25% or greater.
- Identify and mitigate geologic and other hazards.
- Use retaining walls as only the last resort, they should not be built to create flat lawns.
- Take care during construction to minimize the destruction of natural features.
- Control excess drainage, soil erosion and sedimentation during and after construction.

INSTRUCTIONS: HOW TO CALCULATE HILLSIDE HEIGHT FOR SINGLE-FAMILY HOMES

The following is a step by step procedure for calculating the height of structures in the Hillside Area Overlay Zone, based upon the proposed method and standard:

- 1. On the site plan, building grade and finished grade contours shall be shown.
 2. Accuracy of the contour information is essential. The plan scale should be a minimum of 1 inch is equal to 20 feet and the contour interval not less than two feet. It is encouraged that the site plan be drawn to meet "National Map Accuracy Standards". The City's FIMS mapping system information may be a reliable source of building grade contour information. If the site has been disturbed through the construction of streets or utility installation the disturbed contours will need to be re-surveyed.
- 1. On the site plan locate and determine both a site permanent benchmark and a proposed structure's benchmark with elevations identified and recorded.
 2. The structure's benchmark should also be shown the building elevation drawing. Two benchmarks shall be identified at the actual site for verification by zoning personnel. Site benchmarks should be a permanent monument such as a chiseled curb spot, top of fire hydrant or other fixed fixture. A structure's benchmark should be located to be above the proposed finished grade and easily identified such as top of slab on the garage floor, chiseled foundation spot, or other visible point.
- 1. On the site plan locate and determine the major corners of the proposed structure.
 2. Major corners are the points where the structure's walls change directions for distances of eight (8) feet or more; including attached garages and additions, but not including decks, patios, bay windows, chimneys, or similar projections.
- 1. On the site plan at the major corners record the elevation where the structure intersects the building grade.
 2. Remember "building grade" is simply the topography and elevation of the lot immediately prior to your proposed construction. It may have been previously graded in accordance with a City approved grading plan or may still be in its natural condition.
- 1. On the building elevation drawing, draw front, rear, right, and left side profiles of the structure. The preferred drawing scale should be 1/4 inch is equal to one foot.

2. Building elevation drawings are required as part of the building permit plan application. Your architect will provide these.
1. On the building elevation drawing, indicate the building grade at each of the major corners and connect with a line.
2. From the site plan transfer, mark, and illustrate the building line where the structure intersects the building grade surface on the building elevation drawings.
1. On the building elevation drawing, from the major corners, measure vertically to the maximum height specified on the approved Development Plan, or to 35' for a sloped roof or 30' for a flat roof, which ever is less. Connect these points for each side profile with a straight line.
2. The horizontal lines represents the maximum hillside building height
1. On the building elevation drawing, if all portions of the roof fall below the horizontal lines, the structure is in compliance with the height standard. If any portion of the roof exceeds the horizontal lines, the structure is not in compliance.

Design Guidelines

OVERVIEW:

LIVING AND BUILDING HOMES IN THE HILLSIDES

So you decided to build a home in the City's hillside areas. You probably made this decision based on a lot of factors. The hills are where you can actually feel like you have moved to the Colorado mountains. There are trees and nature and views that can mellow even the most stressful of workdays. This is where the City meets the forest.

There is a cost to hillside living, however. Beyond the price of the real estate homeowners must contend with a delicate ecosystem, slippery steep hills in the winter, wind conditions and wildlife. Because the foothills are such a special area, there are a set of rules that apply to everyone who chooses to live there. Whether building a new home or you are in a house that has been around for 20 years, there are strictly enforced guidelines that regulate how you may treat your lot. These requirements are covered in the following pages.

BEFORE YOU BUILD... The question of how to build in the hillsides should be addressed by starting miles from your proposed home site. Looking toward the mountains it is easy to see how the ecotones change as you head up the sides of the foothills. Prairie gives way to Scrub Oak and this in turn is replaced by Ponderosas, Cedars and other trees. It is not a smooth ascendance, rather hills top out in ridgelines and small peaks reach toward higher ones. Around here, all is ultimately capped by the grandeur of our most famous landmark, Pikes Peak. There is, however, an important factor to keep in mind, when placing a dwelling to maximize these views. When a house is sited for a breathtaking view, perhaps high on a hilltop or ridgeline, the folks down below have a breathtaking view of your house. With such prime real estate comes some important responsibilities.

Homes in prominent locations must be sited and designed with the following in mind:

- Homes need to be setback a far enough distance from cliffs or hilltops so that the structure does not appear to be perched on the edge.
- A mountain or other landform should act as the backdrop to the home. This is highly preferable to having the building project into a blue sky background like the parapet along the top of a castle. If the house does break the plane of the natural backdrop, it should be designed to mimic the natural lines of the hillsides.
- Existing and new vegetation should be placed to soften the mass of the home from off site. An effective vegetative cover will veil most of the lower level of the house.
- Dark or earthtone colors should be used to make the home less conspicuous as seen from off site. White and other light colors should be avoided.

- Outside lighting should be muted and directed so that it does not spill over on to neighboring properties.
- Dwellings should be placed far enough apart to reveal views of the Front Range and other significant ridgelines from the street and from the houses downhill.
- Dwellings sited to maximize views at the expense of vegetation will be denied.

As you approach the site, the potential house location should be viewed from a number of perspectives. Before placing a house on a lot there are many questions to be asked. Are the soil types suitable for drainage and have you addressed any geotechnical hazards? Is the slope appropriate for the style of the house and will it allow you to take advantage of the solar orientation while minimizing the impacts of the wind. Is the house set high enough to drain into the sewer system, yet low enough to allow you to make it up the driveway on a wintry day? Although these are all very important considerations, many are secondary to the need to save the natural features of the site and incorporate them into the site design.

The right to live in the City's hillside areas goes hand in hand with the responsibility to build in an environmentally sensitive manner. If the street you have chosen had a woody feel when you selected the site, it is your obligation to see that this feel still exists when you are finished. The house will need to appear as if it was designed for the site when viewed from all sides, but particularly so from the street. This goal can be accomplished by incorporating the following:

- The driveway should not be the predominant feature of the front yard. Paved and structural areas must be softened by preserving the pre-existing vegetation.
- Setbacks should be staggered to avoid a canyon effect.
- Shared driveways are encouraged, when appropriate.
- Cuts and fills are to be minimized and vegetation is to be preserved.

BUILDING MULTI-FAMILY, OFFICE, INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL PROJECTS IN THE HILLSIDES

Single-Family homes are not the only projects built in the HillSides. Multi-family, commercial, office and industrial projects can also be appropriate if care is taken in the design of these projects to insure that important hillside characteristics are maintained.

The following is a list of design standards and guidelines which should be addressed in siting multi-family, commercial, office or industrial projects within Hillside Areas:

- Multi-family buildings should be designed in such a manner to provide the greatest degree of privacy possible for the individual structures as well as to adjacent properties.
- Buildings placed upon downslope lots should be sufficiently screened by vegetation to avoid degrading views from off-site.
- Existing vegetation, especially mature trees and groves of Scrub Oak should be integrated into the project design.
- For building sites in proximity to ridgelines, additional height restrictions may be necessary to insure that rooflines will be located below the natural ridgeline.
- Large expanses of flat areas for parking that require cuts, fills or the removal of existing significant vegetation or natural landforms should be avoided.
- Buildings should be sited with different floor elevations to achieve height variation.
- At site perimeters with high off-site visibility, buildings should be sited with a staggered arrangement and screened with mature vegetation to minimize the "wall effect".
- For multi-family projects, stagger alignments of buildings both horizontally and vertically to create unit identity, privacy at entry and private outdoor space, and to share common open space.
- Building sites should be selected so that construction occurs below the ridgeline.
- The roofline, based upon maximum permitted height, should not extend above the line of sight between a ridgeline and any public right-of-way, whether the ridgeline is above or below the right-of-way.
- The slope of the roof should be oriented in the same direction as the natural slope of the lot.
- Significant views of the natural ridge silhouette from public rights-of-way and other public spaces should be retained.
- When a major building elevation will be visible from off-site, appropriate combinations of screening and design treatment should be taken to reduce the bulk of the structure.

Grading, Drainage, Cuts and Fills

Mother Nature rarely offers us a site that fits the shape of a house. When the time comes to start construction, it is easier to change the terrain than it is to design around the slopes and imperfections of the land. There are two types of changes that can have a great impact on the natural contours of a site: cuts and fills.

Cuts are made when the slope of a lot rises and the house doesn't. This is commonly seen on upslope lots, those that rise away from the street. Fills are made when the house is placed on a pedestal or a pile of dirt intended to hold the home higher than the natural terrain. Both of these changes should be held to an absolute minimum.

There are a lot of reasons given as to why cuts and fills on the lot are desired. They are used for all of the following:

- To create basement walkouts.
- To make flat yards for a play or recreation area.
- To achieve drives with workable slopes.
- To carry drainage away from the house.
- To permit sewage outflow from the basement bath.
- To improve views.
- To reduce the building height calculation.
- To give structural support and frost protection to foundations.
- To make the building design compatible with the existing topography of the lot.

Although some of these reasons are better than others, the City takes a dim view of excessive or unnecessary cuts and fills. Plans which make inordinate use of cuts and fills will be denied. Large cuts into a slope usually indicate that the wrong house design is being used for the conditions of a site. Building a flat house on an upward slope is akin to placing the proverbial square peg into a round hole -- it doesn't fit. If a lot runs uphill, then a house should be designed to match that flow. If a lot is mostly flat, then it is not a good idea to dig a basement walkout. Even worse, however, is piling on the fill.

The problem with fill is that it has a tendency to return to the natural grade. A house built on fill is generally less stable than one placed on natural soils. Unless proper compacting and retaining practices are followed, fill will continue to compress on its own. Fill around a house tends to settle or wash into the surrounding vegetation eventually smothering it.

As a rule of thumb, it is safe to observe the following:

"CUTS ARE BETTER THAN FILLS AND NEITHER IS BETTER THAN EITHER"

Design Objectives - Grading

It is in the interest of all to create marketable homes which preserve the natural characteristics of the hillsides. These types of houses sell well, have less negative impacts on the environment and are pleasing to look at. From the perspective of good hillside development, these goals are met by adhering to the following construction and design practices:

- Houses should be designed to fit the site rather than modifying the site to fit the house.
- Foundation corners should match the natural grade as much as possible.
- Limit grading to that which is necessary to construct the house, drive and a limited area for yard purposes.
- Design to retain as much of the natural landform as possible.
- Use foundation systems and home designs to take up grade.
- Use driveways to take up grade.
- On a limited basis retaining walls are acceptable. They are not acceptable when their purpose is to create flat yards.
- Drive-under and/or detached garages are encouraged on very steep grades.
- Site the house and use construction techniques which allow wastewater services to be provided without the use of fill.
- Mechanical solutions to solve wastewater problems are preferable to site modifications.

Standard house designs should only be used if they are designed to work with the existing topographic conditions of the lot

- Avoid an angular appearance of graded areas by smoothing out contours and sloping away from the foundation rather than using retaining walls. Graded slopes should be between 2:1 and 5:1.

Grading Review Requirements

It is difficult to set absolute limits on what is acceptable grading for a hillside lot. Sometimes an exceptional measure may be needed to work a house into a site and these proposals should be discussed with the plan reviewer as early in the design process as possible. In the majority of cases, however, certain limits should not be exceeded. The following standards are used by the Zoning Office as a basis for evaluating proposed grading plans.

- Retaining Walls - If retaining walls are necessary, they should be limited to a 4' maximum height per wall with no more than two tiers.

- Tiers should be separated by at least 4'-6' and each tier should be screened from the street as follows; one 5 gal. shrub every 4' and one 6' tree every 15'. At least half of the trees should be evergreen. Relief may be granted for shorter (height and/or length) retaining walls and for walls which slope back and contain natural plantings. Retaining walls not seen from the street are of lesser concern. Builders are encouraged to use foundations as retaining walls to retain slopes.
- Driveways - The maximum slope is not to exceed 20%. Consideration should be given to the placement of the house so that the driveway may be used to take up grade. Drives longer than 30' should be narrowed to 12' in width as quickly as possible.
- Walkouts - Builders should select sites for walkouts which have a natural fall of at least 8' through the building footprint area. Cuts or fills for walk outs should be designed to minimize the impact upon existing Mountain Mahogany, Scrub Oak and Pines.
- Revegetation - Fill and cut slopes shall be stabilized in a manner which prevents erosion. Acceptable slope treatments may include hydromulch seeding, netting, small retaining walls, and the planting of trees, shrubs and flowers or any combination of these. The appropriate treatment will be determined depending on the specific slope conditions.
- Cuts vs. Fills - Cuts are preferable to fills as they are more stable and have generally less impact on surrounding vegetation and off-site views. Fills greater than four feet are permitted only when there are unusual circumstances such as severe topography or restrictive soil conditions. Cuts and fills should be severely limited in areas with slopes of 25% or more. Front entryway walks are limited to the same fill constraints as the house. If there is a grade change of four feet or more between the driveway and the front entrance, the house design may have to be modified to use steps or decks rather than fill to take up the grade.
- Protecting Vegetation - Grading around the house should be limited to ten feet or less to minimize its impact on existing vegetation.
- Protecting Natural Features - If a site has unique geological features such as mushroom rocks, significant rock outcroppings or cliff faces, extraordinary care must be taken when building on these lots. In order to preserve a sites special attributes, the house should be designed to fit around the significant features.
- Site Excavation - Construction equipment and stockpiled soils should be stored only in areas which are to be disturbed for the construction of the house. Recommended fill storage areas include driveway pad locations and previously disturbed street cuts.

Drainage and Erosion Control

Builders must direct the drainage from their lots so that it either flows into the public storm water system or maintains pre-existing lot to lot patterns. Roof and hard surface runoff should not be concentrated and improperly diverted onto downslope lots. During construction, drainage problems should be temporarily controlled by using straw bales and/or silt fences to slow and filter lot to lot drainage. In no cases should mud or sand be allowed to cross property boundaries. Erosion should be minimized on a site by revegetating the disturbed area of the lot as soon after construction as possible. Slopes exceeding 2:1, must be protected immediately by straw netting, hydromulching, silt traps, riprapping along drainage channels or by using other similar methods.

Working with Vegetation

The image usually associated with living in the foothills is one of homes nestled into a setting of mature pine stands and rolling hills covered in Scrub Oak and Mountain Mahogany. Indeed this vision is so alluring that many of our hillside subdivisions; The Woodlands, Mahogany Vale, Woodmen Oaks and Point of the Pines, bear names that reflect their intended glory. If the overall character of hillside areas is to be maintained, the emphasis must be placed on incorporating the existing vegetation into the site design. Some of the considerations which should be embodied when matching a home to a site are as follow:

- Hillside characteristics help set the tone for Colorado Springs' image and desirability as a place to live.
- The streetscape within hillside developments should contain elements which reflect the City's natural hillside setting.
- Maintaining the natural environment preserves wildlife habitat and migration corridors.
- Native vegetation is suited for low water landscaping since it has evolved to be drought tolerant and can exist on the historic natural levels of precipitation.
- Minimizing disturbance of existing plants prevents erosion and sedimentation problems.
- Mature natural hillside flora has value which cannot be replaced.
- Existing vegetation provides a privacy screen between neighbors and between the house and the street.
- Vegetation which is preserved, offers a real dollar value in landscaping already in place and in improving a homes curb appeal for sales.

There are bound to be conflicting ideas in attempting to reach a balance between the need to preserve natural vegetation and the desires or requirements of contractors and homeowners. Below are some conflicts which have been identified as inherent to building on vegetated lots.

- Foundation excavation and over-digs in poor soil conditions require the removal of all vegetation within the dig area.
- Vegetation must be removed for cuts and fills.
- Often, homeowners want to site houses in locations which are covered with significant vegetation.
- Homeowners desire level lawns, patios, and recreation areas.

- The demand for basement walkouts exceeds the supply of lots which can naturally accommodate this type of house. This results in houses with forced walkout designs and unnecessary cuts.
- Frequently, houses are sited on the highest point of a lot to achieve views without consideration of their effect on existing vegetation and off-site visual impacts.
- Vegetation is removed to improve views.
- It is easier to construct houses with overgrading versus incorporating existing vegetation into site design.
- Vegetation is removed to reduce fire hazards and to limit ladder fuels.
- Vegetation is removed with the installation of utility lines.
- There is a perception that natural vegetation does not have as much a value as formal landscaping.

Design Objectives - Working with Vegetation

One of the main objectives in protecting the existing vegetation of a site is to screen the bulk of the house. Although a house can be beautiful in its own right, the natural characteristics of a lot can only be maintained if the home is designed to complement the site rather than the other way around. In designing this home, architects, builders and homeowners should assimilate the structure to the site it is placed on.

The following design objectives should be addressed in the placement of houses on hillside lots:

- Houses should be sited to incorporate existing vegetation into the design to preserve the natural hillside image and character of the area.
- Emphasis should be placed upon preserving the vegetation in the front yard area to project a hillside appearance from the street.
- Existing vegetation should be used to soften structural mass and blend the house into the natural setting. A two or three level home should have most of the first floor screened by Scrub Oak and trees. In this way, the house almost appears to grow from the lot like the trees. Small breaks in the vegetation can enhance this image as seen from the street.
- The amount of vegetation which can be removed depends on how much is existing in the first place. Lots which are heavily treed are bound to lose some. Sites with limited natural vegetation may have to be designed with extra care to retain as much as possible.
- Cuts and fills should be designed to limit their impact upon areas containing Scrub Oak, Mountain Mahogany and pine trees.

- Lawn, patio and formal recreation areas should be limited if their construction will require the removal of significant vegetation or the creation of cut and fill areas.
- Natural slope and vegetation should be incorporated in a manner which preserves the hillside characteristics.
- It is recognized that selective removal of natural vegetation is necessary to reduce the risk of wildfires.
- Utility line installation should be designed to avoid the removal of natural vegetation where possible.
- On heavily vegetated lots where clearing is required, emphasis should be placed on removing smaller and diseased vegetation and saving larger, healthier growth.
- If decks are located close to trees, post and beam systems should be used rather than foundations, as this is far less destructive to the roots.
- When siting a house for views, primary consideration should be given to the preservation of existing vegetation.
- The optimum coverage for a lot in terms of healthy trees, minimized fire hazard, and maximum real estate value, is approximately 140 mature trees per acre. In the field, this has the appearance of a moderately forested lot with trees just touching each other.

Vegetation Review Requirements

The following review standards are to be used by the Zoning Office in evaluating the impact of house placement and construction upon existing vegetation:

- Site plans should reflect any vegetation which is to be removed, replaced or relocated.
- All vegetation within 30' of the house perimeter and within the house structure should be shown in detail. Less detail is needed for vegetation beyond 30'.
- Show the anticipated location of utility service lines. When possible, these lines should be run under, or immediately adjacent to, the driveway location. If utilities are to be run on another part of the lot, the vegetation must be protected by using narrow trenches, laying lines to avoid significant trees and shrubs, and through other mitigation methods such as augering.
- Vegetation within 10' of the structure (with the exception of the deck area) may be removed if necessary to comply with the Fuels Management Ordinance.

- No vegetation is to be removed within Preservation Areas except to comply with the Fuels Management Ordinance.
- Trees over 12" in diameter are considered irreplaceable and should not be removed from a lot unless there is no other location for the house.

WHY SAVE SCRUB OAK?

One of our most durable and hardy native shrubs, Gambel's Oak or Scrub Oak has evolved to nearly a perfect fit with the Colorado Springs environment. With a northern range limit around the Denver/Boulder area, Gambel's Oak is the predominate woody deciduous shrub of the Pikes Peak region. There are at least four forms of Scrub Oak that grow here naturally. These range from highly branched medium sized shrubs with extensive suckering to single stemmed trees of 30 feet or more. All forms tend to grow in thickets with intervening open areas.

Scrub Oak is a slow growing shrub that does not take well to transplanting. Once established, however, the plant is a survivor. A deep and expansive root system is the key to Scrub Oak's success. A year old seedling may have no more than four leaves, but can have a 12" root. In the winter, the water absorbing portion of the roots are shed and all cell activities cease. As a result, no energy or moisture is lost to the soil. This, however, leads to an intolerance of excess moisture in the dormant seasons. In the spring time, Scrub Oak is one of the few plants that initiates new growth before it leafs out. This is one way that the Oak survives late Spring freezes while other less robust plants may die.

Fall is the period for reproduction and preparation for the winter. While the Scrub Oak's acorns normally provide food for a wealth of animals and insects, in certain years the acorn production may be turned completely off. As a result, dependent animal populations go hungry and neighboring subdivisions see an influx of bears and other animals searching for alternate food sources. The year following a shutdown is usually an acorn bonanza. In this way the Scrub Oak plants insure that there will be plenty of acorns for reproduction and not as many consumers to eat them.

The thicket growth nature appears to benefit Gambel's Oak in several ways. First, when the leaves fall during late autumn, they tend to be captured around the base of the Scrub Oak. This creates a natural mulch which leads to water retention and improved soils. In the winter, the thickets act as snow fences, capturing the snow which blows off the grassy gaps between stands. In effect, the Scrub Oak is harvesting the moisture from the snow

For a low maintenance, self-sustaining landscape plant, Scrub Oak is hard to beat. It offers free shelter and food for wildlife and it provides a natural privacy screen for the house. At $30 or more for a new five gallon container, the Scrub Oak that you save can add up to thousands of dollars in landscaping not needed. And as can be appreciated by anyone who has ever endured the months it take to build a new home, with Scrub Oak, your landscape is already in.

Architectural Features

While there is no one style that defines Colorado Springs, there are many building elements that make sense in the hillsides from both an aesthetic and a practical perspective. Quality design in a home makes it not only more livable, safer and attractive, it can add greatly to the expected resale value. Even though there are few architectural features that are required by the Hillside Ordinance, there are many aspects of home design which are greatly encouraged. A positive style element can make the difference in changing a borderline denial into an approved plan. If, for example, a home is placed out on a ridge further than necessity requires, a low profile design with a highly articulated roof line might make the difference in getting the plan permitted. Although it is not the intent of the City to regulate individual tastes, it is ultimately impossible to separate a homes design from the characteristics of the lot on which it is located.

Design Objectives - Architectural

The following architectural objectives are encouraged when designing a home for the hillside areas.

- Mass/Height - Homes should not appear overly prominent or obtrusive as seen from the street, neighboring properties or off-site. One story houses are encouraged, particularly homes which are placed close to the street or which have locations which are highly visible from off-site vantage points.
- Use of Natural Appearing Materials - The following building materials are encouraged; unpainted wood siding, exposed wood structural members, logs, bricks, stucco, and natural stone masonry. Roof shingles or tiles should consist of natural colored metals, class C or better wood shakes, concrete, fiberglass, asphalt or clay. For all of these materials, dark or earthtone colors are encouraged. If a hillside home is to blend in to the site, it should limit the use of large expanses of glass, exterior plastic, vinyl siding or any reflective or shiny materials.
- Color - Color schemes for the both the building and roof should blend in with the natural landscape of earth toned soils, bedrock, and natural woodland, brush, and grassland vegetative growth. High contrast or bright colors should be avoided. White or other similarly bright colored homes can be seen from many miles off site and can make a house appear much larger or bulkier than it really is.
- Building Form - Building form should be planned to enhance to the site's natural features. The form, mass, profile, and architectural features of the structure should be designed to blend with the natural terrain and preserve the undulating profile of the hillside. Positive ratings are offered for avoidance of multi-story structures on ridgelines and on all sites lower profile homes are encouraged. Split level designs and stepped foundations which mirror the slope of a hillside are encouraged. Structures should be cut into the hillside to reduce visual bulk by being fully or partially below grade.

- Long unbroken roof lines should be avoided. Instead, roofs should be broken into smaller components to reflect the irregular natural hillside patterns. The roof should be oriented in the same direction of the slope contour and large gable ends on downhill elevations and excessive cantilevers or overhangs should be avoided.
- Use varied and contrasting horizontal and vertical building planes to create various light, shade, and shadow patterns. Avoid large single form structures.
- Avoid large expanses of a wall in a single plane on downhill elevations.
- Detached parts of dwelling, such as the garage, are encouraged, when appropriate.
- Avoid using overhanging decks or decks elevated on poles.

Construction Practices

The best possible landscaping plan for a hillside house is the one that was there before the house was built. Typically, when a homeowner moves into a newly constructed home, one of the first things to do is to start landscaping. This job can cost many thousands of dollars and requires years of growth and maintenance to bring the yard to maturity. Even when finished, the new landscaping may never be as well suited for the local environment as the indigenous trees and shrubs. It makes sense, therefore, for the City, developers, builders and homeowners to work to save as much of the initial site as they can.

"A study by the U.S. Forestry Department showed that well placed trees can increase the value of a house by as much as 20%."

From Good Design Pays, Grant W. Reid, ASLA Colorado Green, Winter 1995, vol. 10. No. 4.

Saving vegetation on a site takes more than bulldozing around a tree rather than through it. Assuming that the house designer and builder have incorporated the themes expressed in this manual, a plan will have been developed where the house fits the site and the surrounding vegetation will have been preserved. Now it is time to put all of the planning into action. The greatest disturbance to a site occurs during grubbing, excavation and home construction. A little extra care during this period will make the difference between a house that appears to belong on a lot and one that seems as if it were merely dropped from the sky.

Building with Care

The probability that existing trees and shrubs will survive in the face of construction project will be the highest if they are left alone. This means keeping equipment, grading activity, dirt and materials away from the vegetation to be saved. The general contractor should inform the subcontractors of the note regarding the importance of saving vegetation. On some sites contractors have imposed fines for destroying vegetation that was supposed to be saved. Following are construction practices that should be followed at every job site.

- Before grubbing or clearing a lot, the area to be preserved should be marked with ribbons or roped off for protection.
- Snow fencing should be placed around trees a distance equal to the size of the individual tree's drip zone. This area can be calculated by measuring the diameter of the tree at breast height. Each inch of diameter is equal to one foot of drip zone. For instance, a 12" diameter tree will require a 12' wide drip zone. Nothing should be allowed within this area.
- Avoid compacting the soil over a trees root zone. By driving or paving over roots the tree can be suffocated as it loses crucial air spaces in the soil. A tree is most vulnerable to compacted soils during soil drying periods, usually a day or two after heavy rain or irrigation.

- If it is necessary to fill over the root zone, compacted soils can be avoided by sandwiching fabric, rocks and more fabric under the area to be filled.
- Fill placed directly on the roots may not exceed a maximum of 6" in depth.
- If fill creates a tree well or depression around a tree or shrubs, this area needs to be drained so that the vegetation is not drowned by the pooling of rainfall or irrigation.

If a tree's roots must be cut, the branches should be trimmed by an amount equal to the percent of roots that were lost. Roots should be pruned cleanly prior to digging and not ripped off by heavy equipment. Cutting more than 30% of the roots endangers the health of the tree, and over 40% affects the tree's stability.

- Utility trenches near trees should be avoided. If a line must be close to a tree, tunneling or augering should be used.
- It is better to tie branches back from a house in order to erect scaffolding than it is to cut them.
- Broken branches and trunk scrapes should be repaired promptly.
- Do not clean or dispose of paints, thinners, concrete or any other chemicals near trees. Spread heavy tarps over roots if sheetrock is to be cut or concrete is to be mixed in the area. These materials can change the pH of the soil, weakening or even killing the tree.

Final Landscaping

Bluegrass lawns are expensive. They consume your time in maintenance, they have adverse impacts on the environment and they are expensive to water. In Colorado Springs we put 70% of our summer water on our landscaping and we use ten times as many pesticides and herbicides per acre as we do for farmland. The fact is, we live in a semi-arid climate. Although we naturally receive an average rainfall of 15" of each year, we put two or three times that much on our lawns.

Running a gasoline-powered lawn mower for an hour emits the same amount of air pollution as driving a car for 350 miles.

In some places, sodded lawns make sense. No one would begrudge homeowners the use of small areas of grass. However, it is only sensible to landscape as much of our yards as possible with plants that have lower water needs. The good news is that there are a great many alternative water consuming plants to choose from.

Designing with Nature

A landscape plan for a hillside home does not have to be a complicated undertaking. Residential landscape planning can be done by anyone from horticulturists to novices who simply have the desire to work in the yard. The tools are simple and the costs of the plants and raw materials are within the reach of everyone. It is important to keep in mind that a homes landscape will evolve over years and it is not necessary to complete the entire project in the first summer.

There are essentially three steps to a healthy yard; planning, preparing and planting. The first step is, perhaps, the most important. The time spent on preparing a good hillside landscape plan will pay off for years to come and in the resale value of the home. Colorado Springs has a natural environment that is tough on plants. With limited rain, unrelenting high altitude sunshine and strong seasonal changes, many plant types that work well in other areas of the country become a maintenance nuisance or even die if planted here. Plants should be selected carefully to ensure that they can survive with minimal water and maintenance once established. Soils preparation and planting are when you take your good ideas and make them work.

Planning

Any good plan needs to be written down. On a piece of graph paper or any scaled plan which shows the location of the house you should start by defining where things are. Chart the location of the existing vegetation and note the environmental factors or stresses which allowed these plants to live there. Consider the amount of sunshine exposure which is received in a given location and highlight areas which receive the bulk of the drainage. Indicate any other microclimate factors that will affect the types of plants to be selected. On this plan, show areas that you might have a special interest in adding your own individual touches. You might, for instance, wish to plant an evergreen tree to offer privacy in front of a bathroom window or perhaps you want to establish an informal flower garden. This is the time to set the landscaping tone for the life of the house. In developing your plan keep the following factors in mind:

- Sizing - Plants have widely differing growth rates and ultimate spread size. On your plan you should draw plant types at their mature size. Try not to overly bunch trees or they will end up competing with each other for water and sunshine. While some trees such as Aspen and Douglas Fir like company, others such as Ponderosa Pines need room to expand. Place trees far enough away from the house so that at their full size they will not create a fire hazard or make the house appear imposed upon.
- Water - You should strive to use plants that have the same water needs as those which grow naturally in the area. In most cases this means using low water plants or xeriscaping. There are a wide variety of low water plants available which have the same attributes of their thirstier cousins, but come with far fewer problems. A listing of low water trees, shrubs, perennials and other vegetation which thrives in the Colorado Springs environment is included in Appendix F. of this manual.
- Irrigation - If an irrigation system is to be used, it should be planned to provide zone watering or differing areas of intensity depending on the needs of the located there. Group plants with like water needs together. Heavier irrigation, for instance, might be needed in turf areas, while a low output bubble system might work for flowering shrubs. Certain types of plants, such as pre-existing Scrub Oak, need no supplemental water.
- Sun - Plants have individualized sunshine requirements. Your local plant nursery can help you to select the best types of vegetation for the given conditions. Direct sun tends to dry out exposed soils through evaporation and increased heat. A vegetative covering in these areas will keep more moisture in the soil. In addition, trees and large shrubs can be located so that they work as a home energy saving system. Deciduous trees growing in front of south facing windows will block the hot summer sun with their leaves. In the winter, however, the sun's rays will be able to pass the leafless trees and will warm the house.
- Slope - Sloped areas tend to lose water by increased run-off. In these areas, it may make sense to plant ground covers which are especially good at holding soils together and which have reduced water needs. Another option is to install a natural rock garden.
- Compatibility - The overall objective of the plan should be to concentrate plants with similar needs in areas where the optimum conditions exist. If you are going to irrigate a small area of lawn, then this is not a good location for Pinon Pine trees. The two plant types have greatly different water requirements and constant sprinklering may cause the Pinon's roots to rot. Keep plants with similar water needs together and those with unlike needs apart. Plants can also be compatible in the way they work together. Certain perennials work well in the shady understories of trees where they are protected from the direct sun and wind. In return, these plants help keep the ground around the trees roots from drying out.

Preparation

There are two essential tasks that need to be completed in order to prepare bare ground for planting. You should shape the surface and amend the soils to consist of a high level of organic material. The first step, shaping, is the final procedure in your overall grading plan. Keeping in mind the points covered previously in this manual, your final grading should be done with an eye toward protecting the existing vegetation. Shaping the previously disturbed areas, however, is a necessary step in finalizing the fit of the house on the site. A lot should be shaped to achieve the following:

- Do not disturb any areas other than those already impacted by excavation and house construction.
- Hand groom excessive (over 6") accumulated soils off the roots of Scrub Oak or trees.
- Finalize the lot drainage so that water is carried away from the house foundation. Water which is allowed to permeate downward along the foundation can affect the sub-surface soil conditions, possibly leading to damage of your home.
- Round sharp edges of cuts and fills so that the area to be planted will easily blend into the surrounding terrain.
- Provide depressions and catch basins so that snow and rainwater can percolate into the ground rather than run-off unimpeded.
- Design swales to run across flatter areas (between 2% and 6% grade) rather than down steep pitches. This slows the velocity of the drainage and increases the amount of water filtered into the ground.
- Direct roof and hard surface runoff into catch basins.
- Install an in-ground water cistern. Provide outlet holes to allow leeching of the collected water into the surrounding ground.

The next step in preparing for planting is to amend the soils. This takes place in several forms; modifying the structure, augmenting with organic additives, and mulching. Some considerations in taking these approaches are as follow:

- Sandy soils easily lose moisture and should have a layer of topsoil and composted manure thoroughly mixed into the top 6" of natural soil. This encourages deep root growth and reduces the need for constant watering.
- A soil heavy in clay lacks air spaces and should be amended with coarser sands and organic materials. The ideal mix has as much as 50% pore spaces and a soil balanced with sand, silt, and clay.

- Organic composts can be made of grass clippings, kitchen wastes (organic materials only), leaves, manure, peat, pine needles, sawdust and straw. This compost material can be turned into the soils at any stage of a yards development.
- A top layer of wood or bark mulch can be spread in landscaped areas to improve the water retention and to add additional organic material to the soil. Mulches should be between 3" and 6" deep to inhibit weed growth. In general, mulches should be applied soon after planting to encourage better root growth and to delay late season damage due to freezing.
- Use fabrics which allow water and air infiltration instead of plastic under mulches. Plastic is impervious to water.
- Avoid rock mulches. These offer no organic supplements, are not as effective in preventing weed growth, and generate unhealthy levels of heat to your plants. Perhaps most importantly, rocks make it nearly impossible to remove weeds.

Planting

The final step, planting, may go on for years. It is better to take time in selecting the most appropriate plants for a site than it is to provide an instant landscape cover. The central idea when planting in the hillsides is to develop a low maintenance, low water requiring vegetative cover. Once the major themes such as screening or wildflower gardens have been established, the homeowner can concentrate on infill planting and maintenance.

A free street tree may be available for your new home through the City Forestry Office. For more information call 578-6698.

General maintenance of a xeriscaped yard is far simpler than for bluegrass sod. Trees and shrubs can be trimmed for optimum growth and shape, and occasional fertilizing and weeding is needed. For the most part, however, xeriscaping takes very low maintenance. In some areas such as wildflower gardens, no weeding is needed. Although any plant needs an initial season or two of watering to get established, once they take, the supplemental water needs drop drastically.

The possibilities are endless when landscaping a home in the hillside. There are plants that encourage wildlife, and plants which offer an abundance of year round color. Some plantings are done to create privacy while others are intended to highlight the architecture of the home. With some imagination, planning and a shovel, it is possible to create a house that fits the hillsides. Living with Wildlife

When we put a house in the hillside, we are building in nature's back yard. The deer, rabbits, squirrels and birds inhabited the forests and fields long before homes and residential neighborhoods showed up. Animals do not recognize property boundaries. They live where there is habitat, food and water. Normally these are provided for by nature. When subdivisions are built where the woods once were, the animals will continue to live near by. If the necessities for life are provided around our houses, wild animals and people will intermingle. This creates a conflict and an opportunity.

The conflict arises because humans and wild animals do not necessarily make good neighbors. If pets and their food are left outside, these might prove to be an irresistible attraction to hungry bears or mountain lions. Bears will eat nearly anything including garbage, pet food and seeds and suet from bird feeders. Mountain lions and coyotes have been known to kill pets, and in rare instances, attack small children. If wildlife is being fed by homeowners, either by purposely or inadvertently leaving out pet food, the animals become attracted to our homes. Once animals lose their natural tendency to avoid people, a dangerous situation is created. Ways to prevent potentially dangerous interactions are as follows:

- Do not feed or keep your pets outside. At night time in particular, pets are subject to attacks by mountain lions, coyotes and foxes. Dogs which run wild may pack together and kill deer.
- Clean the grease off BBQ grills and store them inside.
- Hang bird feeders and suet between trees rather than off decks. A bear will climb on a deck or tear it down to get to this tasty snack.
- Keep garbage cans out of the reach of animals and periodically clean them.
- Do not feed deer or other wildlife. Not only is deer feeding illegal in Colorado, but deer coming up to your house may draw mountain lions.
- Be aware that some types of plantings are more attractive to animals than others. Fruit trees and certain junipers may end up as deer food.
- Many animals such as skunks, raccoons and prairie dogs which are cute in the wild become pests when they move into your attic or window wells. For further information dealing with unwanted wildlife contact Division of Wildlife at 473-2945.

By living in the hillsides, it is possible to observe animals in their natural state. Residential developments in Colorado Springs are planned to preserve animal migration corridors along heavily forested areas and drainage ways. These connections allow deer and other animals to travel relatively undisturbed from one forest stand to another and to protect the quality of our waterways and environment. Since we are in a sense inviting wild animals into our communities, however, it is doubly important that we observe the safety precautions noted above. Once we have accepted the fact that man and nature can live side by side, there are many things we can do to make this condition more enjoyable.

- Learn more about the local wildlife by reading about it or visiting with any of the numerous local information agencies such as the Colorado Springs Parks and Recreation Department or the local Division of Wildlife office.
- Attract birds by providing bird houses, feeders and water.
- Plant grasses, shrubs and trees which provide food and shelter for birds and small animals.
- If you see deer or other large animals in residential areas, leave them alone unless there is an immediate threat to your safety. Tranquilizing or capturing animals can be life threatening to the animal. Even if the animal is not immediately affected, the Division of Wildlife has adopted a policy that any bear trapped more than once gets destroyed. In most situations, large animals will move away from people and houses if left alone.
- Watch and enjoy. Through quiet observation, it is possible to find animals in any type of ecosystem whether it is a field or the woods. You can increase your chances of seeing wildlife by watching at dusk and dawn. Wildlife is most numerous along the forest's edges. Where Scrub Oak changes to grasses, and shrubs give way to trees, these are the places where the most animal interactions can be seen.

Wildfire Risk Management

OVERVIEW

Wildfire risk reduction techniques include monitored smoke alarm systems, sprinkler systems, fire resistant roofing materials which are rated Class C or higher, and fuels management measures. The City of Colorado Springs has adopted amendments to the City's Hillside Overlay Zone and Fire Prevention Code relating to fire safety measures in the Hillside areas.

Within the Hillside fuel management measures shall be utilized within the safety zone of applicable new home construction. Fuels management is defined as the modification of natural vegetation within the safety zone to protect structures from approaching wildfire, as well as to reduce the potential for structure fire from spreading to the wildland. The safety zone is defined as the area within thirty (30) feet of the main structure, not to extend beyond the property line.

It is the City's desire to provide an environment safe from wildfire while maintaining the aesthetics qualities of the native hillside.

CRITERIA

Using the following guidelines, roof materials, system requirements, and fuels management requirements shall be determined by the CSFD and City Zoning Administration for each individual lot, as part of the building permit approval process. The following measures are required.

Fuels Management:

All lots within the Hillside Overlay zone illustrated on development plans approved on or after April 1, 1993, shall be subject to the following fuels management requirements:

- Brush patches or clusters may be left in the safety zone, but shall be separated by clear areas of ten (10) feet or more of noncombustible materials or grass mown to not more than four (4) inches in height.
- No brush shall be allowed within ten (10) feet of the main structure. Exception: When approved by the Fire Chief, small brush patches, not exceeding one hundred (100) square feet and fifteen (15) lineal feet in any direction, may be allowed to intrude, if the structure has fire-resistant siding.
- Large trees shall not have overlapping limbs and shall be pruned of dead limbs to a height of ten (10) feet above the ground. Tree clusters may be allowed if sufficient clear area is provided.

- Tree branches shall not extend over or under the roof eaves and shall not be within fifteen (15) feet of a wood burning appliance chimney.

Fire Protection Systems:

A monitored smoke alarm system or a sprinkler system is required for any new hillside zoned home built after April 1, 1993, id located on a lot which lies beyond one-thousand (1,000) feet along a cul-de-sac or if located on roadways with grades in excess of ten (10) percent if said roadways are the only vehicular points of access to the home.

Roofing Materials:

After January 1, 2003, a minimum of a Class A roof covering (excluding solid wood roofing products) shall be installed on all Residential Occupancies and a minimum Class B roof covering shall be installed on all remaining occupancies (Not to replace Class A where already required by Table 15-A) when an application is made for a roofing or re-roofing building permit within the limits of the City of Colorado Springs, Colorado.

APPLICATION TO NEW DEVELOPMENT

Fuels management measures shall be utilized within the safety zone of new homes upon lots within the Hillside Overlay Zone illustrated on development plan approved on or after April 1, 1993. In addition, effective April 1, 1993, all new subdivision plats and development plans for Hillside zoned projects shall include a statement of the requirement for fuels management, minimum Class A roofing, and, if applicable, smoke alarm or sprinkler systems. See Section E., Wildfire Risk Mitigation, of the Hillside Overlay Zone Ordinance, contained within Appendix A. for the specific development plan and subdivision plat note language and statements.

APPLICATION TO EXISTING DEVELOPMENT

Fuels management and fire protection systems are not required for homes built prior to April 1, 1993. However, after January 1, 2003 all new roofing (and re-roofing greater than 25% of total roof area) applications must use Class A rated materials.

COMPLIANCE

In addition to the above criteria, the following shall be undertaken to insure compliance:

The Development Services Department shall ensure that the notes, as required by Section E., Wildfire Risk Mitigation, of the Hillside Overlay Zone Ordinance are included on all applicable development plans and subdivision plats. The Zoning Administration office shall ensure that the proper notes are included on all applicable Hillside Site / Lot Grading Plans. In addition, the Zoning Office shall inform the applicant of the required fuels management measures for each individual lot at time of HSS/LGP review. The Zoning office will identify the structures requiring Class C roofing materials and fire protection system installation and mark the HSS/LGP plan accordingly.

The Fire Department will review all applicable building plans for homes required to install fire protection systems. The Department will review all plans, determine system requirements and issue appropriate permits.

The Regional Building Department will review all applicable plans for roofing and reroofing applications to insure that Class A materials will be used

INSPECTIONS

The City Zoning Administration office will follow-up and conduct inspections to determine compliance with the fuels management requirements and other City Code provisions. Most sites will be visited twice after construction commences.

The initial fuels management inspection will be scheduled to occur prior to the Regional Building Department's framing inspection. It shall be the responsibility of the builder to request the inspection. The primary propose of the initial inspection will be to determine compliance and to prescribe mitigation or remedial actions which can be taken, at an early stage, to correct necessary violations. A HSS/LGP plan inspection will occur at the same time. Required corrective actions will be forwarded to the applicant and compliance expected by final inspection.

The final inspection will be scheduled to occur shortly after construction has been completed and prior to the Building Department's final inspection. Again, it shall be responsibility of the builder to request the inspection. The primary propose of the final inspection will be to a determination of compliance and the prescription of additional mitigation actions which may be necessary. A final HSS/LGP plan inspection will also occur at this time.

For homes that require a monitoring smoke alarm system or a sprinkler system. The Colorado Springs Fire Department shall conduct inspections. A visual piping inspection must be secured through the Fire Department prior to the framing inspection. Final inspection and approval of the system must be secured through the Fire Department prior to final inspection by the Building Department and/or occupancy of the residence."

EVALUATION LETTER

The City Zoning Administration Office will provide an evaluation letter to all applicants of hillside development. In addition to other information the letter will include a fuels management requirements compliance evaluation. See sample letter found in the Appendix G.

Grading & Removal of Native Vegetation From Developed Lots

Whether you have built from scratch or whether you have purchased an already existing hillside home, there are certain rules which govern your ability to change the site. If you live in an area covered by the City's hillside overlay zone, City approval may have to be obtained before you build, cut vegetation or grade. The intent of the City's hillside ordinance is to preserve the natural characteristics that make the hillsides a special place. Before making any exterior changes to your home or site, you should address the following concerns:

- * All house or deck additions must be approved by the Zoning Administration Office prior to any work being done. As with new home construction, additions should be designed to save the existing vegetation and to minimize cuts and fills. A checklist describing the required plan submittal information can be obtained from the Zoning Office.

- * Site changes such as retaining walls must be approved by the Zoning Administration Office. Such changes may be denied if they do not comply with the purpose and intent of the Hillside Ordinance. Retaining walls over four feet high must be designed by a licensed engineer and require a building permit.

- * Normal maintenance and treatment of your yard's landscape cover may be conducted without any City approvals. If, for example, a section of Scrub Oak has died, it is acceptable to trim back the dead plants in order to reduce the fire hazard and to give the new growth room to grow. It is not acceptable to remove Scrub Oak or trees to increase the size of grass play areas.

- * If vegetation is removed from a yard in violation of the Hillside Ordinance, an enforcement case will be opened by the Zoning Administration office and penalties will be imposed upon the homeowner.

Vegetation within ten feet of the home may be removed without City review if necessary to comply with fire safety procedures.

Approval Statement: The attached Hillside Site / Lot Grading Plan has been reviewed by the City Zoning Administration office and finds that the plan is hereby:

APPROVED, and the Applicant is permitted to proceed to secure other required permits.

APPROVED, SUBJECT TO the following conditions, and the Applicant is permitted to proceed to secure other required permits:

DENIED, based upon the following reasons:

I.) Total square footage of all existing & proposed structures

J.) Calculated maximum height of all existing, proposed, and/or expanded structures, K.) The following applicable "Hillside Protection Notes":

Note 1: No disturbance, grading or significant natural, features and vegetation removal will occur beyond the "Limit of Disturbance" line, as shown on this plan.

Note 2: The "Limit of Disturbance" line shall be delineated during construction with flags, roping and/or 4' tall orange construction fencing.

10.) Property lines location and dimensions;

The Hillside Site / Lot Grading Plan shall include the following information:

APPLICANT REVIEWER

11.) All existing and proposed public and private easements, "no build" areas, common areas, and preservation areas, indicating their type, location and dimensions;

12.) Distance of all existing, new, and/or expansions of structures, including retaining walls and fences, to property lines;

14.) Location and dimensions of the area designated as the "Limit of Disturbance"; 15.) Location, dimensions, type, height of existing & proposed structures; 16.) Location, dimensions, type, height, of all existing and proposed retaining walls;

17.) Location, grade, surface, curb cut, and size of driveway(s); 18.) Location, name, and size of all adjacent street and alley right-of-ways; 19.) Location and extent of all existing and proposed sidewalk, walkway, street and alley improvements to center line, including: paved surfaces, curb and gutter, curb cuts and ramps, and other improvements;

20.) Location and type of all private proposed utility service lines, including: water, sewer, electricity, gas, telephone and catv;

21.) Location and type of all existing public utilities, including: water, sewer, electricity, gas, telephone and catv equipment and systems;

22.) Location, type, and general information regarding existing and proposed drainage patterns, and the improvements and methods to be used to channel flows into the public system;

23.) Indicate existing building grade and proposed finished grade topography at a minimum of two (2) feet contour intervals, locate an existing permanent fixed benchmark and a visual foundation benchmark with elevations identified;

24.) Illustrate the building and finished grade adjacent to each of the major corners.

25.) Indicate the location, size, and type of all existing significant natural features, including: excessive slopes of 25% or greater, ridgelines, bluffs, rock formations, vegetation; natural streams and drainageways, and limiting natural and geologic condition;

26.) Indicate all proposed significant natural features that will be protected during construction, preserved after construction, and all of the natural features that will be removed;

The Hillside Site / Lot Grading Plan shall include the following information:

APPLICANT REVIEWER

27.) Indicate the location, size, and type of all proposed new landscaping; 28.) Indicate the temporary and permanent methods to be used to stabilize and prevent the erosion of soils;

29.) Indicate the area in which all equipment and material, including soil, will be stored and stockpiled;

30.) For Plan amendments, clearly delineate and indicate the area proposed for amendment by highlighting and/or outlining the changes.

APPLICANT REVIEWER

1.) The structure's front, rear, right, and left side profiles shall be shown. The preferred drawing scale should be 1/4 inch is equal to one foot.

2.) Identify the major corners on each side profile. From the site plan transfer, mark, and record the elevation where the structure intersects the building grade surface.

3.) Show the building (existing)grade and finished grades for each side profile with a horizontal line.

4.) From the major corners building grade intersection mark, measure vertically thirty-five (35) for a sloped roof or thirty (30) scaled feet for a flat roof and identify and mark the maximum hillside building height. Connect the maximum hillside building height control points for each side profile with a horizontal line.

RE: Hillside Overlay Code and Design Guidelines Compliance and Evaluation Report: [Site Address]

Dear [Contractor Name] :

This letter is intended to provide you with an evaluation regarding your project's compliance with the requirements of the City's Hillside Code Requirements and Design Guidelines for your new [project] located at the above address. It is the responsibility of the builder to implement the Hillside requirements of your approved Hillside Site / Lot Grading Plan (HSS/LGP).

The City Zoning Administration Office conducts follow-up inspections on all new projects which have been built in the hillside overlay zoned areas. Generally, the inspectors compare the submitted Hillside Site / Lot Grading Plan (HSS/LGP) with the actual development and determine compliance and evaluate the following criteria and/or elements:

Compliance Criteria:

I Vegetation Preservation I Retaining Walls I Cuts & Fills

I Driveway Width I Structural Setbacks I Height

I Fuels Management Practices

Evaluation Elements:

I Streetscape Appearance I Side/Rear Appearance I Incorporates Natural Vegetation

I Structure Matches Grade I Mass/Height I Use of Natural Building Materials

I Use of Compatible Colors I Building Form I Forced Walkouts and Retaining Walls

I Hillside Character Maintained I Natural Grading I Percent of Front Yard in Natural Vegetation

Our evaluation of your project was as follows:

The property and project was found to be in substantial compliance with the approved HSS/LGP plan, dated , and is in substantial compliance with City Hillside regulations and guidelines.

The property and project was found not to be in compliance with the approved HSS/LGP plan, dated , and is not in compliance with City Hillside regulations and guidelines. Specific actions which need to be taken to bring the site and project into compliance are listed below and/or illustrated on the attached drawing or report. Please notify me once you have corrected the identified deficiencies and I will perform an additional follow-up inspection. If you have any questions please feel free to contact our office. Your understanding and cooperation will be appreciated.

We commend your actions and desire to express our appreciation for your efforts to make the Hillside a better place for all residents of the City of Colorado Springs.

Sincerely

Larry Larsen

CITY COMPREHENSIVE PLAN CONFORMITY

The Hillside Design Manual endeavors to implement numerous goals, objectives, policies, and recommendations of the City of Colorado Springs Comprehensive Plan, including, but not limited to the following:

Goal 5.1: Assure that the City's land development regulations provide for efficiency, compatibility, compliance, variety, flexibility, and innovation.

Policy 5.1.4: Incorporate performance standards, where appropriate, into land development regulations and criteria.

Recommendation 5.1.R4: The City should prepare performance standards and criteria for incorporation into the Zoning Ordinance. The areas for performance standards and criteria shall include:

.... F. Preservation of natural and historic features

.....L. Land Suitability

Goal 9.2: Preserve, enhance, and promote the significant features of the City's natural environment.

Policy 9.2.1: In areas where both controlled development and preservation are possible, retain significant natural features in private ownership and protect them as part of a development plan review. Land suitability studies shall be required prior to the approval of development in these areas....

Recommendation 9.2.R2: The City should establish design guidelines for those preservation areas that could be developed without harm to the significant natural features."

Goal 9.4: Protect the environment from existing and potentially harmful conditions and activities.

Policy 9.4.3: Carefully review development in suspected natural hazard areas. Land suitability studies may be required prior to the approval of development in these areas in order to avoid potential hazards. The land development review process is the appropriate vehicle for the earliest possible identification of all environmentally sensitive land features. Site development plans should contain specific methods for handling limited development, or for maintaining environmentally sensitive land features.

Goal 9.5: Preserve, promote and enlarge the urban forest to enhance air quality, noise abatement, wildlife habitat, community aesthetics, and general quality of life. The urban forest includes all the tree and shrubbery on public or private property within the City.

Policy 9.5.3: Promote public and private tree planting, replacement and preservation programs to sustain and expand the urban forest.

Recommendation 9.5.R.1: The City should substantially increase the number of public and private trees in ten years.

Goal 16.1: Promote the application of urban design considerations which define and enhance the City's unique character.

Policy 16.1.1: Enhance and strengthen the overall image of the City by identifying its unique characteristics, promoting the urban design qualities of specifically designated areas, and defining unifying design elements within the community.

Recommendation 16.1.R2: The City should initiate a process to identify unique areas of the community based on physical features and the character of existing development, and should examine methods to protect, preserve, and promote those areas.

Recommendation 16.1.R6: The City should use the results of the Natural Features Inventory to identify significant landforms and develop appropriate design guidelines to preserve the physical character of those features.

Goal 16.4: Ensure the continued protection, availability and accessibility of those distinctive natural, archaeological, paleontological and historic features which contribute to and reflect the City's character and heritage.

Policy 16.4.1: Ensure that any development of the City's mountain backdrop and significant landforms such as ridgelines is conducted in a manner which protects the physical character of those features.

Policy 16.4.2: Preserve and provide appropriate access to the existing landscape, archeological, paleontological and historic features of the City through sensitive development and construction practices, and determination of preferred ownership."

Regarding
2424 Garden of the Gods
Project Statement, Revised November 2020 with
Proposed Concept Plan, Zone Change, and Master Plan Amendment

The above image is from Flying W. Ranch Rd. looking south across the parking lot that is proposed to be developed. The community provided artist rendering represents high-density, multi-family, residential units as defined in the Project Statement. The Project Statement proposes a maximum height of 45 ft. Street level at this location is 6,496, the berm/hill is at 6,504 or 8 feet above street level. The height of this building is approximately 22 feet. These measurements are verified in Google Earth Pro.

Summary:

Mountain Shadows Community Association (MSCA) is opposed to the proposed Concept Plan, Zone Change, and Master Plan Amendment because the proposed plan will not comply with stipulations in the Hillside Development Guidelines Manual.

Currently, the property at 2424 Garden of the Gods Rd. is appropriately zoned and fits in with the surrounding neighborhoods and community infrastructure. The current property is maximized with regard to the Hillside Development Guidelines Manual (see details below). Furthermore, it is maximized according to the Governor's Executive Order to protect iconic wildlife, including bighorn sheep. And, it is maximized according to the "Colorado Bighorn Sheep Management Plan". The "Bighorn Sheep, Mountain Shadows Testimony" is an additional document that substantiates the position of wildlife on the proposed development site. The Hillside Development Guideline Manual "...applies to lands within the hillside areas {and} wildlife habitat...".

More importantly, as demonstrated in this document, the developer NEVER addressed Hillside Overlay (HS) or explained how the proposed development project would meet the requirements in the Hillside Development Guidelines Manual (HDGM). The property is currently zoned PIP1 (Planned Industrial Park), PUD (Planned Unit Development), and A (Agricultural), all with a Hillside Overlay. A zone change to Planned Unit Development (PUD) with Hillside Overlay (PUD/HS) is requested for the entire 125-acre property.

The Zone Change proposes 450 multifamily residential units with a maximum height of 45 feet with 50-foot front setback, a 30-foot side setback, a 50-foot rear setback and a 100-foot setback when adjacent to residential. The Concept Plan proposes to develop in the area between the current facility and N. 30th St. {and implies along Flying W. Ranch Rd.}.

As demonstrated in this document, using Google Earth Pro, to measure ground elevations, building heights, and placing representative polygons and/or artist renditions of buildings with the same dimensions, all within the boundaries of the proposed development sites as described in the Zone Change and Concept Plan, this Project Plan fails to meet the guidelines as defined in the Hillside Development Guidelines Manual.

NOTE: While the Project Plan specifies residential units with a maximum height of 45 feet, this document demonstrates that 25 foot buildings will not satisfy the guidelines in the Hillside Development Guidelines Manual.

Furthermore, this very unique land mass is a natural northerly extension of the City’s Crown Jewel, The Garden of the Gods and the beautiful hillside property owned by the Navigators. It currently fits the criteria in the Hillside Development Guidelines Manual under “How to Use Manual”. “This manual applies to lands within the hillside areas of the City of Colorado Springs that are characterized by significant natural features that include ridgelines, bluffs, rock outcroppings, vegetation, natural drainage ways, wildlife habitat, geologic conditions, and slopes that contribute to the attractiveness of the community.”

With regards to section “E. ENVIRONMENTAL”, the Project Statement, Revised November 2020, made an unsubstantiated assertion “This is not habitat area for the Big Horn Sheep” prior to an official statement made by Colorado Parks and Wildlife (CPW), which was made one month later, on December 17, 2020 to Katelynn Wintz, Sr. Planner. The Mountain Shadows Community Association (MSCA) performed extensive research and created a document “Bighorn Sheep, Mountain Shadows Testimony”. This document clearly rebuts the CPW position statement “...there have been no observations of the sheep being on or using the proposed project area.” which was made in their December 17, 2020 response to the Sr. Planner.

Further stating in section “E. ENVIRONMENTAL”:

“The areas proposed ... {for} development are contained in the parts of the site that are currently used as parking and an area of abandoned overflow parking. These areas are already developed/disturbed. ... As noted above, any new development will be focused on the areas of the property that have already been disturbed by the development of parking lots. This is not habitat area for the Big Horn Sheep.”

The misunderstanding of wildlife behavior and unsubstantiated assertion that bighorn sheep will not be impacted by developing 450 high-density multi-family residential units on parking areas that have already been disturbed is contrary to the Colorado Bighorn Sheep Management Plan (Management Plan).

In the Management Plan, “Human Disturbance: Wild sheep have habituated to human activity in many areas where the activity is somewhat predictable temporally and spatially ...”. The current facility has maintained predictable, temporally, and spatially conditions since it was built circa 1991. People that work in this office facility, park their cars and go directly into the building. When they leave, they return to their cars and drive away. This behavior is predictable, temporally, and spatially. And, more importantly, is not threatening behavior toward the bighorn sheep.

When adding 450 multi-family, high-density, residential units, with an estimated 1,100 people in the initial phase, into this relatively small proposed development area, circumstances change dramatically. The Management Plan states;

1. “... walking with dogs, and activity near lambing areas may be most detrimental...”.
2. “...studied bighorns in relation to the development of a ski area, and found that bighorns were displaced by human activity.”
3. “... bighorn sheep moved in response to the presence of sheep researchers: ... at 440 m {1,443 ft.} sheep fled the area.”

In addition to the nearby lambing area, 1,427 feet from the development sits, that could easily be jeopardized, as disclosed in the “Bighorn Sheep, Mountain Shadows Testimony”, this entire Rampart Range bighorn sheep herd could have their habit displaced.

The Governor's Executive Order to protect iconic wildlife, including bighorn sheep, and their habitat should also be considered in the Environmental section of the Project Statement.

Hillside Development Guidelines Manual (summary):

How to Use Manual

This manual applies to lands within the hillside areas of the City of Colorado Springs that are characterized by significant natural features that include ridgelines, bluffs, rock outcroppings, vegetation, natural drainage ways, wildlife habitat, geologic conditions, and slopes that contribute to the attractiveness of the community.

Design Guidelines

OVERVIEW: LIVING AND BUILDING HOMES IN THE HILLSIDES

... The hills are where you can actually feel like you have moved to the Colorado mountains. ...

... Because the foothills are such a special area, there are a set of rules that apply to everyone who chooses to live there. Whether building a new home or you are in a house that has been around for 20 years, there are strictly enforced guidelines that regulate how you may treat your lot. ...

Homes in prominent locations must be sited and designed with the following in mind:

- Dwellings should be placed far enough apart to reveal views of the Front Range and other significant ridgelines FROM THE STREET AND FROM THE HOUSES DOWNHILL.*

The right to live in the City's hillside areas goes hand in hand with the responsibility to build in a environmentally sensitive manner. If the street you have chosen had a woodsy feel when you selected the site, it is your obligation to see that this feel still exists when you are finished. The house will need to appear as if it was designed for the site when viewed from all sides, but particularly so from the street.

BUILDING MULTI-FAMILY, OFFICE, INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL PROJECTS IN THE HILLSIDES

Single-Family homes are not the only projects built in the Hillside areas. Multi-family, commercial, office and industrial projects can also be appropriate if care is taken in the design of these projects to insure that important hillside characteristics are maintained.

The following is a list of design standards and guidelines which should be addressed in siting multi-family, commercial, office or industrial projects within Hillside Areas:

- Multi-family buildings should be designed in such a manner to provide the greatest degree of privacy possible for the individual structures as well as to adjacent properties.
- For building sites in proximity to ridgelines, additional height restrictions may be necessary to insure that rooflines will be located below the natural ridgeline.
- Building sites should be selected so that construction occurs below the ridgeline.
- The roof-line, based upon maximum permitted height, should not extend above the line of sight between a ridgeline and any public right-of-way,
- Significant views of the natural ridge silhouette from public rights-of-way and other public spaces should be retained.

Developer's Project Statement, Project Description

Zone Change:

The PUD also proposes to cap the number of any proposed multifamily residential units at 450 units, with a maximum density across the two potential redevelopment areas (Areas B and C on Concept Plan) of 18 units per acre. The PUD imposes a maximum height for the zone of 45 feet, which is consistent with the existing PIP1 zone and the substantial existing buildings, which are 45 feet tall. The maximum lot coverage for the site will be 40% and the setbacks will remain as they are for the current PIP1 zoning, which is a 50-foot front setback, a 30-foot side setback, a 50-foot rear setback and a 100-foot setback when adjacent to residential, which is the case for the north boundary of the property.

Master Plan Amendment:

The maximum residential density for the 26 acres of Office/Commercial/Civic/Residential is 18 dwelling units per acre to facilitate multifamily units. ...

Concept Plan:

The Concept Plan for the 125-acre ... shows the existing buildings to remain in place The plan also identifies two areas with future development ... (Areas B and C), ... The former overflow parking area and vacant land to the west of the main Garden of the Gods Road entrance ... has the greatest potential for redevelopment. This area has good access and visibility to the 30th Street and Garden of the Gods Road intersection It is buffered ... to the west by the proposed open space. The second area with future development potential is the portion of the existing parking lot that fronts 30th Street. It is also buffered from the neighborhood to the north by the existing buildings. The Concept Plan shows the entire western portion of the site as open space due to the steep topography, which makes it unsuitable for development.

E. ENVIRONMENTAL:

1. THE LAND USE MASTER PLAN PRESERVES SIGNIFICANT NATURAL SITE FEATURES AND VIEW CORRIDORS. THE COLORADO SPRINGS OPEN SPACE PLAN SHALL BE CONSULTED IN IDENTIFYING THESE FEATURES.

The areas proposed ... development are contained in the parts of the site that are currently used as parking and an area of abandoned overflow parking. These areas are already developed/disturbed. The proposed PUD limits the height of any new buildings to 45-feet, which is the same as the current PIP1 zoning and consistent with the height of the substantial existing buildings on the property. Any new development will be of a similar scale to the existing buildings and will be set against the back drop of those buildings or the preserved 55 acres of open space. Accordingly, there will be minimal impact on the view corridor of the foothills and no impact on the views and separated by a substantial ridge, property owned by Flying W Ranch, and The Navigators property.

Concerns have been expressed by neighbors about the impact on Big Horn Sheep habitat. As noted above, any new development will be focused on the areas of the property that have already been disturbed by the development of parking lots. This is not habitat area for the Big Horn Sheep. The Big Horn Sheep habitat is situated on the adjacent Navigators property and Forest Service land, which is 0.6 miles to the west of the western edge of the proposed development area and separated from it by a substantial ridge and property owned by Flying W Ranch.

MSCA Rebuttel of the Project Statement as it pertains to the Hillside Development Guidelines Manual: NOTE: The examples presented are of 25 ft. tall buildings. The PROPOSAL is 45 ft.

Excerpts from the Hillside Development Guidelines Manual (HDGM):

1. reveal views of the Front Range and other significant ridgelines FROM THE STREET AND FROM THE HOUSES DOWNHILL
2. If the street you have chosen had a woodsy feel when you selected the site, it is your obligation to see that this feel still exists when you are finished.
3. The house will need to appear as if it was designed for the site when viewed from all sides, but particularly so from the street.
4. insure that important hillside characteristics are maintained
5. provide the greatest degree of privacy ... as well as to adjacent properties
6. insure that rooflines will be located below the natural ridgeline.
7. The roof-line ... should not extend above the line of sight between a ridgeline and any public right-of-way
8. Significant views of the natural ridge silhouette from public rights-of-way and other public spaces should be retained

From street view, the current facility at 2424 Garden of the Gods Rd. is in compliance with the HDGM since it retains the views of the natural ridgeline. The two images are model examples of compliant hillside development.

The height of the existing facility is 46 feet tall as demonstrated in Google Earth Pro. This is the southeast corner of the existing facility.

When placing a 25 foot tall building on top of the 23 foot hill, in the proposed development areas, the views of the natural ridgeline will be blocked. The elevations and setbacks are substantiated in the Google Earth images below.

The “white” line in the following image, demonstrates the views of the natural ridgeline will be eliminated.

BEFORE: Southeast corner along N. 30th Street. AFTER: Southeast corner along N. 30th Street. AFTER: Southeast corner along N. 30th Street.

The “black” line is approximately 12 feet above the hill. This demonstrates that motor vehicles (cars, SUV’s, pickup trucks, etc.) that are half the height of the “black” line (approximately 6 feet) begin to block the views of the natural ridgeline.

The Concept Plan identifies “The former overflow parking area and vacant land to the west of the main Garden of the Gods Road entrance {and} the existing parking lot that fronts 30th Street” for the development areas.

On the right side of the image above, this represents a building approximately 48 feet tall as seen from street level. 48 feet is the approximate height of a 5-story building. There are no other buildings along N. 30th St. or Garden of the Gods Rd that project 48 feet above street level.

The developers position from a Neighborhood meeting with City Planning: (paraphrased) The parking lots are already developed, therefore, any additional development should not be a concern. (MSCA position) With respect to the Hillside Development Guidelines Manual, by placing vehicles on the existing parking lots, the height of the vehicles begins to exceed the maximum height of the guidelines with reference to blocking the view of the natural ridgeline.

The renderings presented above are of 20 to 25 foot structures which clearly demonstrate that they do NOT block the view of the natural ridgeline.

While the proposed maximum building height is 45 feet, a building that is 25 feet tall will block the views of the natural ridgeline and will NOT fit in with the design of this community.

To further validate the previous artist renditions and Google Earth Pro measurements, polygon structures were defined in Google Earth Pro with the parameter of 8 meters (26 ft.) and relative to ground. The maximum height of the building are specified at 26 feet which means, if there is an uphill side to the building, that side will be lower than 26 feet.

Even with the structures defined to be 26 feet tall, they substantially block the view of the natural ridgeline. The image below contains the Google Earth polygon structures and is oriented facing southwest. The view is between the parking lot adjacent to N. 30th St. and the southeast side of the current facility.

2424 Garden of the Gods Rd. "Project" Concept Buildings as defined by NES

February 17, 2021

NOTE: This document is using "2424_GOG_Concept_B_Final_REDUCED.pdf", provided by NES. This document contains the shorter, 2 story buildings.

Summary:

NES provided two concept diagrams. Concept A contains mostly 3 story buildings along Flying W. Ranch Rd. and N. 30th St. Concept B contains mostly 2 story buildings along Flying W. Ranch Rd. and N. 30th St. This document will demonstrate that the Concept B, 2 story buildings will significantly block the views of the foothills and mountains.

NES Response to MSCA Concerns

March 2, 2021

The building heights (33' for the 2-story building and 42' for the 3-story building) were accounted for in SketchUp which has full parameter capabilities.

The following diagram is from the NES Visual Impact Analysis document and is used to perform this analysis.

Looking south on N. 30th St.

The 32 ft light pole is circled in RED (the exact location is explained below).

The Red horizontal line represents the height of the 32 ft light pole.

The Yellow horizontal line is the height of the NES depicted 2-story buildings for Concept B which are SUPPOSED to be defined as being 33 ft tall in the "NES Response to MSCA Concerns" (see above).

Using proportional calculations against the known height of the light pole, the NES depicted buildings are 13.5 feet tall.

(REVISED CONCEPT FOR 220 UNITS IN PHASE 2; 420 TOTAL UNITS)

To determine the exact location of the light pole in the NES rendering, the “street view” option in Google Earth Pro was used to obtain the near identical view. The subject light pole is circled in Red.

The following diagram shows pairs of yellow Pins being placed along the road and hill while siting the light pole in Google Earth Pro and “driving” south (or to the left in the diagram) on N. 30th St.

The blue lines connect the pairs of Pins to establish the triangulation of the subject light pole.

Google Earth Pro was then used to establish the 200 foot setback. NOTE: Google Earth Pro accuracy is withing 1 foot.

At street view on N. 30th St., the NES subject light pole is identified in the Blue circle. The Red horizontal line represents the 32 ft height of the light pole. As mentioned above, the NES defined height of a 2-story building is 33 feet. This diagram clearly demonstrates that from street view and a 200 foot setback, the views of the hillsides and mountains are 100% blocked.

MSCA REBUTTAL
February 24, 2021
of the
NES Visual Impact Analysis
February 22, 2021

Summary:

The “Visual Impact Analysis” as submitted by NES:

1. Did NOT identify a valid engineering tool that was used to create the Visual Impact Analysis.
2. Did NOT substantiate building heights or setbacks using a modeling tool with parameter capabilities.
3. Did NOT substantiate the building heights by utilizing known points of reference.
4. Did NOT substantiate the heights of the buildings with mathematical computations.
5. At best, the Visual Impact Analysis was created by a person only skilled in PhotoShop.

The MSCA Rebuttal utilizes known points of reference as substantiated in Google Earth Pro and mathematical computation to accurately establish the height of the buildings as proposed in the NES Visual Impact Analysis.

Observation:

Based on the engineering analysis in this document, 18 foot tall buildings (one 10 foot floor with an 8 foot gable) at the specified density will significantly block the views of the hillsides, ridgelines, and mountains.

MSCA Detail Analysis:

Establish the Height of the Light Poles (a known reference):

All light poles on the 2424 Garden of the Gods Rd. property were measured using Google Earth Pro. As seen in the picture below, the height of the light poles were obtained by hovering the cursor over the light pole and recording the elevation as provided in the bottom right hand corner of the screen. The elevation at ground level, next to the light pole was obtained using the same method. The ground elevation was subtracted from the height of the light pole. As seen in the picture below, these light poles are 32 feet tall.

Building Heights:

Standard building heights are calculated at 10 feet per floor with a 10 feet for a gable roof as used in the Visual Impact Analysis. In the following analysis, a conservative height is calculated at 10 feet per floor and 8 feet for a gable roof. In other words, a 3 story building is calculated at $(3 \times 10) + 8$ feet or 38 feet tall. A 2 story building is calculated at $(10 \times 2) + 8$ or 28 feet tall.

For NES Phase 2 Concept A:

The light pole, in the red circle, is 32 feet tall as depicted by the red line. In the photo editor, the height of the light pole was measured in millimeters, 26mm. Cross multiplication was used to establish the green line that represents a 38 foot tall building. $(26\text{mm} * 38\text{ft}) / 32\text{ft} = 31\text{mm}$. The height of the subject building, depicted by the yellow line, closest to the light pole was measured and the height was calculated to be $(19\text{mm} * 32\text{ft}) / 26\text{mm} = 23$ feet tall.

Based on these calculations, the building heights for Phase 2, Concept A are NOT accurately represented. The green line in this diagram more accurately represents the height at the subject building at this location.

(ORIGINAL CONCEPT FOR 240 UNITS IN PHASE 2; 450 TOTAL UNITS)

2.1 PHASE 2 CONCEPT A

For NES Phase 2 Concept B:

The light pole, in the red circle, is 32 feet tall as depicted by the red line. In the photo editor the height of the light pole was measured in millimeters, 25mm. Cross multiplication was used to establish the green line that represents the 28 foot tall building. $(25\text{mm} * 28\text{ft}) / 32\text{ft} = 22\text{mm}$. The height of the subject building, depicted by the yellow line, closest to the light pole was measured and the height was calculated to be $(11\text{mm} * 32\text{ft}) / 26\text{mm} = 13.5$ feet tall.

Based on these calculations, the building height for Phase 2, Concept B are NOT accurately represented. The green line in this diagram more accurately represents the height of the subject building at this location.

(REVISED CONCEPT FOR 220 UNITS IN PHASE 2; 420 TOTAL UNITS)

2.2 PHASE 2 CONCEPT B

For NES Phase 1 Concept A:

Establish the Height of the Hill (to create a point of reference):

As seen in Google Earth Pro, the elevation where the corner of the building behind the retention pond is substantiated at 6,519 feet. The elevation at the base of the hill is 6,496 feet. The height of the hill is calculated as $6,519 - 6,496 = 23$ feet.

This is the NES diagram for Phase 1, Concept B. This 2 story subject structure, indicated by the red arrows is behind the detention pond.

NOTE: In Phase 1, Concept A, this subject structure is identified as a 3 story building.

For NES Phase 1 Concept A:

The hill is 23 feet tall as depicted by the red line. In the photo editor, the height of the hill was measured in millimeters, 29mm. Cross multiplication was used to establish the green line that represents a 38 foot tall building. $(29\text{mm} * 38\text{ft}) / 23\text{ft} = 48\text{mm}$. The height of the subject building, depicted by the yellow line was calculated to be $(31\text{mm} * 23\text{ft}) / 29\text{mm} = 24.6$ feet tall.

Based on these calculations, the building height for Phase 1, Concept A are NOT accurately represented. The green line in this diagram more accurately represents the height of the subject building at this location.

This is the 38 foot line.

This is the 45 foot line.

Height of Hill = 23 feet.

This building is 24.6 feet tall.

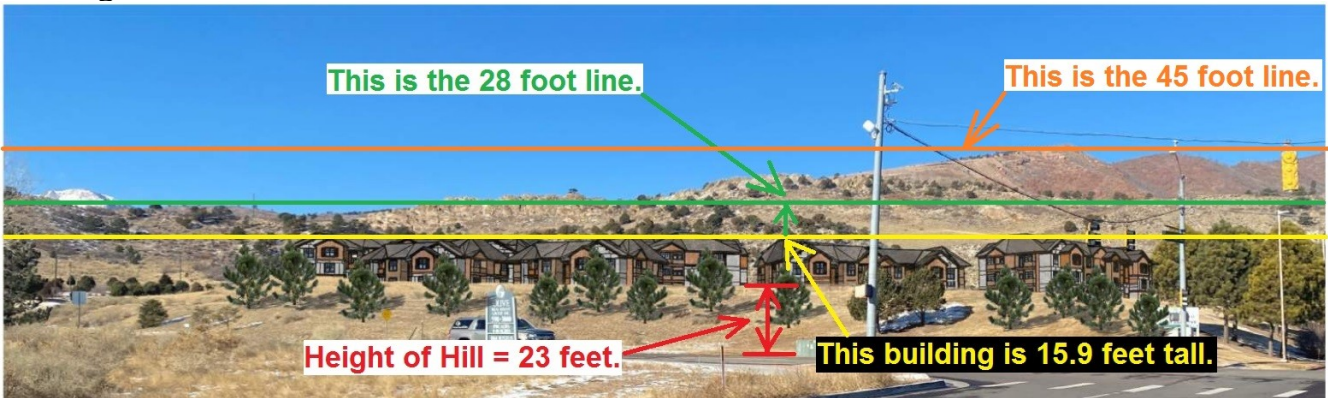

(ORIGINAL CONCEPT FOR 210 UNITS IN PHASE 1; 450 TOTAL UNITS)

1.1 PHASE 1 CONCEPT A

For NES Phase 1 Concept B:

The hill is 23 feet tall as depicted by the red line. In the photo editor, the height of the hill was measured in millimeters, 29. Cross multiplication was used to establish the green line that represents the 28 foot tall building. $(29\text{mm} * 28\text{ft}) / 23\text{ft} = 35\text{mm}$. The height of the subject building, depicted by the yellow line was calculated to be $(20\text{mm} * 23\text{ft}) / 29\text{mm} = 15.9$ feet tall.

Based on these calculations, the building height for Phase 1, Concept A are NOT accurately represented. The green line in this diagram more accurately represents the height of the subject building at this location.

This is the 28 foot line.

This is the 45 foot line.

Height of Hill = 23 feet.

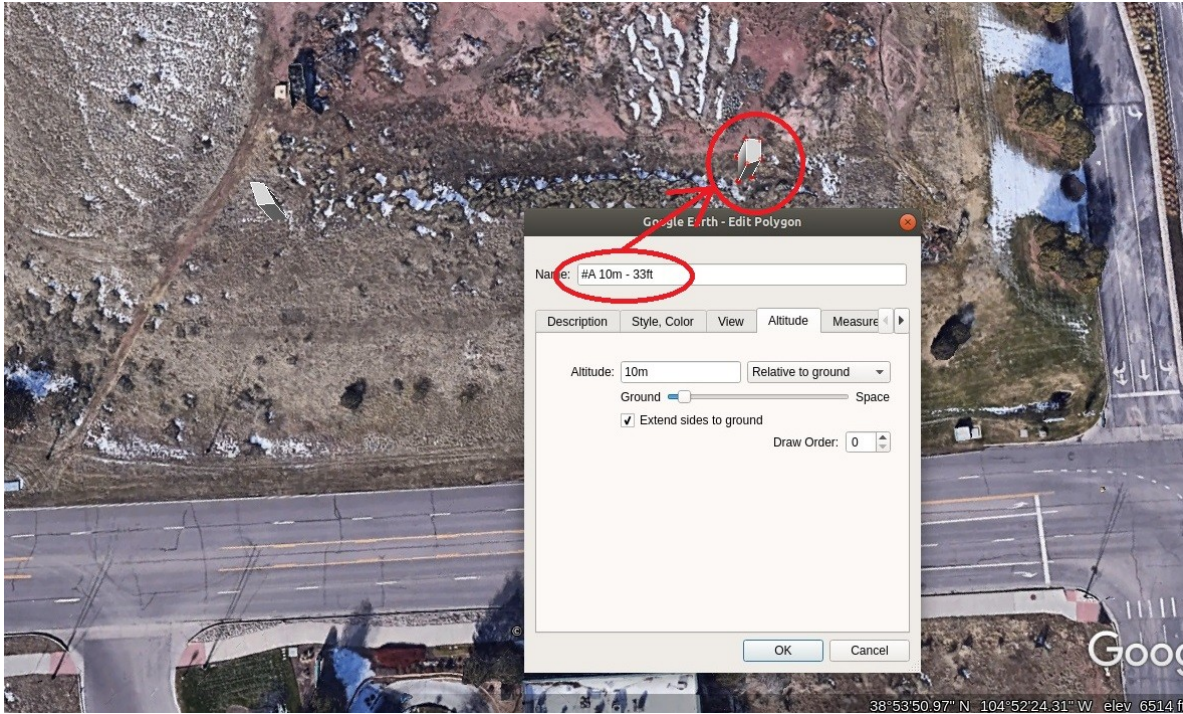

This building is 15.9 feet tall.

(REVISED CONCEPT FOR 190 UNITS IN PHASE 1; 420 TOTAL UNITS)

1.2 PHASE 1 CONCEPT B

For Phase 1, an alternate method was performed, as follows, to calculate and validate the previous findings.

In the following diagram, using Google Earth Pro, a polygon was defined to be 10 meters (33 feet) tall as substantiated in the parameters in Google Earth Pro. The polygon is inside the red circle.

The polygon is placed at the approximate location of the subject building as identified in the previous Phase 1 example.

As seen in the following diagram, the polygon is the vertical structure near the center of the picture. The red line indicates the height of the polygon at 33 feet. The setback of the polygon, from the road is 158 feet. NOTE: In this image, the height of the proposed building was reduced from 28 feet to 26 feet. This demonstrates that 100% of the hillside and mountains will be blocked.

Even a 26 foot tall structure will completely block the views of the foothills and mountains. NOTE: The image of the building appears to be a 3 story building. However, it was scaled to 26 feet which is 2 feet shorter than the other examples in this document.

Proposed Building Elevation Study

Areas B & C

2424 Garden of the Gods Rd.

February 12, 2021

Starting with the City of Colorado Springs Hillside Overlay webpage:

- The Hillside Overlay seeks to conserve the aesthetic qualities of hillside areas within the City,
- The predominant development type in hillside areas is single family detached housing.
- Developing within the Hillside Overlay zone district requires an environmental sensitivity above and beyond that applied to general property within the City limits.
- Development within the Hillside Overlay zone requires additional attention to slopes, grading, vegetation and building height.

COS Hillside Overlay Ordinance (96-80 14.1-2-504) & HSO City Code (7.3.504):

- Certain areas of the City are characterized by significant natural features that include ridgelines, bluffs, rock outcroppings, vegetation...wildlife habitat...and slopes that contribute to the attractiveness of the community
- For multi-family uses, height shall be determined at the time of zoning and development plan review...based on considerations of site factors including, but not limited to, visual analysis,...
- For multi-family residential and nonresidential development proposals...requirements and review criteria shall be addressed, recognizing that these requirements will apply on a site-wide rather than a lot-by-lot basis
- Visual impacts upon offsite areas are to be reduced or reasonably mitigated including increased setbacks from ridgelines and special height restrictions
- Proposal meets the spirit and intent of the Hillside Design Manual

Applicable Hillside Design Manual Objectives (see Manual page 4):

- To enhance the quality of life of existing and future residents by the preservation and protection of the City's most significant natural features.
- To preserve and protect the unique and special natural features and aesthetic qualities of the hillside areas.
- To preserve and protect wildlife habitat.
- To respect the existing views to the mountains and foothills, and privacy of the adjacent homes.
- To recognize community concerns related to development and its impact upon visually significant hillsides, ridgelines, bluffs, and landforms.

Applicable Design Manual Standards & Guidelines (Manual, pages 21-22) in siting multi-family, commercial, office or industrial projects within Hillside Areas:

- For building sites in proximity to ridgelines, additional height restrictions may be necessary to ensure that rooflines will be located below the natural ridgeline.
- The roofline, based upon maximum permitted height, should not extend above the line of sight between a ridgeline and any public right-of-way, whether the ridgeline is above or below the right-of-way.
- Significant views of the natural ridge silhouette from public rights-of-way and other public spaces should be retained.

Hillside Development Guidelines Manual

OVERVIEW: LIVING AND BUILDING HOMES IN THE HILLSIDES

BEFORE YOU BUILD... The question of how to build in the hillsides should be addressed by starting miles from your proposed home site. Looking toward the mountains it is easy to see how the ecotones change as you head up the sides of the foothills. Prairie gives way to Scrub Oak and this in turn is replaced by Ponderosas, Cedars and other trees. It is not a smooth ascendance, rather hills top out in ridgelines and small peaks reach toward higher ones. Around here, all is ultimately capped by the grandeur of our most famous landmark, Pikes Peak.

The average building height along the Garden of the Gods Corridor is 26 feet tall as seen from street level. A 45' tall building placed on the 24' tall hill along N. 30th St. will appear to be 69 feet tall as seen from street level. Even a 26 foot tall building will appear to be 50' tall.

Placing buildings that will be much higher, as seen from street level, from the rest of the buildings in the area is contrary to the Hillside Development Guidelines Manual.

CONCLUSION:

The Concept Plan does not fit in with the neighborhood or the surrounding area.

More importantly, the Concept Plan fails to meet the requirements of:

- The COS Hillside Overlay Ordinance (96-80 14.1-2-504)
- HSO City Code (7.3.504)
- Applicable Hillside Design Manual Objectives (see Manual page 4)
- Applicable Design Manual Standards & Guidelines (Manual, pages 21-22)

PETITION to Stop the Zone Change at 2424 Garden of the Gods Rd.

A developer filed plans with City Planning to build 450 multi-family units, with a maximum height of 45 feet, at 2424 Garden of the Gods Rd along 30th St.

By completing this PETITION and clicking "Submit", you are at least 18 years old and OPPOSED to the proposed Concept Plan, Zone Change, and Master Plan Amendment that allows this development for reasons listed below. (Your information will NOT be sold.)

One entry per person, per property, where you own or rent. Your significant other may participate separately. Please share this link with others.

IMPORTANT: You can also help by dialing in to the Planning Commission public hearing to listen to their decision. January 21, 2021 at 8:30am. This topic is scheduled to start at 9:00am. +1 720-617-3426 Conference ID: 815 13 701 #

You can also help by sending your opposition email to your City Council Member & At Large Members. Find your Council Members email at City Council email. If you don't know your Council Member, go to this map "City Council Districts" and type your address.

1. VIEWS: The City's responsibility is to comply with Hillside Development & PlanCOS guidelines to protect hillside overlays and "Majestic Landscapes" at the west end of Garden of Gods Road, 30th St, & Flying W. Ranch Rd.
2. PARKS: There are not enough parks in this area, Central West. The City's responsibility is to comply with the proposed Parkland Dedication Ordinance goal of 5.5 acres/1,000 people. A one-time catch-up acquisition of this property will increase the City's lowest ranked 2.0 acres/1,000 people.

NOTE: High-density housing without a SIGNIFICANT addition of parkland reduces the number of parkland acres per person.

3. WILDLIFE: The City's responsibility is to comply with the “Colorado Bighorn Sheep Management Plan” and Governor's Executive Order to PROTECT iconic wildlife including bighorn sheep.

4. TRAFFIC: High-density housing along with 6 million Garden of Gods visitors per year will increase traffic. Currently, there is little to no bicycle infrastructure (signs, bike lanes, safe continuity between roads and bike paths), it is the City's responsibility to protect cyclists & improve traffic flow for motorists by adding the proper infrastructure.

5. POPULATION & CRIME: Approximately 30% increase to Mountain Shadows population in this small area will increase opportunity crimes and added stress on natural & public resources. High Density Residents could damage the hillside and trespass onto the Navigators & Flying W. Ranch properties, as no Park Space has been allocated.

6. FIRE SAFETY: Increased population exacerbates evacuation in the event of fire (Ref. Waldo Canyon wildfire 2012 – 2 people perished & 346 homes destroyed. Plus, 5 local wildfires in 5 weeks in the fall of 2020).

-Roads & access as related to Fire evacuation should be addressed & managed for all of west areas. - I would hope that the city would add more park land than the ordinance requires. The City and owners of this land really need to have a hard look at what kind of city we want to remain. -The abundance of tourists will add to many of the issues sited.

1. The eastbound traffic on GOG at 5PM is horrible. GOG cannot support that many new vehicles in that area. 2. I worked at MCI for 5 years. During that time I would frequently see bighorn sheep negotiating the hogback ridge right above the area in which they want to build.

2424 is not a necessity. The local roads are inadequate as an evacuation route for the current population much less for the intended addition. Moreover, there is no need for additional residences in a heavy wildlife area when there is an abundance of open land that is much more suitable for construction and has a better option of infrastructure out East of town

30th Street has not been designed to hold more traffic. This street should have been made into 4 lanes 20 years ago but I still hear no plans to widen due to increased city traffic. We need to remember the problems evacuating during the Waldo Fire. The height of proposed housing does not "fit" into the type of housing in the Mountain Shadows area.

A development like this will negatively effect the wildlife that call Garden of the Gods and the surrounding area home. They need habitat in order to survive. If you want to protect the Park and its wildlife, they must have a buffer area to depend on for sustenance. Building high density apartments in this sensitive are will compromise the habitat significantly. Thus the city destroying the very attribute that makes the area attractive.

A STRONG NO vote for rezoning 2424 GOG. There is plenty of land other places. Cost of living on west side does not suitable for "affordable housing". Property values will plummet, wildlife will be affected, safety will be seriously compromised for current residents. Keep high density housing away from our natural forest lands. Thank you.

Absolutely appose this change in zoning. Make the area a park with large one acre high-dollar SINGLE FAMILY HOMES. Otherwise, leave it alone. Its too crowded in all our west side parks. It has become ridiculously crowded over here. The traffic is a massive concern. The impact of the "luxury" homes off centennial have not been realized yet. They are four plexes! Luxury homes. We were lied to before. DO NOT PLEASE DO NOT rezone 2424. THANKS!

Absolutely the wrong idea developing this area. Not only the bighorn habitat being affected it will mostly certainly decrease the tourism to the area We need the tourism dollars. If multi family residences go in the whole park will be affected and a loss of one of the country's most distinct and visited landmarks will most certainly be destroyed. If this developer can't see the negative impact of this idea, somethings wrong.

Adding apartments in this area, 450 extra people I have been told, will negatively stress the 30th Street corridor, Garden of the Gods Rd, and Flying W Ranch Rd. It will stress the bighorn sheep herd that moves through the upper parts of our neighborhood. Also Chipeta Elementary School is small and will be impacted by this plan.

Appreciate our city wanting to provide additional housing however those projected will not truly address affordable housing issues as they will most likely be in the cost range or even higher than apt complex directly across Verizon complex.. But more importantly is the traffic congestion which will result thus directly affecting safety of evacuation in that area. We all remember this issue during the Waldo Canyon Fire evacuation which resulted in 2 residents perishing.

As a 27 year native, it breaks my heart to see greed overtake the natural beauty of our city. Trails are packed and need reservations now, downtown is looking like a big city and not the small mountain town it once was. Stop allowing transplants to raise the demand for housing and giving in by building apartments and suburban developments where our natural landscape should be allowed to flourish!

As a 27 year resident at, and owner of, this address, I am absolutely opposed to the zone change proposal, as well as the high-density buildings, for what should be very obvious reasons. The fact that we have to justify our disapproval to some pencil-necked power mongers and greedy get-rich-quick schemers is insulting. Move on, and ruin some other nice neighborhood if you must. Our neighborhood is not at your disposal.

As a 4th generation native to Colorado Springs, I'm deeply saddened that the city continues to assault the land, erase our history, and degrade our quality of life on the foothills in order to make them more money. We are already enriched with the natural beauty that is here and yet the city leaders continue to make our city so ugly. There is no reason why we need to keep encroaching nearer the mountains and blocking our collective views of the foothills. General Palmer thought about future citizens of this city when he made ordinances to keep buildings from blocking the grandeur of the peak and the mountains. His vision was for this city to be as culturally significant and beautifully constructed as European cities, like London. However, our city looks like a trash pit, mainly because of the costly, damaging, and prevalent redevelopment ventures that the city council and mayor keep shoving down our throats. Plus, we do not have enough arterial roads that can accommodate the many thousands of people that keep coming here to escape in case of wildfire. The proposed area for this development was almost in a direct path of the last major wildfire. Garden of the Gods road was completely jammed with cars trying to escape that fire and there are no viable other WE arterial roads in that area of town for people to use if there is a wildfire in the mountains. There are a TON of ugly, abandoned, or under-utilized buildings and commercial buildings that can accommodate this project. I say, no new buildings until the old ones are used first!

As a cyclist and near by resident I couldn't imagine all the added danger with so many more vehicles due to a new complex. 30th St heading toward garden of the gods rd isn't marked for bikes and with the amount of tourist and local traffic already it gets sketchy from people parking in nonmarked pull offs and the side of the road. The bike/walking paths going through the park are necessary to help keep cyclist safe from traffic. More work needs to be done before bombarding the area with unnecessary homes that don't help the landscape.

COLORADO SPRINGS, CO 80919

As a homeowner at 5325 Aubrey Way, 80919, I strongly oppose the proposed plan for 2424 Garden of the Gods. This area is home to unique wildlife, such as bighorn sheep, mountain lions, bobcats, bears, bald eagles, etc. Adding more traffic and streetlights (light pollution) will further invade the natural habits of these precious animals. Also, the congestion of 30th Street will greatly increase, especially near the City's most iconic park, Garden of the Gods. While a traffic circle is proposed for that area, it will not be able to accommodate the increased traffic in a safe way that already sees confused tourists trying to enter the park. While the Garden is trying to reduce traffic and car emissions to preserve its unique beauty, this seems to smack in the face of these efforts. The three District 11 schools serving this area – Chipeta Elementary, Holmes Middle School and Coronado High School – could not handle the influx of more students without significant additional construction (classrooms, infrastructure) and increased staffing. Please never forget the risk of wildfire this area still faces. While I feel very fortunate to have purchased an existing home in this area 10 years ago, this is much more than “Not In My Backyard,” given the unique environs of the mountain range that makes up the Garden of the Gods and Flying W Ranch. Thank you, Barb

Reichert

As a long-time resident, local health care professional, and citizen hoping to buy a home in the city soon I strongly oppose this proposed development and it's placement. It is imperative that you deny the proposed Concept Plan, Zone Change, and Master Plan Amendment that allows this development. Our city's parkland, wildlife, and fire safety must be prioritized over this property development. If the council supports development of more housing and multi family residences then it must also keep in mind affordability and impact on existing infrastructure.

Piss poor planning from the city of Colorado Springs has severe traffic problems in all areas of the city. After witnessing the Waldo Canyon Fire decimate the western flanks of the city with the evacuations made any movement impossible. Colorado Springs can no longer be built up and ruined at the hands of developers. For once we must take a stand against development that ruins our beautiful landscape, displaces wildlife and flies in the face of rules meant to control all of this. Think about how much traffic is already generated during tourist season and the problems created by this. This plan is absolutely detrimental to surrounding communities who will not only have to look at it but be affected by more traffic on already over loaded infrastructure. After the dust settles and the developer has moved on, we are the ones left to deal with the issues. There must be a better way!

Dear Planning Committee:Currently, COS Trails and Open Space (per Scott Abbott/ Mountain Shadows resident and Director of Parks and Recreation) have the monies in their land purchase budget to purchase the aforementioned property right now to fit in their current master plan of ringing the West side of Colorado Springs with a buffer of open space between residential development and Pikes National Forest land. Additionally, I'd request a historic and archeological study with the state of CO, as this land is former Ute land, and development may not continue without this safeguard. At it's best, it'll allow strategic time for planning, communication, and organization with your constituents. I'd also contact both State legislature with COS connections to the Westside and the Rocky Mountain Bighorn Sheep Foundation, as they have funds to preserve and protect bighorn habitat, especially for lambs.Finally, a grassroots campaign of inviting families with children to mail colored postcards of the property to City Council will have a pathos effect as well.Just a few thoughts from an outdoors educator, former Pikes Peak Ranger, and a fellow family who is calling upon City Leadership to protect this legacy land for future generations, as Palmer, Stratton, and Penrose established through precedent.Take care,Ramsey, Kristen, Wade, and Corrinne Ross

Developers can redevelop quickly and easily, nature cannot. The wildlife cannot. There is such little preserved land left, how can anyone be so audacious as to think their profits are worth the loss of a piece of land so invaluable as this. We can't keep surrendering our environment to greed. If a legislator is reading this, I beg you to consider a place in nature you've visited in your life that felt profound, that moved you, that imbued you with a sense of wonder. Now imagine it as a strip mall. A hotel. A bank. A restaurant. A parking lot. Is it worth it? We have enough of all of those things. We have nowhere near enough natural land left, and we sacrifice more of it every day to greed. Please, help us preserve what little has survived us.

Development Fill-in projects are great, but absolutely NOT near our city's most prominent natural resource and economic asset - Garden of the Gods. Much as been written about how present development right on the boundaries of the park have diminished its beauty and threatened its flora and fauna. This developer has many other location choices in this city. DO NOT PERMIT further damage to occur.

Development in Colorado Springs has gone off the charts in recent years, ESPECIALLY this past year. The last thing we need is another high-density housing complex. PLEASE, cancel this crazy plan to put an apartment complex at the top of Garden of the Gods Rd. PLEASE!!! What kind of city do we want this year, next, and in five years??? We're headed the wrong direction!!!

Development is fine, if done well. This seems like a bunch of apartments, that's it, then we lose views, but more importantly, lose access out of the neighborhood in an emergency. My husband barely made it out during the fire. Thank God we only lost our home that time, and not his life.

Do not allow the elected officials to usurp and circumvent the people by allowing 2424 to be developed. If they get their way they will destroy the beauty of our remaining westside for profit and gain and possibly endanger people and wildlife. I am a native and my ancestors all lived on Conejos street. They took it under the guise of urban renewal and ran the poor black and hispanics out of the area. Now they are at it again. A word to the wise ought to be sufficient. Its all about corporate greed and power. Good luck.

During the Waldo Canyon Fire, we had but 3 hours notice to evacuate. My wife and I packed as much as we could in 2 cars and then left our subdivision. It took another 1½ hours to get from my house to a facility to board our 2 dogs at the SW corner of Garden of the Gods & N Nevada. It then took us another 2 hours to reconnect and realize that there were no available rooms. We had reservations in Denver for Friday through Sunday, but found nothing closer than Broomfield to spend Thursday night. We finally ate in north CS around 9:30 PM before hitting heavy traffic en route to Broomfield. What will the additional loading of people and vehicles do if there's a next time. PLEASE don't permit high occupancy development in this area; it is packed full enough as it is. And, there's another proposed multiunit high density development plan in the works for the area across Centennial from the medical buildings and the Chase Bank. Our streets, schools, fire, and police can't handle much, if any, more.

During the Waldo Canyon Wildfire our neighborhood was traffic in a deadlock and residents could not evacuate from the area. Our density is at it's maximum and does not need anymore housing units. Commercial zoning was as it was intended and should stay that way!

Evacuation routes in case of fire will be adversely affected by increased congestion due to apartment traffic. The traffic congestion during the 2012 fire evacuation was bad enough without the addition of an entire apartment complex full of people and their vehicles. Which entity (developer, owner, city, etc) will be liable if there is loss of life due to congestion or blocked exit routes? No one will be able to claim the casualties were unforeseeable. The residents have vociferously warned the advocates for the new apartment complex.

Everyone north of that intersection will be impacted by the increased traffic on the main thoroughfare from the northwest side to Highway 24. 30th Street is not just a pretty street and a way to get to Garden of the Gods. It is the way most of us use to get to Highway 24. And so you are going to considerably add to the already over-crowded road and long traffic jams of people from this side of town trying to get places. I realize that you are going to "improve" 30th over the next two years but that "improvement" isn't increasing capacity at all. It won't even help much with current capacity issues although it will allow vehicles a little more space to get past bicycles. Aside from that, there will be no improvement and now you want to add hundreds of additional vehicles each day on that road. Where is the logic in that? And, you're going to increase the traffic on Garden of the Gods, an already stressed road at rush hour. The traffic study was useless because it was done when people were staying home. Go out from 4-6 PM Monday through Friday and tell me how the traffic is from the west end of Garden of the Gods to I-25. It's more like gridlock it than traffic. I lived in Mountain Shadows for many years before moving slightly north and the traffic on Garden of the Gods Road has been increasing steadily for as long as I have lived here. There is no relief because you have no additional east/west corridors you can develop. Woodmen is too far north to relieve any of the Garden of the Gods Road congestion and Vindicator/Rockrimmon can't handle the volume of Garden of the Gods, neither can 30th to get people to Vindicator/Rockrimmon. And, now you want to add hundreds of vehicles making multiple trips up and down Garden of the Gods Road every day. It is unconscionable that anyone in government would do that. It fails everyone who will be using the road; current residents, future residents, and tourists wanting to visit the state treasure we happen to have on this side of town. The city leaders failed to plan for years and years on how to move people around on the west side of town. We have extremely limited roads and they are already full. Don't compound the problem by adding even more vehicles with no plan on what to do with them. And day-to-day capacity issues on 30th street and Garden of the Gods pale in comparison to what is going to happen to the ability to flee during a fire. My previous home was on Lions Gate Lane. That name probably rings a bell to you (if it doesn't it should) because of the role it played in the Waldo Fire. The evacuation for that fire was a nightmare for every single person involved in it. Most importantly for the discussion about adding hundreds of residents (and even some tourists if they build a hotel) is that the Waldo Fire evacuation didn't evacuate the whole area at one time. And even with the staged evacuation where Mountain Shadows was evacuated before Peregrine and the rest of the NW side, it was a nightmare. We already have too few roads for the residents here to get out quickly and safely. Please don't add more residents (and potentially tourists in hotels) until you add more roads out of the area. People working in that complex are NOT the same as residents. You can tell people not to come to work if there's danger. That's different than evacuating people from their homes. And, the wildlife impact will be huge. People working in offices aren't going to go harass wildlife. It's different when there are people living there full-time. They want places to walk and recreate. They'll have dogs and cats that chase and harass wildlife. This is not an issue of "I'm here first." My family has been in Colorado since the 1880s. I have no problem with development. But this is the wrong place to put hundreds of new residents. If you want to add residents, make a plan for infrastructure FIRST. How will you get them out in a fire? How will you keep the bighorn sheep safe? How will you mitigate all of the light from the new residences that affect animals? How will you deal with all of the additional vehicles that will be traveling on a daily basis on roads that already see traffic jams, delays, and gridlocks.

Garden of the Gods is a crown jewel in Colorado Springs. What this city does not need is an overcrowded housing development in the face of visitors from around the globe staring them in the face as they approach Garden of the Gods. As a resident who lived through the Waldo Canyon fire, this city does not need a development congesting the escape routes for the long standing residents in this community. Protect the quality of life and safety for the residents in this community. The wildlife, the bighorn sheep and the outstanding environment do not need a trailer park at the end of Garden of the Gods road. Give the developer a map, show them what has happened do Denver and Aurora with irresponsible development. Not in Colorado Springs.

Good for the few, bad for the many. Colorado Springs boasts some of the grandest scenery in the West. Garden of the Gods has been named the best city park in the nation. Don't build 45' buildings at the edges of the Park. For heaven's sake, people. Think of the majority, here.

Take those developments to the EAST side, maybe buy some land from the floundering Banning-Lewis Ranch and develop over THERE... You know, where you won't be literally displacing an entire herd of animals and blocking views of the prettiest areas in the city. They have this attitude like as long as THEIR buyers get great views and location, then screw everyone else, and honestly that's garbage. The people who have lived in the area for YEARS and paid their dues should definitely have first priority over a bunch of transplants that OBVIOUSLY don't appreciate the beauty of our area.

I am a Colorado Springs native. Colorado Springs natives, please remember all the mistakes that have been made to destroy our city history by outsiders. Tearing down the Chief Theatre for a parking lot, is just one past example. In Europe things are over 1000 years old and they allow their structural history to thrive as well as their nature parks and forests. Keep our Colorado Springs history and open space! Save the Garden of the Gods surroundings and wildlife! Keep the integrity and beauty in our city for our children. Why not make 2424 a dog park and/or a Nature Park? Bringing in $$ is not everything. Do not clog this area with more traffic and living quarters. There is plenty of space for growth out east. Do not take part in ruining our city. This would be a terrible mistake now and especially for the future of our city. Judy Maestas

I am a geographer with a city planning and surveying background and my analysis of this: Not enough longitudinal analysis has gone into this for the city to make any changes at present. The faster the city and more importantly the developer wants to move, The more the locals should worry... What's the hurry? What are they worried is going to come out? What's the hurry? What are they worried is going to come out? At a minimum I would like to see Covenants in bonds put on the developer (and other guarantees from the city), which provide money and legal assurances to expand infrastructure, especially traffic infrastructure and police infrastructure, if this is to move forward.

area. The fact of an already over populated area can be confirmed by all who witnessed or were stuck on the neighborhood roads during the Waldo Canyon fire mass evacuation. My secondary objection is the absolute violation of nature in this area, particularly the Big Horn Sheep population. We've already seen a significant shift through the years, this unnecessary building will without question be the final blow to a degrading of the natural habitat. This plan should not be permitted in the face of such strong opposition from families already living in this area, and who have seen the considerable increase in traffic and encroachment on nature already present in this area. I am not opposed to the entirety of this project and understand the NIMBY aspects of it. I believe there could be value in offering restaurants and other entities for our community to benefit from. However, I am opposed to the scope of the development. -There is no need for 45' tall structures in this area as that is inconsistent with the existing developments. -We do not need high-density homes, apartments or hotels in this area as our infrastructure and streets cannot meet the traffic demands.-The current building is massive and is less than 50% occupied. I suggest that the building be repurposed so what exists currently can be utilized before building more around it.-I believe traffic studies were done during COVID when traffic volumes were dramatically reduced. Once "normal" returns, plus increased traffic with the opening of Red Leg, this will make things very difficult for our streets to handle.PLEASE RECONSIDER THE SCOPE OF THE PROJECT!

I am opposed to the 2424 Garden of Gods Project for the following reasons:1) Violates COS Hillside Development guidelines. 2) Violates Parkland Dedication Ordinance of 5.5 acres/1000 people. 3) Violates Governor's Executive Order to PROTECT iconic wildlife such as bighorn sheep. 4) Next to Garden of the Gods, which has 6 million visitors each year & would cause traffic hazards. 5) Potential for increase in crime by increasing area by 30% 6) Puts tremendous pressure on nearby Chipeta Elementary School & increase enrollment. 7) Waldo Canyon fire in 2012 had evacuation problems with limited exits & adding 450 units will increase safety problems. 8) Aren't enough parklands to host this increase in population.

I am OPPOSED to the proposed Concept Plan, Zone Change, and Master Plan Amendment that allows the development/zone change at 2424 Garden of the Gods Road for the following reasons:1. VIEWS: The City's responsibility is to comply with Hillside Development & PlanCOS guidelines to protect hillside overlays and "Majestic Landscapes" at the west end of Garden of Gods Road, 30th St, & Flying W. Ranch Rd.2. PARKS: There are not enough parks in this area, Central West. The City's responsibility is to comply with the proposed Parkland Dedication Ordinance goal of 5.5 acres/1,000 people. A one-time catch-up acquisition of this property will increase the City's lowest ranked 2.0 acres/1,000 people. NOTE: High-density housing without a SIGNIFICANT addition of parkland reduces the number of parkland acres per person.3. WILDLIFE: The City's responsibility is to comply with the "Colorado Bighorn Sheep Management Plan" and Governor's Executive Order to PROTECT iconic wildlife including bighorn sheep.4. TRAFFIC: High-density housing along with 6 million Garden of Gods visitors per year will increase traffic. Currently, there is little to no bicycle infrastructure (signs, bike lanes, safe continuity between roads and bike paths), it is the City's responsibility to protect cyclists & improve traffic flow for motorists by adding the proper infrastructure.5. POPULATION & CRIME: Approximately 30% increase to Mountain Shadows population in this small area will increase opportunity crimes and added stress on natural & public resources. High Density Residents could damage the hillside and trespass onto the Navigators & Flying W. Ranch properties, as no Park Space has been allocated.6. FIRE SAFETY: Increased population exacerbates evacuation in the event of fire (Ref. Waldo Canyon wildfire 2012 – 2 people perished & 346 homes destroyed. Plus, 5 local wildfires in 5 weeks in the fall of 2020).

I am opposed to the redevelopment of this parcel. You are putting economics over environmental stewardship. I am against any more restriction of the natural habitat of the area. It should be protected. Garden of the Gods is one of the most important tourist draws in Colorado Springs, and there should not be high-density housing near the border of the park. If you approve the plan to build, you are in direct opposition to the desires of your constituents. For what? A few cheaply built apartments that will define our community as haphazardly-planned and poorly-zoned. In fact, I wonder what the council was thinking when it allowed Verizon to build on the site. Clearly, there was not enough thought--and far too many concessions--put into that decision. It's time to stop imposing the council's will on the people who live here.

I am opposed to this project due to the traffic safety concerns. The intersection of Garden of the Gods Road and 30th Street is already too congested. With the addition of up to 400+ cars and tourist traveling to Garden of the Gods, this intersection is not setup/built for the amount of cars traveling through it. God forbid if we have another Waldo Canyon fire disaster! It was a mess and catastrophe with all the vehicles trying to evacuate the area. Also, I found it very interesting that when the planning commission voted, one commissioner was on leave and one recused themselves. This should be voted on again by the planning commission with all the member before the city council votes on it.

I am opposed to this rezoning. The Waldo Canyon fire evacuation traffic was horrendous and it will get even worse with the addition of this project. The wildlife needs to be protected not constantly encroached upon. As a resident of this area for almost 40 years the growth is not attracting the right neighbors, it has created mattresses, tires, and trash thrown out in the foothills, an increase in the crime rate as well as piles and piles of dog poop not picked up. The growth needs to be done responsibly and a 450 multi family unit complex will add to these issues and not help!

I am very concerned about these apartments. Parking has never been addressed. The wildlife which is so vital to the Garden of the Gods park and the national forest will likely be so stressed they will die. Traffic, and not just emergency traffic, is backed up sometimes for a mile. The fire departments and police are overworked and taking way too long to get to destinations. We hear crime doesn't go up, prove it by giving us data. Where are these people going to work. Garden of the Gods corridor is dead. The prime companies that were here when Mountain Shadows was built are all gone. Buildings are empty. Covid taught us that we CAN work from home so the chances the buildings will fill up is fairly low. Maybe some of these people can work from home, but we need housing for low income close to where they work. Not clear across town. The whole idea of these apartments is the poorest investment I can imagine. I live here, I know what goes on here, I know the schools, the stores, and the empty buildings. I see for rent signs on apartments all over town. In fact I can't think of an apartment building that doesn't have an available sign on it. Please Please Please listen to the people who live here. We know what is needed.

I am writing regarding the potential rezoning of 2424 Garden of the Gods Rd from Office to Commercial status. I have lived in Pleasant Valley for 15 years. In that time, I have seen an incredible uptick off traffic on Garden of the Gods Rd., 30th & 31st streets. If the city council agrees to change the zoning from office to commercial, I can only imagine how much more stress will be put on this beautiful and even bucolic area of Colorado Springs. The west side is not built to handle huge populations and the proposed potential increase in living quarters would decimate the splendor that has historically brought people to the Garden of the Gods area. I will not beleaguer you with a drawn-out plea for reason, I will just end by stating unequivocally, I am heavily opposed to the rezoning of this area; the damage to my neighborhood will be irreparable.

I appreciate the Mountain Shadows Community Association (MSCA) keeping us Mountain Shadows residents informed as to what is going on with the proposed major amendments to the Mountain Shadows Master Plan. The developer initially submitted the above-mentioned changes to the master plan, zoning, and concept plan. These proposals were subsequently revised at least twice that I know of since the original submission. The scope changed to request a PUD zone district instead of a standard zone district over the entire 125 acres. These changes required modification to the Master Plan, Zoning changes, and Concept Plan. From what I gathered it seems like City Planning is doing everything they can to assist the developer and doing nothing to help the MSCA. This seems blatantly unfair and unethical. My family and I have lived in Mountain Shadows since 1992. We paid a premium price for our home and property based largely on the Master Plan and the quality of life it has afforded us all these years. I suspect property values in Mountain Shadows will plummet as soon as the developers build their 45' high apartments. Those of us who survived the Waldo Canyon fire in 2012 can attest to the horrendous traffic jam at the intersection of Garden of the Gods and 30th Street as we fled for our lives. We were extremely fortunate that the conflagration did not kill more people than it did. Adding all these new residents adjacent to this intersection could result in a catastrophic loss of life in the event of a fire. Last year we had at least five wildfires in a short time. Waldo was terrible, but the next one could be even worse. Adding that many new residents will absolutely increase the bicyclist vs motorist conflicts. Many times, I have driven through the area around 30th Street and Garden of the Gods and seen makeshift memorials. These memorials attest to the hazards that already exist at that intersection. I remain cognizant of our friends the Navigators. Probably no organization or business has had to deal with traffic issues than they have over the years. I understand that MSCA has met with them to discuss issues of mutual concern. I hope they can come up with some reasonable solutions. It is time for our representatives to stand up and say NO. I implore the Planning Commission and City Council to deny all three of the Developers requests. These changes are of no benefit whatsoever to the existing residents of Mountain Shadows. On the contrary, the proposed density is outrageous. The area marked as residential has the potential buildout of nearly 1,800 residents. The City could be responsible for massive lawsuits if they approve a development such as this knowing full well the choke point is just a few feet from the proposed apartment complex.

I came to Colorado as a 2 year old in 1970, I cannot say that there Garden of the Gods is a birthright, but pretty close. It is a shame that I do not have the legal right to interfere with your local decisions so I will only share an observation. In 50 years our parks have become overrun, the places where we used to be able to walk are now private property. The chance to share in what is beautiful and lovely about Colorado becomes less and less. It seems to me that Colorado is becoming a pay for access state. Some of this is due to the amount of people that live here and some of it is due to the ability to profit from beautiful places. Please consider the unspoiled beauty of our state and how those who come from modest means may be able to find the beauty and grandeur that is nature without reminders of what they lack in existing within our consumer society. No, do not allow the development and access of money to encroach on our last reserves of grandeur.

I can't imagine high density housing going into an area with such limited ingress and egress. Traffic jams are looming. Why not just build some nice single family housing with open space and maybe a clubhouse with a workout center and swimming pool. There's no more space at Mountain Shadows Park or Wilson pool. They're absolutely packed as is with the existing population. The city needs more single family homes that would blend in with the neighborhoods in this area. Why create another potential ghetto next to one of the most iconic parks in North America? That's what's going to be the end-game with high density low-cost housing. It hasn't changed since the projects of the 60's. Pack people into crappily-built tiny structures without amenities or greenspace and you get discontent from all populations present. Verizon makes enough money to write off this land as a bust since more powerful developers migrated to the Briargate area for high end commercial properties. I think they should sell it to the City at a loss and let the City develop it as a west side rec center. Something we don't have here.

I directly oppose placing any new, obstructive, high tenant structure in our beautiful route into the Garden of the Gods territory of Colorado Springs. I oppose the way the developers have presented details purporting low traffic volume by pulling their data during the same time as Covid-19 quarantine. Their gauges are purposefully inaccurate and this behavior has created a first impression of untrustworthy and unethical behavior. This is not just felt and believed by me, but by every homeowner of District 1 and so forth who has heard and responded to the CS City Council on this topic, or attended previous City Council meetings about this topic. To make matters worse, the developers are petitioning City Planning that if they are approved to build, that they wish to be even less responsible for the amount of open land/preserved space than they were initially asked to support. These developers do not have the best interests of the citizens of the west side of Colorado Springs at heart. They do not have the best interests of the citizens of any part of Colorado Springs at heart. And, it hurts MY heart that City Planning is continuing to entertain this idea. Why is the City Planning still considering this plan? Money? Why would any resident of Colorado Springs, including (and probably most importantly those voted in and/or working as stewards of our city) want to say yes to blocking the beautiful views of and obstructing our view to and along our western conveyance to one of the most famous natural monuments in the world, with (potentially) 125 acres of developed high-density, multi-family dwelling units? Why would any of these same citizens/stewards of our city want higher crime rates, more difficulty getting children to highly effective, cherished magnet schools, more difficulty and danger getting families out with the potential of a future forest fire, more traffic (and resources needed to fix) to our quiet two-lane roads, more noise pollution and vehicle pollution to drown out and dispose of and run off the beauty of the incredible wildlife in the area that Colorado Springs is so well-known for? Why would any citizen, especially those voted in or employed as stewards of the city, invite more traffic accidents and safety concerns of not just west-side homeowners and residents, but also visitors and tourists to the area? Why would we want to run off the tourists who bring and spend their money, too? My husband and I and my son live on the west side and purchased our home on the west side because we LOVE it here, without the concerns and challenges this developer would bring. We adore the wildlife and the quiet roads, we love our magnet schools and the children in them - and we want continued safety for them and our bicyclists and joggers on our beautiful 2-lane roadways. We cherish the wild-open spaces which Colorado Springs already lacks by comparison to most major cities in the nation. Why would the Colorado Springs City Planning stewards invite strangers to dismantle what beauty is left? If I were voted in as a City Council member, I would vehemently oppose this action and let the developers know their money is not welcome here where they have already proven they are not interested in preserving any of the historic beauty for which Colorado Springs is known - not to mention they have proven themselves as untrustworthy and unethical. As a homeowner in the Oak Valley Ranch area, and a dog lover, I am out walking my dogs often...more often than not, actually. One route I tend to take is down the Allegheny hill that leads from the rock quarry to White Buffalo St., adjacent to/across the street from Wilson Ranch park and Wolfe Ranch. Have you ever walked that path? You should give it a try sometime. I'm guessing the homeowners on White Buffalo, whose houses face the man-made water run-off "ditch"/transfer and the multi-family units adjacent on the west side, are besides themselves with disgust...as I am every time I walk through there. The multi-family units there are disregarded by their owners. Garbage and waste thickly line the paved ditch and the margin of bushes, shrubs and wild grasses that grow there on those units' backsides - which directly faces the homes on the east side of White Buffalo. There have been days I've gone out there myself and picked up the trash. It's disgusting and (here's the best part) I, personally in the years I have lived here, have never seen any effort on the part of the owners of those multi-family units to clean up or care for their surrounding environment on behalf of their tenants. I and my family love the pathway through there and my dogs do too, except the trash and obvious lack of care. In my mind, and in addition to all the other concerns stated above, I am concerned about the eventual owners of 2424 disregarding that property too, after time. Many of our city's multi-family dwelling properties devolve to being disregarded - especially when the owners do not live in this city. How can we, all of us as great stewards of this city, allow developing strangers to build their buildings to cover up our existing beauty - and crowd the gateway to our city's naturally beautiful monument - the beauty of which we, as a city, have promised to share with the whole world...forever? Because I care for the City of Colorado Springs, because I pay taxes here for the upkeep of our beauty, wildlife, and our safety, because I love my neighbors and their children, and because I love my own son and want him to grow up safe and to understand what it means to fight for something important and relevant, I implore each city council member and each city planning member to listen not only this, my own personal request, but to that of every citizen of this city who has submitted a letter or who has joined in on the City Council meetings as standing vehemently against this developer and their plans to destroy such cherished aspects of our citizenhood. It's my understanding that more citizens than ever before (as noted at previous City Council meetings), have voiced their opposition to this plan. Please stand for us and with us and let's work together instead, to build a true gateway to the Garden of the Gods announcing its beauty as well as that of the surrounding neighborhoods. Let's declare that this beauty stands sure and sound and is never to be tampered with. Let's illustrate to the world that as a City we stand in unison with one another to keep what's still wild, wild, and to preserve what is best about the existing neighborhoods on the west side. Thank you for allowing me to voice my opinion in this letter. Thank you to all with the Mountain Shadows Community Association for leading the charge and creating this space for conversation and action. Thank you to all those who work with and support the City of Colorado Springs by working with/on City Planning and City Council. I'm sure your position and jobs are not as simple and/or easy as I made out in my impassioned notes above. I am grateful for all the work put in to date on this decision and understand it is not an easy task to be in the shade of a tenuous subject. My hat is off to you. Most sincerely and gratefully, Gerri Anne Reed

I feel Colorado already has too many housing developments and dilapidated acres of land that used to be housing until they became dilapidated crime centers. How about rejuvenating an already existing development? We the people need public land and parks that we can access, that will also conserve wildlife in the area. I am against building anything in this nature zone just so some company can make a huge amount of money off of lands owned, used and/or enjoined by the citizens of Colorado. I feel this is about nothing other than money. There is no consideration for the surrounding neighborhoods and wildlife. The safety issues alone are enough to void this plan. There are not enough resources to supply the unwanted extra residents. The roads alone are gridlock everyday due to the tremendous traffic flow on GOG. The out of state traffic through GOG park is very heavy too. Many issues have emerged since the county relocated to the old Intel building. Traffic and crime just to mention a few. We have become a target and it is all because of the planning committee and their poor choices made that have effected our neighborhood. Without sounding like a snob, our property values will go down and the desire to live on the Westside will plummet due to the situation at hand. Please, instead, zone for something that will benefit people and not destroy the surrounding ecosystems. We love our neighborhood and have lived here for 25+ years, in the same house. We don't want this!! Go away!!!

I first knew of the Garden of the Gods through a supplement in the Guardian newspaper. A large paragraph was devoted to Colorado Springs under the the heading 'other things to see around Denver' and there it mentions both the Pike and the Garden of the Gods. 2 million visitors go there and contribute no doubt to the economy by spending in restaurants shops and hotels etc. They go to admire a world renowned natural wonder of the red stones, to enjoy the peace and tranquility of the park or to see and photograph wildlife. Please do not let this huge development take place in such a sensitive area. There must be plenty of other areas they could build around Colorado Springs. Not so close to a unique natural wonder.

COLORADO SPRINGS, CO 80919

I have a question that has yet to be answered. We are on water restrictions; yet the City Council is still approving housing developments??? Can you guarantee that we will have water in this area for the next 100 years? In addition, will the City Council require the developers to provide future revenue for additional police and firemen that will be required when the housing has been built out and the developers are long gone? If the answer is no to any of these questions I would ask that you reconsider approving this or any other development until these issues can be resolved.

I have four concerns about this--(1) Local, current District 11 schools cannot possibly accommodate the numbers of students the development would bring; students' education will depend entirely on the very dubious generosity (or very real anti-tax stinginess) of the totality of District 11 residents;(2) I am extremely doubtful that CSPD or CSFD is able to handle these additional numbers of people and houses either--again, their ability to do so entirely depends on the generosity/anti-tax proclivities of the entire city's voters;(3) Local, current parks and recreational areas cannot possibly accommodate the numbers of additional people using them--The plan MUST absolutely require the developers to reduce the number of units to include extensive (appropriate for the population) open space and parks within the complex;(4) Such a high density development located where it is would vastly increase the risk and impacts of our next urban-interface wildfire (like the Waldo Canyon disaster), which clearly can and will happen again--while also increasing the risk of such a fire being accidentally initiated. These seem to me to be serious impediments that have to be taken into consideration, with concrete plans required and written into the proposal & permits to address and mitigate these issues, for the safety and welfare of all involved, not just within 1,000 feet but throughout the city and region. Growth in our city has a deep history of City Council caving to developers with entirely inadequate planning and expectations for those developers in terms of their mitigation of local and city-wide impacts. PLEASE do not repeat the reckless and unjustified mantra of "GROWTH GROWTH GROWTH," NO MATTER THE CONSEQUENCES! Thank you for your time and consideration.

COLORADO SPRINGS, CO 80919

I have lived in the Mountain Shadows community for 19 years. During that time, I have watched this area become increasingly congested as people attempt to exploit every bit of land available in an attempt to live on the West side of the city. As I ran for my life from the Waldo Canyon fire, traffic was at a standstill as residents attempted to flee. Every summer, the area of 30th and Garden of the Gods is unbearable and dangerous with an overflow of tourists that lasts through the Fall. This year, the overflow has lingered as people flock to Garden of the Gods. Adding more congestion in the name of unnecessary development and profit is reckless and completely lacking in integrity. Aside from those points, the wildlife in this area is abundant and heavily relies on the space that remains. Colorado is supposed to be a state consisting of natural beauty and protected wildlife. To threaten that is unconscionable.

I highly oppose this plan to build for many obvious reasons. It does not make any sense to bring in more traffic into this area. Garden of the Gods Park is known for its spacious beauty and nature. We CANNOT let this monument be overlooked by tall buildings and extra traffic. I serve on the Board of the Libertarian Party of El Paso County, although there has yet to be a vote by our Board to oppose this rezoning as is, I feel confident that we will vote to protect the property rights of the residents, based upon our platform plank where it pertains to property rights. While we believe that property owners should be allowed to use their property as they see fit it must also not infringe upon the rights of surrounding property owners. 2.1 Property and Contract As respect for property rights is fundamental to maintaining a free and prosperous society, it follows that the freedom to contract to obtain, retain, profit from, manage, or dispose of one's property must also be upheld. Libertarians would free property owners from government restrictions on their rights to control and enjoy their property, as long as their choices do not harm or infringe on the rights of others.

I lived in Colorado Springs for 3 years and loved cycling through Garden of the Gods city park because it is not as urbanized as the rest of the city. Having high density housing in this area would impact the natural beauty of the park. It would also negatively impact traffic through 30th street, which is already crippling for motorists and suicidal for cyclists due to tourism drawn by Garden of the Gods. There are many improvements needed for this area of Colorado Springs and the addition of new apartment buildings would aggravate these issues.

As one who was fleeing from the neighborhood while it was burning from the Waldo Canyon Fire, and stuck in traffic with flames inches from my vehicle where I was stuck in traffic, you are placing profits over people's lives and safety! I oppose the re-zoning of 2424 Garden of the Gods Road because of the impact on the wildlife and the increased traffic at the intersection of GoG Road and 30th Street. Apartments at that location would decrease the quality of life in the Mountain Shadows area and negatively impact the experience tourists have of the Garden of the Gods park.

The area has not even recovered from the Waldo Canyon fire! The traffic has substantially increased over the past several years and to add more traffic into this area without increasing the road capacity is a fire hazard! The owner should NOT be allowed to rezone this site (profiting) while our citizens in this area will be negatively impacted financially as well as to their quality of life!

I think that the fact that so many people are opposed to this new development should be enough reason to not do it. The city is US, the people, and we don't want this development. Why would the city be ok allowing something that effectively, NO ONE on the west side that would be affected by the development wants it? What is driving the city to be ok with this.. money? Are city council members getting some kind of benefit that the residents can't see? City council members need to explain what the benefits would be to everyone, not just themselves.

I think that you might want to take a look at the impact that this development will have on the surrounding roads. If you look at the number of Apartments (450) times number of cars/trucks per Apartment (2) you are adding at least 1800 vehicle trips per day on Garden of the Gods road, plus trips to the Grocery Store (of which there is only one at Garden of the Gods Rd and Centennial Blvd). Currently I do not believe that this area is able to support the proposed apartment complex.

I urge the City Council not to approve this request for rezoning for all of the reasons previously argued before you by residents of this community. I believe the wildfire fire evacuation information provided by the fire marshal is inaccurate and faulty. There is inadequate infrastructure to support traffic, schools, and fire safety. I also have no confidence in the skills and opinions of the city planners involved in this case. The city planner should be accountable to the people. There should be no duty of the city council to have accepted an opinion of a handful of city planners regarding rezoning when thousands of residents voice opposition. After all, thousands of residents purchased land and property knowing what the zoning was, so did the developer. Zoning should not be changed based on a property owner's whim or desire when thousands of affected residents are against it. Residents knew what that zoning was when they purchased their homes. And so did the developer. Now the developer wants to turn the tables on the residents.

I used to work in the southwest building at 2424 Garden of the Gods. I a wide variety of wildlife including big horn sheep, bear cub, coyotes, turkeys and deer. While the big horn sheep often stayed higher on the ridge, at times they would come down near the parking lot. It was mostly big horn rams but occasionally the ewes and young ones would come down too. High density housing would have a negative impact on the wildlife in this area. I wouldn't have bought my house 1 year ago if I knew some greedy cookie cutter apartment complex developer was going to destroy the neighborhood. I can't believe this is even being considered. An apartment complex down the street from one of Colorado's most prized tourist attractions? There won't be enough recreation in the area and GotG will get trampled! Are the schools in the area prepared for a 30% population increase? I doubt it. Build in an area that has space to build a new school and parks to go along with the apartments!

I'd also mention the traffic at Chipeta Elementary. It was always a problem when I was on the BAAC, it can't be much better now. I'm sure some of those in the apartments will take Flying W. Almost no one pulls out of the current facility, and heads east on 30th. I'd go so far as to say I've never seen it at all. I've expressed my feelings previously. We just returned to Colorado Springs from living in Denver for 45 years. This city is beautiful with mountain vistas in abundance however adding multi family housing in the foothills will Denverize our city. I realized a few days ago that the current new builds of townhomes on Centennial Blvd. are totally obstructing the beautiful, peaceful view of the foothills as a case in point thus making our city look like any other especially for those of us who live near Ute Valley. Do not Denverize another area of Colorado Springs.

Im highly against building more buildings in colorado springs. Our wildlife has already perished from the fires. Last thing we need to do is disturb a safe haven. Along with making it an eye sore for tourism. Plus what if the buildings residents take parking spaces at the park because the lot where they live is full. That would definitely put a damper on tourism, which the economy really needs right now.

In addition to previously mentioned - a high density complex is not fitting with the neighborhood. Apartments are generally made up of more transient residents. The Mountain Shadows community is made up of single family homes with long term residents - residents who put down roots in a community & neighborhood. An apartment complex would change that wonderful community characteristic that is unique. We are not willing to sacrifice this additional valuable asset that combines with the many other reasons that makes Mountain Shadows the desirable area it is.

In addition to the reasons listed above, in opposing the change to the Mountain Shadows Master Plan & the development of the 2424 property, quite simply, the development does not fit into our area. Mountain Shadows is one of the few areas of town with long term residents. Folks move into the area & put down roots which leads to a familiar, close knit, warm, safe community - we know each other. Adding a 450 - 550 unit apartment complex disrupts the cohesive nature of our community - it brings a more transient population that, consequently, is not interested in the long-term value and health of the neighborhood. There is no personal attachment nor investment. Also, as a quick comparison to other apartment complexes near our area: The Arbors (now individually owned units) = 140 units, Artemis = 292 units, Grand Centennial = 392 units. The proposed development at 2424 far exceeds the size of other complexes in the area. This is not acceptable. As a 28 year home owner within the community, I feel a vote in favor of the development, as presented, is a blatant snub, a figurative "fly the bird" in the face of our community. Please vote "No" on the proposed development of 2424. We realize some sort of development is inevitable but not this current proposal. It does not fit the profile of our neighborhood.

It would be negligible for The planning committee to approve this. We have a uniquely beautiful city. The committee must have more of a vision for our city than this. The planning committee has a duty to preserve the things that make this a great city. This area is already very busy during the tourist months. Adding more traffic in this area will make it undesirable for those who live here and those who visit. The traffic on 30th street will be horrendous. Most importantly, the structures and added traffic would ruin the natural beauty of the area. So what will the answer be? Widen 30th street in front of the Garden of the Gods making it look more like a city street instead of special gift of nature that it is. I simply don't understand why the committee would want to allow projects like this that take away from our unique and beautiful city.

It's despicable to take land away from wildlife for more development... especially in rezoning land! We can NEVER regain this land or the wildlife that depends on this space. It should NEVER be rezoned, especially to an out of state developer looking for a quick return on their money. It's all about the money, isn't it?

It's horrible to consider this update and destroy what Colorado stands for most. I have no problem with the city expanding this on the eastside (Powers), but the west side should stand as it is, it is already suffering with the population as it stands now with traffic. The one lane directional roads on 30th already suffer greatly with too much traffic. But the biggest shame goes to anyone to consider this is a terrible idea, taking away wildlife and beautiful landscapes...from the people and nature. That's not what Colorado stands for, to destroy our nature and landscapes.

Just for the record, in addition to having managed apartments complexes, I have also worked for an apartment development company and as well have financial investments in apartment complexes so I am not writing this as a NIMBY person. Apartment communities are necessary, particularly lower income housing units, which my former company recently championed against neighborhood wishes, but I believe the change in the Master Plan to potentially allow over 400 units is not compatible with the surrounding environment for all of the reasons listed on this petition as well as the following concerns. (1) Having lived here since the 70's I have seen the city take giant steps to encourage/mandate developers to include common area open space in their projects. It is difficult for me to understand why, after all that hard work over the years, that the city would be willing to accept a Fee in Lieu of Parkland of $105,089 for this particular developer. Increasing the population in this area without open space in any complex will only increase stress on the already overburdened Garden of the Gods Park. (2) When the fire was in progress, 6 people lived at my former house until it was safe for them to go home again. Luckily they were all able to get out the affected area in time but it was not easy for them. It is hard to imagine another potential 700 - 900 people evacuating at the main intersection that was so heavily used in the last evacuation should we ever have a similar fire incident.(3) There are areas and other lots in town which could more easily accommodate a project of this size without making traffic worse, without dramatically changing the views for people who have lived in the area for years and without adding further stress on our beautiful overburdened park.Please do not pass the zoning change to allow this project. Thank you for reading this.

My biggest concern is the safety of my children and the others at Chipeta Elementary in the case of another forest fire or other emergency and the need to evacuate. My neighbors are still haunted by the difficulty they had in evacuating the Waldo Canyon fire. I can not imagine how difficult it would be to pick up our children in a crisis with the added traffic of the proposed population of this development. Thank you for considering my safety concern.

My daughter lives in Colorado Springs and took me to Garden of the Gods. It was my favorite place last year. I went to other places but this one was my favorite cause of the beauty of the rocks n the side of the mountains. U can walk around n drive to. I feel if the apartments would come into thus area it would take away from the beauty mountains n history. I enjoyed myself n was amazed by the history behind the garden . I took many picture n I will have good memories for a long time. I plan on coming out again thus year n want to go again. Thank u for the memories of the gardens with my daughter n grandson.

My family and myself are moving to Colorado so we can show our sons that this world still has natural beauty as where we live in Illinois is becoming overly developed and there are few and far between places to go and see forest. Please don't take that away from us by building stuff by garden of the gods. We need that lands natural beauty. I know we are just one family but we would consider not moving to Colorado let alone silver springs if this happens. Save that natural land and preserve it. Its worth it

My spouse and I feel the development of "2424 Garden of the Gods" will alter the intrinsic beauty of this intersection and the surrounding area of the West side of Colorado Springs. The increase in traffic will make the almost pristine entryway to the Garden of the Gods unattractive and crowded, noisy and dangerous in the event of any evacuation. The planned reconfiguration of 30th Street will not ameliorate these concerns.

Our home is a big part of our retirement nest egg. If approved, this zoning change will have a direct and negative impact on our homes value. It is unconscionable to watch our city officials ignore the desires of the impacted residents and support a developer instead. Are our City officials in-place to represent residents or not?

No construction should ever be allowed to infringe on the public's ability to view this park. Garden of the Gods is a national treasure that is intended for the people of Colorado Springs to enjoy as per wishes of the man that donated the land to the city and its people, furthermore it was to be enjoyed for free by those people (there is a plaque stating this in the park). Therefore it's views should never be used for marketing and financial gain, while also taking away those views from other city residents.

Oh my gosh, what will this development do to 30th Street? Hasn't Mountain Shadows neighborhood been through enough with a catastrophic fire happening a mere 8 years ago? I also have a serious interest with the Rocky Mountain Bighorn Sheep herd that regularly grazes through the proposed development area. Have YOU ever travelled along 30th Street during tourist season with the literally millions of tourists descending upon Garden of the Gods? I do. I volunteer at the Garden of the Gods Visitor and Nature Center. What you propose will create a nightmare scenario to visitors and residents alike. By the way, tourist season extends far beyond the summer months. The city touts the best city park in the United States, yet due to nearly non-existent tax revenue, can't support the infrastructure needed to get to the park, much less maintain the park. Oh, right, 30th Street will begin to get badly needed improvements, tying up the street for 18 months - 2 years. Please do not approve this development.

Our city only considers revenue and not traffic safety or quality of life in respecting the wildlife. Our city has the mentality of paving paradise to put up a parking lot and tearing down historical buildings to make way for investors new buildings. We do not need to build an apartment building or hotel just because there is a vacant lot. I do not believe our city has a long term plan regarding the building of new housing developments. We are running out of water but the city continues to approve tap permits. We do not have the infrastructure for all of the new developments being constructed. And the new housing options are not affordable housing continuing to create a housing shortage. And, in five years we will have overbuilt.

Our community of Mountain Shadows is currently in drought and no doubt, 2021 will be marked by serious wildfires in conjunction with tremendous wind speeds. We have already experienced the trauma and very panicked exodus evoked as a result of the Waldo Canyon wildfire entering our neighborhood June 23, 2012; the stress endured, the traffic delays, bottlenecks, lives lost and evacuation that ensued for weeks. It will never be forgotten. In Mountain Shadows bottlenecks can easily occur. Flying W Ranch creates excessive tourist traffic to the north with cars turning south onto Flying W Ranch Road. Just a bit further to the south, cars emerging from The Navigators trying to turn onto N30th street in either direction can barely find a break in traffic in order to do so. Garden of the Gods also creates a large amount of ensuing traffic in the neighborhood. On Flying W Ranch Road, mule deer and other wildlife are a regular occurrence. No one complies with the 30 mph set speed limit heading south down the steep hill, thereby increasing the possibility of traffic accidents and deadly wildlife encounters. This scenario and excessive speeding also creates a dangerous situation for pedestrians, especially when walking pets and encountering wildlife. Inadvertently disturbing panicked deer can send them into oncoming speeding traffic creating hazards or, in the process of trying to avoid any such encounters with unpredictable wildlife, pedestrians are forced to walk into the road, attempting to cross a busy street with oncoming, speeding traffic. Nor is there a pedestrian crossing at Chuckwagon Road that would permit a safe crossing where the Flying W Ranch traffic emerges from. Our local Mountain Shadows park is a very small one, already overtaxed with various user groups. Chipeta Elementary, the local school, cannot accommodate the resulting influx of students the proposed rezoning and a subsequent multi-plex housing development would create. As previously mentioned, this area of Mountain Shadows is already bottle-necked, north and south, both Flying W Ranch road and North 30th St. excessively busy during peak rush hours with drivers ignoring the set 30 mph speed limit on Flying W. It is only a matter of time before there is a human fatality. God help us if impending climate change, drought, high winds, and wildfires force us to once again have to evacuate this neighborhood. The prognosis for this very scenario to be actualized in the near future is a very likely one. In short, this proposed rezoning and the inevitable urban development that would follow, benefits no one with the exception of the developer and perhaps inevitable future opportunistic crime. For everyone else, the proposed rezoning and development is an unwanted and unthinkable detriment, providing no benefit whatsoever to the community. Mountain Shadow's current populace, its already inadequate park, the current congested traffic and disrespectful, speeding drivers it endures; its fire threatened, fire ravaged landscape, proliferous wildlife, trails, aesthetics, elementary school etc., all of these, would only be NEGATIVELY impacted, marred by further overuse; existing resources and means already inadequate and insufficient to cope with the current demand being placed upon it. The Re-zoning Proposal of 2424 at Garden of the Gods Rd. should immediately be rejected and quashed by City Council; for the sake of the land, the wildlife and the safety of the community itself. Indeed, the fact that this proposal was surreptitiously "ramrodded" upon our Mountain Shadows community without proper notice or consideration given, nor input from the community and is already currently under review by OUR Representative City Council is both appalling and deeply disturbing. Thank you for the opportunity to provide feedback for this important upcoming legislation. Sincerely, Barbara Wood

Our family strongly opposes the rezoning of 2424 Garden of the Gods Road and the building of high-density family units there. Since moving to Mountain Shadows in 1989, there has been an explosion in the building of single & multi-family residences in our area. And because of this, there has been a great increase in traffic & therefore congestion on Garden of the Gods Road & 30th St. We lost our beautiful home in the Waldo Canyon Fire on June 26, 2012. We sat in our cars stuck in bumper to bumper traffic for 2 hours attempting to evacuate from Mountain Shadows while the fire burned around us. We really didn't know if we'd make it out alive! If high-density family units are built at 2424 Garden of the Gods Road, Mountain shadows residents will be unable to evacuate in a timely manner in the event of another fire or other emergency & many more people just may lose their lives. Also 30th St narrows down to one lane in each direction just south of Garden of the Gods Road which greatly restricts traffic flow. The Citizens Service Center on Garden of the Gods Road also makes for a large amount of traffic daily and especially during rush-hour times of day! There is a Fire Station located on the North side of Garden of the Gods Road near Chestnut Street & many times I've witnessed them have great difficulty getting out onto Garden of the Gods Road to respond to an emergency due to heavy traffic congestion! Allowing the rezoning and construction of high-density multi-family units at 2424 Garden of the Gods Road will only compound this problem! Thank you for your time & consideration.

Our view corridors are part of our identity/"brand." Garden of the Gods--both being in it, and the views/approach to it--is one of the crown jewels of this area. There were years of struggles to remove the harmful effect of the Front Range quarries in our stunning views. High-density development traffic associated with this area will further harm the 30th St. corridor (already a traffic headache at rush hour) and the ingress/egress to Garden of the Gods.

Please don't do this- Colorado Springs has enough hotels and apartments coming up, we don't need any more in this beautiful and sacred area of the state. It would be such a disservice to the history of the park.

Please don't do this, it can never be reversed once done. Our open space is so important. People rent where there are apartments available and is only a temporary residence, the people around this area have made a huge investment to be there. Their needs should be considered first. The traffic alone would be horrific, it already is. There is too much traffic mixed with tourist as it is and the wildlife are suffering now with space and that's in the heart of the big horns. I don't want to lose them. Just please don't allow this. The people who rent apartments don't care they just rent somewhere else but the people who live here are deeply affected by this please consider that.

Such a beautiful place. Please do not allow it to be ruined forever in the name of profit for a private corporation. The damage to the beauty of the area is secondary to the ecological ruin this would cause. I am not a resident but have been a visitor for over 40 years, back to my childhood. The distress this proposed development is causing me, has to pale in comparison to the despair it is presenting to the lives of people who have lived close by for many years. Sometimes progress is not progress, and this is one of those times. Please keep the area natural and undeveloped. Thank you.

The animals, not only big horn sheep, but bears, bobcats, deer, rabbits and more depend on this limited only remaining land in Colorado Springs. Need space for parks, for well being emotionally, mentally, spiritually and physically for all people. The traffic congestion will be too much. The crime rate will increase so much. Need the City Counsel to think of Colorado Springs well being of it's people and animals and beauty of nature over the building and profit for builders. Have them build out in the open area out east. Save the West side!

The Bighorn Sheep are a treasure to all in this area. They need open space and protection in order to survive and are already at risk with increased traffic along with building up to the perimeters which they live. Please do not take away more of the buffer area to the road and endanger them anymore. This pristine land is not currently zoned for high density and should not change for the short term financial gains of a few. We need to maintain the little open space that we have left on the west side. This area already shows high congestion and there comes a time that we say no more, especially when is risking the safety and health of our beautiful Bighorn Sheep herd. Please do not allow this to happen!

The city needs to preserve open space in Colorado Springs, especially in the foothills of the Westside. There is too much traffic running through the 30th Street corridor from Garden of the Gods Road and through the Pleasant Valley neighborhood on 31st Street to Highway 24. Adding 450 to possibly 1056 multi-family apartments/units along 30th Street will only increase the congestion, traffic, pollution, and crime to this side of town, and will destroy valuable wildlife habitat and beautiful open space that the Westside of Colorado Springs cherishes. The city should be focused on conserving open space and developing parks and trails, developing better transit to support alternative types of transportation and reduce pollution in the city, cleaning up the creeks and trash throughout Colorado Springs, investing resources in older and lower income neighborhoods, and investing in housing options to curb the homelessness crisis in our city. We don't need more commercial and residential development on the Westside, especially at the expense of critical wildlife habitat and current residents' health and well-being.

The City of Colorado Springs department of Open Space has enough money to purchase the property outright as part of their current long-term plan of ringing the westside of the city with open space. Additionally, I'd contact the Rocky Mountain Bighorn Sheep society, as they have significant monies and political allies in preserving habitat corridors. Finally, a card campaign from local families to share their thoughts with both COS and the land development consult company will prove effective as a multi-tiered strategy. Relying solely upon a citizen petition rarely affects legal change in cases of land use. Thank you for considering these humble, proactive thoughts.

The city seems determined to undermine communities with inappropriate development. I have had to endure a noisy and increasingly unsightly BitCoining operation occupying the old Intel facility directly behind my house for over two years now. My neighbors fought hard but the city just seems to have their agenda. The developments slated for 2424 and the Penrose Hosp. Property will create a huge traffic burden on 30th, Centennial Blvd and the already overburdened G of G Rd. It will increase crime, traffic accidents and reduce quality of life for people and native wildlife and degrade existing neighborhoods. These are not conjectures but valid concerns that simple study will bear out. Here's to more impervious surfaces, more traffic lights and even dirtier and hotter air all stemming from the city's windbags. Leave the lovely westside alone.

The reasons are obvious and glaring. Area should be used as it is currently and historically zoned for. The appeal of this area is the proximity to nature. The appeal of the springs in general is GoG. Congesting the area with and building inappropriately tall apartment complex exploits and degrades the very appeal that attracts people to the springs. This is a ridiculous issue to have to fight. Current owners of the property should be creative enough to make a more appropriate use of this land or should not have the right to it and be forced to sell.

There are so many problems with this project:1) As someone who sat in traffic for two hours trying to escape the Waldo Canyon Fire from my home in Oak Valley Ranch, the traffic situation is unconscionable. The city has done NOTHING to remedy issues of access for the current residents. And a traffic study during a pandemic is a farce.2) Property crime and police response times are egregious for the number of people currently living in the area. I had Christmas decorations stolen, called CSPD, and was laughed at by a detective. I am not sure they can handle increased population and the support currently not being supported in the community. 3) Wildlife is what makes this area an awesome place to live. Having a resident Big Horn Sheep herd, a protected herd, is what it means to live on the west side. Residents learn how to respect and live with bears, coyotes, deer, etc. More people, and people ignorant of wildlife, means more needless animal fatalities. 4) Light pollution. Until the city addresses a myriad of deficiencies and willful greed, this project is nothing more than a land grab.

Building next to one of America's most iconic and beloved parks is not one of them. Blocking scenic views for coloradan's and tourists alike and negatively impacting our wildlife, like our established big horn sheep herd that calls that area home is the lay thing any if us wants. Just like the horrendous blue picture frame that was installed in the park and quickly taken down due to public outrage, you should have learned then that coloradans don't tolerate anyone messing with their nature.

This area is a gateway to a National Landmark that people visit from all over the world. The city master plan and zoning were already in place when this out-of-state developer bought the property. Their zoning and plan changes should be denied. There are many other areas for housing without destroying this national landmark gateway, and the Big Horn Sheep habitat. Moreover, it is beyond comprehension that planners would also place the lives of established residents at greater risk by substantially increasing density; especially when the area was bottlenecked with gridlock traffic during the Waldo Canyon fires.

This area is an entryway to a gorgeous, priceless, National Landmark that people come from all over the world to visit. The current City Planning Department, along with our elected council members, must leave a legacy to protect the character, views, and beauty of this land, which is located adjacent to the Navigators, and Garden of the Gods. Please adhere to the current zoning and master plan, and do not succumb to corporate pressure, or to poor planning. These out-of-state developers were very aware of the current zoning and master plan when they purchased the property. Furthermore, the area was already previously rezoned to accommodate the creation of the current Business Park. Turning such a location into another strip of commercial businesses with multi-family housing is a horrendous concept, and is a proposal that should not even be on the table. Also, Big Horn Sheep are in the area of this proposed development. Please protect these animals, and our other beloved wildlife that migrate in and out of this location. Moreover, the new "revised" traffic study that accompanies this proposed zoning change is again disingenuous. <https://web1.coloradosprings.gov/LUISPlanner/uploaded/LUISPlanner/Documents/Study/135604.pdf> Section II p. 6 "Existing Traffic Conditions" indicate that June 2017, data is used for their revised study. According to this data:https://coloradosprings.gov/sites/default/files/gog_draft_shuttle_study_2018.pdf there was likely only 2 million visitors to Garden of the Gods in 2017. We saw in 2019, approximately 6 million visitors. Their revised study only allows for a 2 % increase each year from 2017. A 2 million to 6 million increase is a much greater rate than a 2% projected yearly increase. Moreover, there is not any consideration of the increase of traffic for the (under construction) Red Leg Brewing Co., a new $8 million brewery, food and event complex near the west end of Garden of the Gods Road, nor is their a factoring in of projected increased traffic for Flying W Ranch (when it will run at full capacity). During the 2012 Waldo Canyon fires, traffic was grid locked and people were in fear of death trying to evacuate. Do not be responsible for deaths due to acceptance of a flawed, disingenuous traffic study. We are on water restrictions here; watering is allowed only 3 days a week during certain hours. See this article: <https://coloradosun.com/2019/11/20/colorado-river-risk-study-taps-farmland-dry/> Perhaps, instead of a zoning change and master plan amendment, consider working with the property owner to ascertain why there is only a 50% occupancy rate of the existing buildings, and then assist with mitigating those issues. Also, isn't their request for a PUD, likely to facilitate additional future changes that will bypass city council approval? No to PUD! Again, I request that you do not bow to corporate pressures. Not everything in this life is about profit and monies. Will you be long remembered as preserving a treasure to this community, along with ensuring the trust and safety of citizens? Please do the right thing, leave a legacy of preservation of this magnificent area. Thank you for receiving public input and for your consideration. Respectfully, Julia Owens Colorado Springs

This is wrong place for high density multi-family apartments especially with concerns for wildfires--we have been in an extended drought and future years are likely to bring more. Was evacuated for Waldo Canyon which was problematic--the 450-600 or 800 people to be added from this location is not realistic for safe evacuation. Apts. will likely want to grill from balconies adding to risk of fires. Traffic is already heavy and steady on Garden of the Gods, also 30th Street south of intersection. 30th Street does not seem amenable to adding traffic lanes. Also, do we want this development be what tourists see as they approach one of the top listed tourist destinations in the U.S. The Garden of the Gods is a gem for which this city is stewards--once developed, you can't walk it back. Do we really want this development at this location???

This plan does NOT have buildings that would blend with the surrounding scenery. There needs to be more open space on the West side now, without these high density high rises overpopulating the area. There is grave danger of egress in case of another fire. There is also the fact that all apartment buildings eventually go into unattractive, unkept buildings. These high rises will bring down our property values immediately. This puts pressure on the longhorns that dwell here.

This proposed development is detrimental to the safety and beauty of this area of the city, and will negatively impact views, home prices and wildlife in the area. The sheer size and breadth of this project is in direct opposition to the natural environment in that area, and the true impact will not be completely felt for months or years. Any development in this area has the potential to create and extend landslide zones as well. Traffic studies were not done appropriately, but rather during the first COVID lockdown, when the streets were mostly vacant. This development will harm the land, the people and the wildlife, including the magnificent views from Garden of the Gods Club and the northern end of Kissing Camels. It is short sighted and WRONG.

This will destroy both the habitat of the sheep, and cause all the other problems mentioned above, but long term, cost the state $$$$ in tourism dollars once the Garden of the Gods drops in ranking significantly once an eye sore like this proposed apartment complex ruins the park and all the natural qualities that have prompted it be ranked one of, if not THE, highest ranked parks in the US. That would be very short sighted of the area and the state to not realize that long range affect.

To the City of Colorado Springs: You can't preserve Parks and Open Space by allowing encroachment. Those who would try to change or circumvent rules protecting GOG space to allow development do so for financial gain; developers seem to be the worst at ruining such places. It is fair to say a decision would be more valid if all Colorado Springs residents were included in the decision of such an unsupported and destructive plan in this location ?. Have you received accurate and specific details of this proposal yet? It seems for high density housing in this location is problematic and opposed for Colorado Springs only benefiting landowners, developers. Way way too high density addition to an already stressed infrastructure in the two mile radius of this proposed addition at the end of Garden of Gods Road. As soon as the COVID-19 workplace restrictions are removed, that activity alone will refill the road traffic infrastructure to over capacity as was in 2019 and before. If those supporting the change had driven through the over crowded 30th and Garden of the Gods streets during the pre COVID-19 restriction era they would certainly agree that the street infrastructure can not support this addition of 450 housing units along with all of it's supporting infrastructure of a few hundred additional workforce supporting the needs of these people and the complex.

We are residents of Mountain Shadows and would like to state our opposition to all new development at 2424 Garden of the Gods Road for the following reasons:• The proposed addition of 572 multi-family units, and potential for eventual development of 3750 units, is completely inconsistent with the overall theme of this area. Mountain Shadows is long-established and not intended for high density housing. • This significant increase in residents will create an enormous traffic problems on Garden of the Gods Road and 30th Street. This is not good for current residents or for tourism. Increased traffic also impacts the safety of bicyclists, joggers, and wildlife as well as quick evacuation of Mountain Shadows in the event of fire. Are there plans to improve the infrastructure and would such plans detract from the natural beauty of the area?• The increase in families will be an issue for already overcrowded schools. Are there plans to address this?• With units estimated to be 45 feet in height, they will block views of the natural extension of Garden of the Gods Park and Navigators which provide a nice scene as tourists as they approach the Park, one of the city's key attractions and landmarks. • There already are sufficient multi-family complexes around this area and an unattractive high density mega community is not needed.I would appreciate if the Planning Commission and City Council would consider the many concerns of current residents and deny approval of this new development.

We can NOT handle more traffic and population in this area. The wildfire danger should be top priority as well as our wildlife. Increasing the population in this area would also add to the never ending crime we deal with now. I'm on 31st and already deal with so much traffic I can barely get out of my driveway. Let alone the damage the traffic causes to my property.

We have a responsibility to protect what remains of our view to Pikes Peak and the mountains, which many feel is the reason for our city. We have defiled the view with the many gravel mines in the foothills and allowing commercial development in that corridor. Note also that the current requirement for parkland dededication is 7.5 acres/1,000 residents. The proposed and unbelievable request to reduce that to 5.5 has NOT been approved by City Council and hopefully will not be.

Building this would be yet another hit to our natural ecosystem and the beautiful areas that draw visitors here. There are hotels that people can stay at and drive to that area if they choose to. We need to think about if we really need more expensive apartments smack dab next to a state park. There are plenty of expanding cities for future residents to live.

We have lived here since 1997. Our house burned down in the Waldo Canyon wildfire. Many residents had trouble getting out because of mandatory evacuations with little warning. It was so scary and with that many more people in our community evacuations would be difficult and lives could be lost due to traffic congestion. Traffic on Garden of the Gods is already horrendous. I can't imagine how horrible it would get if this development proceeds. We were devastated after losing our home and we're not sure about our future. We moved to Mountain Shadows because of the amazing views and proximity to nature. Shortly after we moved in, we began having issues with noise and light pollution from the current activity at 2424. We were told they were "within acceptable levels," even though we can clearly hear noise from the cooling fans inside our home. We MUST conserve what's left of the Colorado beauty and charm in our city. I strongly strongly disagree with fire department "no problem" evacuation opinion. I strongly disagree with impending traffic strangulation on 30th Street, already quite dangerous to bicyclists enjoying natural beauty. I

VERY strongly disagree with even further encroachment on Colorado wildlife in this area. Expand this city to the east and southeast where room abounds. It's a travesty seeing house lights halfway up the western foothills. God mandated us to take care of the Earth and its creatures. WHY ARE WE NOT DOING SO? We must think ahead and take time to check new growth and development to ensure the quality of life of our children. We need to protect the Garden of the Gods natural ecosystem. My father rode his horse as a kid from 1065 Mesa Road (526 then) to the Garden of the Gods often. He would stop in to the two properties that he had to go through to access the park. A lot of growth has happened since the 1930's and now more than every choice is critical. What's even more troubling is the possibility of this out-of-town Developer getting the 2424GOTG PUD/HS zoning approved that currently includes high-density multi-family apartments across the ENTIRE location. If so, the revised zoning would allow up to 24 units per acre across the buildable property resulting in 1500 units and around 3700 new apartment dwellers at this critical wildfire emergency evacuation choke point.

What's even more troubling is the possibility of this out-of-town Developer getting the 2424GOTG PUD/HS zoning approved that currently includes high-density multi-family apartments across the ENTIRE location. If so, the revised zoning would allow up to 24 units per acre across the buildable property resulting in 1500 units and around 3700 new apartment dwellers at this critical wildfire emergency evacuation choke point.

WHERE DO YOU WANT ALL THE WILDLIFE TO GO??? QUIT TAKING AWAY ALL OUR NATURAL SPACE!! WE NEED TO RUN, HIKE, BIKE & ENJOY THE LAND. THIS IS WHAT C/S IS ALL ABOUT. YOU ARE GOING TO RUIN THE CITY - YOU ALREADY HAVE! I HAVE MANY FRIENDS WHO WANT TO MOVE AWAY FROM HERE BECAUSE OF THE BUILDING IN OPEN SPACE & PEOPLE WHO SAY THEY WILL NOT MOVE HERE BECAUSE THE BUILDING IN NATURAL SPACE IS BECOMING WAY TO MUCH - ALL OVER C/S. QUIT BEING SO GREEDY!!! LEAVE THE LAND ALONE. GO AWAY YOU BUILDERS AS WE DON'T NEED MORE CONDOS, TOWNHOMES, ELDERLY LIVING FACILITIES, ETC.

While I am in favor of "infill" development for affordable housing in Colorado Springs, it needs to be in appropriate locations. This is NOT one of those locations. Please reject any zoning change that would allow this development. I enjoy hiking and wildlife viewing in Garden of the Gods precisely because I DON'T have to see evidence of obvious human intrusion into the landscape. All manner of wildlife, not just the bighorn herd, would be negatively impacted by this development. Eric R. While I am not a resident, I am a regular visitor to the Colo. Springs area. In particular this district..what you are considering to do to this area, while lining the pockets of the developer, will have a negative impact on the entire reason many thousands of people visit Colorado. The views!!! Untouched, preserved to be enjoyed for not just a few moments but an entire lifetime..it saddens myself and countless others to see what over developing has done to our "hometown". Please please stop this from happening!!

While I strongly support all of these statements, the No. 1 takeaway from last meeting was that many apartments remain vacant in this area code. I would prefer to see that type of "infill" before taking away pristine views that affect our tourism/traffic and natural beauty. Thank you for all this work.

Why allow money seeking developers to ruin a park that has been a vital part of the Colorado heritage. So developers & city can make more money? When does the money grubbing end. May as well also build condos on top of Pikes Peak and Palmer Park.

Why destroy an iconic view of Pikes Peak, and a major gateway to GoG Park? Why add more traffic to that area with all the potential apartments in that location? In warm spring and summer weather, we already have problems with cars racing down Flying W Ranch Rd, 30th St, and GoG Rds. Why add more traffic to a street backed up daily (pre-Covid) at rush hours between 30th Streets to Nevada Ave? Why change a master plan that the residents bought into previously? Why disrupt the pathway of our big horn sheep? Even though you may not live in the area, why not understand that some things are more important to our city than out of state money from those who have no vested interest in our natural beauty?

PROTECTIVE COVENANTS

I. Introduction

Ridge Development Co., Ltd. ("Ridge") either owns or has the exclusive right to acquire substantial real estate adjacent to, and in the vicinity of, the land being conveyed by this deed, which land Ridge anticipates developing as part of its Mountain Shadows development (hereafter such land is referred to as "Mountain Shadows"). It is essential to Mountain Shadows that the land being conveyed by this deed (the "Property") be developed in a manner consistent with that contemplated for the overall Mountain Shadows development. Consequently, the following Covenants are hereby placed on the Property.

II. Applicability

These Covenants apply to Rolm Corporation, a California corporation ("Buyer"), to all of the Property, and to any individual or entity having any interest in the Property after the date of this deed.

III. Use of Property

The Property shall be used only for office, research, development and light, nonpolluting manufacturing uses which are permitted under the PIP-I zone as, from time to time, defined by the City of Colorado Springs, or for such other uses as Ridge, in its sole discretion, may consent to in a written instrument, duly recorded, referring to these Covenants.

IV. Underground Utilities

All telephone and power lines and lines for transmission of electronic signals brought to the Property from existing locations at Buyer's request, or installed upon the Property after the date of this deed, shall be underground, except for power substations and switching stations which shall be adequately screened from view, and except for customary surface devices for access or control.

V. Site Plan Control

Any subdivision plat, replat, or development plan (as those terms are defined in the zoning and subdivision ordinances of the City of Colorado Springs) of all or any portion of the Property shall be in substantial conformity with the aesthetic and quality standards set forth in subparagraph 6.1(a) below. No material changes from such standards shall be made without Ridge's prior written consent, which will be granted if Ridge reasonably determines the aesthetic and functional impact of the proposed change will be at least as comparable with existing and proposed uses of land in Mountain Shadows as development in conformity with paragraph 6.1 would have been. The procedure for approvals of changes will be as set forth in Article VI below.

VI. Architectural Plans

6.1 Standards Applicable to Rolm. The provisions of this paragraph 6.1 shall apply only to Rolm Corporation, or any entity controlled by it:

(a) Aesthetics and Quality. Any buildings placed on the Property or improvements to the Property shall be of a quality and aesthetic impact comparable to Buyer's existing plant in Santa Clara, California located in the Marriott Business Park, a picture of which is labeled Exhibit 2 and made a part hereof. Landscaping will also be provided for the Property which will be comparable in aesthetic impact to the landscaping at Buyer's existing plant in Santa Clara, California depicted in Exhibit 2. It is recognized that the improvements and landscaping on the Property will not be identical to those at Santa Clara. It is the intent of the parties that the improvements and landscaping be designed to take advantage of the existing topography, vegetation, and environment on the Property, and have a aesthetic impact and harmony with the surrounding area comparable to the aesthetic impact and harmony of Purchaser's Santa Clara plant with the area adjacent to it.

(b) Approvals. Although Buyer is not required to obtain Ridge's prior approval of final plans and specifications which are in conformity with the standards contained in these Covenants, Buyer may nonetheless submit these plans to Ridge for approval to eliminate any uncertainty as to their compliance with these Covenants. Ridge shall approve the proposed plans and specifications if it reasonably determines they comply with the restrictions and standards contained in Articles III, IV, V, and VII, and paragraph 6.1 of these Covenants, recognizing that Buyer is responsible for basic design concepts and, if the proposed plans and specifications are substantially in conformity with such standards and restrictions, Seller will not request any changes which materially increase the cost of Buyer's proposed improvements. If Ridge does not approve, it shall, within 20 days after submission, deliver a notice to Buyer stating its reasons for disapproval. Buyer may then deliver a resubmission so as to eliminate Ridge's objection. If Ridge fails to act on any submission or resubmission within 20 days, it shall be deemed to have approved. The time periods referred to above shall begin on the date Ridge receives any submission or resubmission. Since this subparagraph 6.1(b) provides Buyer with a mechanism to determine whether proposed actions on the Property will be in compliance with these Covenants prior to undertaking construction activity, Buyer acknowledges that if it does not submit plans and have them approved by Ridge prior to undertaking construction, and there is a final judicial determination that the actions on the Property violate these Covenants, a mandatory injunction, or requirements for specific performance would be an appropriate remedy.

6.2 Standards Applicable to Others. The provisions of this paragraph 6.2 shall apply to any individual or entity (other than Rolm Corporation or any entity controlled by it) which has any interest in the Property or any portion of it:

(a) Preliminary Documents. No subdivision plat or replat of all or any portion of the Property may be submitted to governmental authorities or placed on record unless such plat has been approved in writing by Ridge prior to such submission or recording and no development plan (as that term is defined in the Zoning Ordinances of the City of Colorado Springs) may be submitted to governmental authorities for approval without the prior written approval of Ridge.

(b) Construction Documents. Prior to obtaining any building permit or commencing work on any structure or grading on the Property which affects the existing vegetation or exterior appearances of the Property, or improvements constructed or to be constructed on it, or the location and capacity of on-site utility services (an "Improvement"), there shall be delivered to Ridge final plans and specifications for the proposed Improvement, including elevations, site plans, grading and drainage plans, landscaping plans, outline specifications, samples of exterior materials and exterior colors, proposed signing, site lighting and construction schedules, all of which must be approved by Ridge prior to issuance of the building permit and commencement of construction on the Improvement.

(c) Condominium Documents. All documents either establishing condominiums or other forms of common use or ownership, or regulating use or maintenance of any portions of the Property shall be submitted to and approved in writing by Ridge prior to their being recorded, and prior to the sale or rental of any Improvement on the Property to any party. Ridge's review of these documents is for the limited purpose of insuring that adequate provisions are made for first class maintenance of the Property and all Improvements thereon, for control and approval of any exterior changes or modifications to Improvements, for establishment of enforceable covenants that prescribe standards for use of the Property and all Improvements thereon, including, but not limited to the use of roads, parking areas and landscaping areas, and for adequate assessment procedures to fund the implementation of the documents.

(d) Changes. No substantial change in any plat, development plan, plans and specifications or document required to be approved by Ridge in subparagraphs 6.2(a), (b) or (c) above shall be made unless the same shall be submitted to and approved by Ridge.

(e) Approval Procedures. Whenever Ridge is required by these Covenants to either approve or disapprove various plats, plans, information, documents, writings and materials delivered to Ridge pursuant to this covenant, it will not withhold its approval if it reasonably determines such items contemplate Improvements consistent with the aesthetic and functional standards contemplated by Ridge for its Mountain Shadows development, are consistent with the general aesthetic standards applicable to Rolm Corporation contained in paragraph 6.1 above, and contemplate division of the Property into no more than six separate parcels with a minimum parcel size of five acres. If Ridge does not approve, it shall, within 20 days after submission, deliver a notice stating its reasons for disapproval to the party desiring the approval, who may then deliver a resubmission so as to eliminate Ridge's objections. If Ridge fails to act on any submission or resubmission within 20 days, it shall be deemed to have approved. The time periods referred to above shall begin on the date Ridge receives any submission or resubmission.

VII. Development

Development of the Property shall comply with the requirements of Planned Industrial Park I zoning (as this PIP I zone classification is, from time to time, defined in the City of Colorado Springs zoning ordinances) with the exception of the following provisions, which shall supersede and take precedence over the requirements of the zoning ordinance requirements:

(a) No requests for waivers or modifications of requirements contained in the PIP I zone will be submitted to any governmental authority without Ridge's prior written consent, except for installations not required to be screened pursuant to subparagraph (d) below.

(b) The minimum building setback from the "Wilson Road" right-of-way and the "Mountain Shadows Road" right-of-way shall be 100 feet. Wilson Road and Mountain Shadows Road have been labeled on Exhibit 1.

(c) The frontage of the Property along Wilson Road and Mountain Shadows Road shall be landscaped at least to minimum requirements as set forth in the PIP I zone district regulations with the following additional requirements: There shall be earthen berms built to an average height of at least 3-1/2 feet above the elevation of the parking lots on the Property. These earthen berms shall be located along a majority of the frontage to any public right-of-way adjacent to the Property. These earthen berms shall be grass sodded or have other ground cover of comparable aesthetic impact and shall have enough evergreen and deciduous plantings on the berms so that the visual impact of the parking lots on the Property are minimized. There shall be approximately 125 evergreen trees, at least 8 to 12 feet in height, planted in the earthen berms in the 25-foot landscaped area adjacent to the right-of-way along Wilson Road and Mountain Shadows Road right-of-way line, or other landscaping comparable in aesthetic impact to this number and size of evergreen trees.

(d) All mechanical devices, air-conditioning, transformers, and other similar items, whether mounted on the ground or the roofs of buildings, shall be adequately screened so as not to be visible from the adjacent portions of Mountain Shadows, particularly the ridges and highlands to the west, north and northeast, except that large installations need not be screened if their size or configuration makes screening impractical and Buyer takes reasonable measures to mitigate the visual impact of the installation on the adjacent land.

(e) On any portion of the Property which borders on existing or future residential areas, a 6-foot screening fence with a 25-foot setback shall be installed in addition to a 25-foot belt of landscaping outside of the fence which includes sod, hedges, evergreens and shrubbery. This fence and landscaping will be installed as soon as practicable after construction of residential dwelling units is commenced on the adjacent land. The 25-foot setback may also be utilized for a drainage easement and associated improvements.

(f) All improvements on the Property (including signs, lighting and landscaping) shall be properly maintained and kept free from accumulations of trash and debris.

VIII. Right of First Refusal

8.1 Grant of Right. If Buyer, its assigns, or any successor in interest to the Property (an "Offeror" for purposes of this Article VIII) proposes to transfer any or all of its interest in all or any portion of the Property to anyone other than Ridge, whether by sale, assignment, lease, sublease (except this right shall not apply to a lease or sublease with a term, including options for renewal, of less than seven years), or otherwise, Offeror shall first make a written offer to transfer such interest (herein referred to as the "Offered Interest") to Ridge upon the same terms and conditions as offered by Offeror, and Ridge shall not be required to comply with any terms of the proposed offer which require nonmonetary obligations beyond its control. However, if Ridge chooses to accept such an offer, and it contains nonmonetary obligations beyond Ridge's control, then Offeror shall have the option, within 15 days after notice of Ridge's election to exercise, to terminate the offer, but any such termination must fully extinguish all rights and obligations of both Ridge and any third parties with an interest in the offer. Such offer shall state the name of the proposed transferee and all terms and conditions of the proposed transfer. Ridge shall have the right for a period of one day less than the number of days given by Offeror to the third party to accept the offer, or 45 days after receipt of the offer from Offeror, whichever is greater, to elect in writing to obtain a transfer of the Offered Interest upon the terms and conditions of the offer to Offeror as modified by this paragraph 8.1. If Ridge does not elect to exercise its right of first refusal, Offeror shall then be free to complete the proposed transfer to the person named in the offer to Ridge and upon the terms and conditions stated in such offer. If Offeror does not complete the proposed transfer to the person named in the offer to Ridge and upon the terms and conditions stated in the offer or if less than all of the Offered Interest is transferred, the right of first refusal shall continue in full force and effect as to the Offered Interest not so transferred. This right of first refusal shall also apply to any sale of stock or corporate restructuring which would have the effect of transferring only the Property (or a portion of it) and appurtenant improvements to a third party not controlled by Offeror. Except as restricted by paragraph 8.2 below, this right of first refusal shall continue to apply to all of the Property for the term of these Covenants.

8.2 Restrictions. The right of first refusal contained in paragraph 8.1 shall not apply:

(a) Financing Transactions. To transfers pursuant to a bona fide deed of trust or mortgage to secure a loan, or a bona fide sale and leaseback, or similar transaction, in which Buyer retains control over the development and use of the Property until at least January 1, 1986;

(b) Developed Portions. To a transfer of all or any portion of the Property if a building and associated landscaping have been constructed on the portion of the Property being transferred.

(c) Full Development. To any transfers of all or any portion of the Property after completion of buildings containing at least 400,000 square feet of enclosed area, and after all parameter landscaping has been installed.

X. Remedies

As a violation of these Covenants may not be adequately compensated for by remedies at law, Ridge shall have the right to obtain from any court of competent jurisdiction either specific performance of these Covenants or injunctive relief against any owner or tenant of any of the Property, or any of their agents, contractors, or assigns, enjoining any activity which is in violation of these Covenants. Ridge's right to such injunctive relief shall not be affected by any arbitration provisions in contracts executed by such owner, tenant, or their agents. The rights and remedies of Ridge set forth hereinabove shall in addition to, and not in lieu of, any other rights and remedies Ridge may have, all remedies shall be cumulative, and the exercise of any one or more of such rights and remedies shall not be deemed an election precluding the exercise of any of the others. All reasonable costs incurred in any dispute or litigation involving enforcement of these Covenants (including expert witness fees and attorneys' fees) shall be awarded as additional damages to the prevailing party, together with all such additional costs incurred in enforcing or collecting any judgment.

XI. Land Benefited

These Covenants shall run with and burden the Property and are for the benefit of Ridge and Mountain Shadows. These Covenants shall be enforceable only by Ridge and its specific assigns pursuant to Article XIV below.

XII. Amendment

These Covenants may be amended at any time by any instrument referring to these Covenants executed by Ridge and the then current owners of the Property, which instrument is recorded with the El Paso County Clerk and Recorder. Amendments to these Covenants may affect all, or any portion of the Property.

XIII. Term

These Covenants, and any amendments hereto, shall remain in effect for a period of 25 years from the date of this deed, except for the provisions of Article VIII.

XIV. Successors and Assigns

Ridge may assign its rights and authority hereunder by an express written assignment referring to these Covenants, duly recorded. Any reference in these Covenants to Ridge shall also mean any successors of Ridge pursuant to such assignment.

Wildfire Mitigation TABOR Funds Cost Breakdown

- Total wildfire mitigation TABOR funds for 2022: $1 million
- All items below were approved by the Colorado Springs Wildfire Mitigation Advisory Committee at the second meeting on May 5, 2022, with understanding that some of the projected costs and acres treated could change slightly.

1. 2022 budgeted Items:

Personnel:

- 6 Seasonal Crew Members for Chipping/Project Work (~$130k)
- 1 part-time Admin Support Position (~$30k)

Total Personnel Budget: ~$160k

Equipment:

- 1 new dump truck (~$78,503.58k)
- 1 new Chipper (~$59,377k)
- 1 new crew truck (~$38k)

Total Equipment Budget: ~$175,880.58

*Note: equipment has not been ordered. We are currently working with the CSFD Apparatus Committee and since these items are not in production, we are unable to order them currently. The Apparatus Committee is checking in weekly, and equipment will be ordered at the first available date.

Supporting Items:

- PPE/Maintenance (~$12k)
- Project Signs (~$1,500)

Total Supporting Items Budget: ~$13,500

Total for all above items is: ~$350k

2. Remainder of the TABOR funds for 2022 will be spent on:

- ~$100k for Cost Share Stipends in the WUI
 - These will be dollar-for-dollar match up to $500 per household for hazardous fuels reduction throughout the entire WUI.
- ~$50k for project work in HOA/neighborhood common areas within the WUI

- Work in HOA/neighborhood common areas will occur with a match from the HOA/neighborhood requesting work. Work in City Parks and open spaces can occur with matching funds.
- If not all Cost Share Stipend funds are used, some of the ~$100k can be shifted to the project work funds in order to accomplish more project work in the WUI.
- ~$500k for mitigation work to be contracted in Fishers Canyon
 - CSFD Wildfire Mitigation Section will contract out ~125 acres in Fishers Canyon to be mitigated (map attached). Ground truthing, flagging, and GPSing will start to occur in the next month so we know the exact acreage we can treat.
 - We are waiting to see if City Parks/Forestry will have matching funds to put towards this project.
 - City Parks will be receiving a grant from the State and National Parks to reimburse the city for its purchase of Fishers Canyon. This grant will be awarded in September. By receiving this grant funding, mitigation work may not be able to occur in Fishers Canyon until September. David Deitemeyer with City Parks has requested to the State and National Parks that work is allowed in Fishers Canyon before the grant is awarded. We are currently waiting to see if this request will be approved. If so, we will start work prior to September. If not, we will start work in September or early October.
 - We are working with City Parks and Forestry on Archeological sites (if any) and wildlife habitat studies. Some of this will be done internally by City Parks Staff and some of this will be contracted out through a third-party vendor by City Parks.

Total Stipends/Project Work Budget: ~$650k
