

Per Diem Municipal Court Judge

Amy Foley

Education:

Juris Doctorate – Pepperdine University

Years of Experience:

14 years 9 months

Professional Summary:

Amy Foley is an accomplished trial attorney with more than fourteen years of experience spanning military, state, federal, and private practice. Most recently serving as In-House Counsel for the Law Offices of Jeremy Maline (State Farm), she handled complex bodily injury litigation through all phases of trial and resolution. Previously, as a Senior Deputy District Attorney with the 4th Judicial District Attorney’s Office, she supervised attorneys, developed and led a comprehensive trial advocacy training program, and prosecuted felony cases, including homicides. Amy began her legal career in the U.S. Army Judge Advocate General’s Corps, where she served as Trial Counsel and Special Victim Prosecutor and later as a Special Assistant United States Attorney for the District of Colorado. Her career reflects a sustained commitment to courtroom excellence, leadership development, and public service.
