FORGED FROM HONOR

Our Vision

The vision of the Honor Bell Foundation is to unite veterans to honor their own and foster public appreciation for military service.

Our Mission:

The Honor Bell Foundation's mission is to create a community of veterans to foster public appreciation of military service and honor their fellow veterans with a proper, final tribute.

FORGED FROM HONOR

What we do:

Saluting the Sacrifice

The founding principle of the Honor Bell Foundation is to provide an opportunity for the rendering of a respectful, final honor at military funerals and memorial services. This is accomplished with the tolling of a bell — The Honor Bell — in a manner based in tradition and respect. This practice, known as rendering Bell Honors, is the last sound heard at a funeral and is tolled with an understated, solemn, and clear tone.

Bell Honors:

Bell Honors are provided at no cost to the families of veterans as part of their loved one's interment or memorial service.

Purpose Of the Honor Bell

The Honor Bell stands as the first tolling bell ever cast in U.S. history specifically crafted to pay a final honor to United States Service Members killed in action and Armed Forces Veterans. Solely veterans and active-duty service members toll this custom-designed, one-thousand-pound stationary bronze bell, measuring thirty-seven inches in diameter and forty inches in height.

Its motto, "Forged From Honor," epitomizes its significance. During the casting process, artifacts from twelve deceased Colorado servicemembers spanning from World War II to the Global War on Terror were infused into the molten bronze. These artifacts symbolize veterans of the past, present, and future, forever ingrained in the bell, solidifying its identity as "Forged From Honor"

The Meaning Of The Honor Bell's Seven Tolls

During every veteran's funeral or memorial service, the Bell Guard solemnly tolls the Honor Bell seven times, with seven seconds of silence between each toll. Each toll signifies a distinct stage in a veteran's life, conveying specific meanings:

Toll One: The Choice to Serve

The Choice to Serve symbolizes the veteran's readiness to sacrifice their life for their country—a dedication that only a few are chosen for.

Toll Two: Camaraderie

Camaraderie represents the bonds of friendship, family ties, and unity unite all service members.

Toll Three: Patriotism

Patriotism symbolizes the veteran's pride in their country, a commitment to defend it, and the happiness in cherishing the freedoms protected by our Constitution.

Toll Four: Respect

Respect embodies the reverence bestowed upon a veteran by their community, earned through their service and rightfully honored by us.

Toll Five: Dignity

Dignity symbolizes the respectful treatment that a veteran's community accords to their fallen hero.

Toll Six: Honor

Honor signifies the respect owed to a deceased veteran by their fellow service members and community.

Toll Seven: The Value of Life

The Value of Life embodies the ultimate sacrifice made by the veteran. Whether lost in combat or after years of dedicated service, the worth of a veteran cannot be fully expressed in words.
