Street Name Change

Summary of Application

The Colorado Department of Transportation (CDOT) has constructed a new interchange to replace the existing intersection of US 24/SH 21 (Powers Boulevard) and Airport Road. The new interchange is realigning Airport Road to connect directly with Stewart

Avenue that serves the west entrance to Peterson Space Force Base. As a result of the realignment, the existing segment of Airport Road east of US 24/SH 21 will be disconnected and intersect at a right-angle with the realigned Airport Road/Stewart Avenue roadway. CDOT discussed this change with agency reviewers to ensure the proposed name, "Headwind Way," was acceptable and reserved for the former the roadway east of US 24/SH 21.

Application Review Criteria

City Code Section 7.5.531

Pursuant to City Code Section 7.5.531, Planning Commission is tasked with reviewing Street Name Change applications according to street naming standards set forth in City Code Section 7.4.304.H. Planning Commission may, upon review, determine whether the application meets the above referenced requirements and approve or deny the application.

The street naming regulations, both public and private rights-of-way, require the review and acceptance of the proposed name by the Planning Department, Traffic Engineering, Colorado Springs Police Department Enhanced 911 Database Coordinator, Fire Code Official, and Building Official. City Planning staff note that none of the solicited agencies had any concerns or objections to the proposed name change. From a naming convention or structure, City Planning staff confirmed that the proposed street name, "Headwind Way", followed the common spell, length and designation conventions of City Code. Continuity of naming was not an issue given that the new interchange design resulted in a new right-angle alignment to the roadway; hence, the new intersection created a logical opportunity to change the roadway name and not continue Airport Road.

Pursuant to City Code, CDOT is aware of the procedural requirement to temporarily post the new street name prior to implementation and is actively working with agency partners to ensure all requirements associated with this name change.

After evaluation of the Street Name Change application for Airport Road and HWY24-21, the application meets the review regulations.
