I am deeply committed to community in Colorado Springs and want to make our region a place where my children have the option of living, working, and flourishing in the future. I believe in Communication, Education, and Connection as basic principles to build effective relationships. My motivation in joining the Initiative Review Committee is to leverage each of these pillars, coupled with my history of civic action and engagement, to ensure that the citizens of Colorado Springs receive the most clearly articulated, thoughtful, and comprehensive proposals to guide the future of our city. I have experience in public policy through a career in the military, a master's degree in international public policy, and life experience. I intend to maximize my training through programs such as the Colorado Springs Leadership Institute (Class of 2021) and the Mayor's Civic Leaders Fellowship (Class of 2023) to provide the best information to voters.
